PANIC REIGNS IN THE WHEAT MARKET.

Six More Points Lost Today in San Francisco, Making a Total of Twenty-Three Since Monday.

CHICAGO TRADERS CRAZED WITH EXCITEMENT.

Wild Efforts to Sell and the Bottom Falls Completely Out of the Market.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Following the drop in price in Chicago wheat, the local market took a sudden drop again today, declining six points during the morning sessions of the Produce Exchange.

This is a fall of thirteen points since yesterday morning and a fall of twenty-three points since Monday.

The excitement continued at the Call Board room this morning, and prices were hammered down a point at a time.

Eleven thousand tons of wheat changed hands up to noon.

December wheat closed yesterday at $1.39½ per cental, opened today at $1.39, sold as low as $1.33, closing at noon at $1.33½.

May closed yesterday at $1.43½, opened today at $1.43, high at $1.43½, closed at noon at $1.37.

Since the close of the noon session at San Francisco, a curb quotation at Chicago was received, giving a rise of ⅝ per cent.

The bulls are confident that the market will be firmer.

CHICAGO'S PANIC.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Wheat took another downward plunge this morning.

Opening trades for December options were made from 73⅞@74¼c, the highest figure paid being exactly a cent under yesterday's closing.

It sold immediately down to 73½c, rallied slowly to 73½, then started on a rapid and nervous decline to 72½.

Various influences contributed to the weakness, the chief being the tightness of the money market.

Almost five cents a bushel was clipped off the price of wheat today.

December wheat closed yesterday at 75¼c, finished today at 70½.

It is not often a price has such a sensationally sudden collapse.

Stop loss orders were in the hands of every commission man who had customers long on wheat and when the decline came early today it caught most of these.

It was practically impossible to execute the stop loss orders, at any given figure and the result was an almost unanimous rush to sell.

Close, wheat, October, 67½; December, 70½. Corn, October, 22@22⅛; December, 23¾. Oats, October, 17⅛; December, 15⅞.

The closing 15 minutes on change were marked by scenes of almost unparalleled excitement.

In that brief period the price of December option which had been tumbling around 73¼Z73⅜c in an uncertain fashion for som time, fell to 70¾c, the lowest point of the day.

The latest decline occurred within five minutes.

Liquidations had been going on a large scale all day.

The fact that Armour was offering large lots of cash wheat was costrued as meaning there was no immediate prospect of improvement in the money market.

About 1 o'clock Cudahy's wheat began to go over. It was the last straw.

In a minute the wheat pit, which had been lively enough before, was in a perfect pandemonium.

Wheat was thrown on the marke in a perfect deluge.

From 73c to 72c, which drop occurred in almost less time than it takes to chronicle it, it was impossible to sell a bushel.

Down the price went until 71¼c had been reached.

Then the market quieted for an instant.

But it was the calm before the storm.

Away it went again and in the closing minutes the market was in a perfect panic.

Noone wanted to by, everyone wanted to sell and a minute before closing December was offered at 70¼c.

As the closing bell rang out, 7½c was being quoted.

EXCITEMENT IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—On the Produce Exchange this afternoon, a sensational drop of prices startled the whole trade and completely demoralized the wheat pit.

Prices slid down the scale a quarter to a half at a time, wheat selling off nearly 4 cents in half an hour.

The close was very nervous at 77⅛ for December.

DULL IN LONDON.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—At the Baltic today cargo wheat market was dull at opening, with sellers generally offering at a shilling less than yesterday and no bids.

It was reported the Berlin wheat market opened with free offerings at three marks down and the market was steady at a decline.

LIVERPOOL REPORT.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 22.—Wheat today opened with fair business at 1½d decline.

After recovering ½@¾d it returned to opening prices, finally closed excitedly with a decline of 3@3½d in sympathy with the American market.

IN PARIS.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Flour and wheat opened here today with free offering at 50 centimes per hundred kilos under yesterday's prices, but recovered 25 centimes toward the close of the market.

MURDERED BY SAVAGES.

Details of the Massacres at the Soloman Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Details of the Salmon Island massacre were brought here today by the steamer Oceanic from Australia.

The victims of the savages were members of a party of Austrians taken to the islands by the Austrian man-of-war Albatross.

The party was under the leadership of Henry Baron Foulon Von Norbeck, the Austrian scientist.

Baron Von Norbeck and three others were killed.

Another of the party was fatally wounded and six were dangerously wounded.

The Fight Ended by Their Fainting Through Loss of Blood.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Kato Nishamto and Harry Nismato, Japanese, and cousins, fought a bloody duel today at their boarding house.

Harry got off better, but his body is covered with wounds and gashes.

The row began over payment of a debt and Harry used a big butcher knife, while Koto wielded a Japanese naval sword.

Both fainted from loss of blood but they may recover.

SAVING A STEAMER.

The Umatilla to Be Docked and Put in Commission Again.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 22.—The steamer Umatilla, which recently went ashore at Point Wilson, finished discharging its cargo this morning and left for Quartermaster Harbor in tow of two tugs, where she will be docked and repaired.

Eight pumps are continually discharging water to prevent the vessel from sinking.

The damage to the vessel and cargo is estimated at $116,000.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

A Brilliant Scene at the Pageant at Santa Cruz.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 22.—The parade of Odd Fellows this morning was the largest ever witnessed here.

Hundreds of spectators lined the sidewalks as the procession moved along Pacific avenue.

Grand Marshal Frank Mattison had for aids Lieut. A. A. Morey and M. C. Hopkins.

In the procession were General J. F. Crosett and Col. W. H. Sherburne with their staffs mounted.

The Patriarchs Militant with flashing swords and waving plumes were represented by Cantons from San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland and Stockton.

Besides the Grand Encampment their subordinate encampments from Santa Cruz and Watsonville, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from all parts of the county were in line, also the young ladies drill corps.

THE LAWS OF CURRENCY.

A Stirring Address to the Students of Princeton University.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22.—Fair weather today made the exercises of the Zusqui Centennial Anniversary Day doubly enjoyable.

The presence of the President of the United States had the effect of increasing the already large crowd in town.

Alexander Hall in which the ceremonies were held, was packed almost to suffocation, when Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler of Brooklyn began the exercises with a simple, heartfelt prayer for the continuation to Princeton University of the prosperity it enjoyed under the title of the College of New Jersey.

Before the beginning of the celebration, the Philadelphia City troop assembled at the home of President Patton, where President Cleveland had been the guest over night and escorted the head of the nation on foot through the University grounds to Alexander Hall.

Mrs. Cleveland was driven in an open carriage, under the escort of Mrs. Patton, to the hall.

Delegates representing institutions of learning all over the world and the faculty assembled at Marquand Chapel and clad in their academic gowns, made their impressive march to Alexander Hall, preceding President Cleveland.

After Dr. Cuyler's prayer Dr. Patton made the formal announcement that what was formerly the College of New Jersey will henceforth and forever be known as Princeton University.

A scene of wonderful enthusiasm followed.

Dr. Patton then announced the endowment fund received, amounting to nearly a million and a half dollars, not including amounts contributed for Blair Hall by John I. Blair and the new library.

The ceremony of conferring degrees on sixty-five men elected for that honor was next on the programme.

President Patton desired to confer the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Mr. Cleveland, but the President modestly declined the honor.

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon a large number of European college professors and scholars, including Karl Brugmann of the University of Leipsic; Edward Dowden, Trinity College, Dublin; Andrew Seth University of Edinburgh; Goldwin Smith of Toronto and Joseph J. Thompson, University of Cambridge.

Among Americans similarly honored are: Joseph B. Angell, University, Michigan; William Gardner Hale, University of Chicago; William T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education; Joseph L. Cole, University of California; Seth Lowe, Columbia University, New York City.

The Degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred, among others, upon Rev. Morgan Dix, New York; Bishop John F. Hurst, Washington, D. C., Rev. S. J. Niccolls, St. Louis; Rev. Professor M. B. Riddle, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Upon the following, among others, the Degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred: Richard Watson Gilder, Augustus St. Gaudens, Horace E. Schurder, Charles Dudley Warner.

The honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws was also conferred in Absentia upon Lord Kelvin, the Scottish naturalist and Otto Struve, formerly Director of the Observatory of Pulkowa, Russia.

Next came the principal event of the day,—the address by the President of the United States.

Kidnapping Arranged for the Viceroy of Canton.

THE SUSPECTS IMPRISONED.

One of Them Believed to Be at the London Legation.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Globe publishes a startling story of the alleged kidnapping and imprisonment of a Chinaman at the Chinese Legation here.

The newspapers says he Chinese Government learned in November last there existed a conspiracy to seize the Viceroy of Canton as the first step towrads the overthrow of the present Manchu Dynasty.

The plot was disclosed by the premature importation of 400 coolies to Canton from Hong Kong to assist in the capture of the Viceroy, which aroused suspicion.

Some leaders were arrested and confessed.

One, a doctor named Sun Yatsen, escaped to America and thence made his way to London.

This doctor, it is alleged, has been missing since Saturday a week ago.

Some of his English friends claim they learned he was imprisoned at the Chinese Legation having been seized by a couple of Chinese at the Foreign Office.

The Scotland Yards authorities have been notified and detectives are watching the Chinese Legation to prevent the removal of the Doctor.

Friends have applied for a writ of habeas corpus but it is doubted whether the writ is applicable at the Legation.

The Chinese officials deny the Doctor is detained at the Legation, but friends of the alleged conspirator profess to have conclusive evidence he is there.

The Slaughter of Armenians Being Renewed in Turkey.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—News received here from Eastern Anatolia says that widespread fear exists of a renewal of massacres.

In the middle of September Kurds from the Kharput district overran the Vilayet Sivas, destroyed and looted six Armenian villages, killing a number of the inhabitants.

The village of Pinguian had 200 houses burned and sixty inhabitants massacred.

It is further stated that a woman committed suicide by jumping into the Euphrates to escape the brutality of the Kurds.

CASTLE SENDS WORD TO HIS FRIENDS

He Repeats His Protests of Innocence and Sa... He Will Come Out of the Fire Unscathed.

HIS WIFE STILL IN A DISTRESSFUL CONDITI...

Baroness Hirsch Has Given Him $5000 for a San Francisco Hospital.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The officials of the United States Embassy have received a letter from Mr. Walter Castle of San Francisco, who with his wife is under $250,000 bail pendening approaching trial, at Clerkenwell Sessions on a charge of stealing furs and other articles from various stores in this city.

In the communication Mr. Castle expresses deep gratitude for all they and the other officials sa well as friends of the family in America, have done in his behalf.

Castle says: "Never during my long business career, has there been the slightest suspicion or hint against my honor. In my present misfortune I am equally blameless, and by God's help I will remain so in the future."

Continuing, Castle writes: "The most difficult task of my life is to frame words which can in the smallest degree express my feeling of heartfelt gratitude for the kindness showed upon me by the honorable gentlemen of the Embassy and by my seemingly unlimited number of friends in London and America.

"I owe them a debt of gratitude which cannot be liquidated in a life time and the more I think of the loving care with which I have been watched and protected during my days of misfortune, the less can I comprehend hom it is possible that a man, comparatively unkown and thousands of miles away from home, can awaken such sympathy and secure the disinterested support of such a large number of prominent people of both great nations."

Later in the day Castle called at the London office of the Associated Press and said he hoped the Associated Press would again convey expressions of his gratitude to his friends in the United States.

Mr. Castle, who was looking as though he had regained health and confidence since his appearance in court Tuesday, told in a straightforward manner the circumstances of the case as already cabled.

He added: "I was leaving England in the best of spirits, had enjoyed my vacation and had at the same time opened important business connections here and on the Continent, which in my opinion would please my brother and help my firm.

I was also taking home to my mother good news in regard to a project which is dear to her heart, namely the Jewish Hospital in San Francisco. I had approached Baroness Hirsch on the subject, and had just received a letter dated Eichborn, Austria, in which the Baroness subscribed $5,000 to Mount Zion Hospital, San Francisco."

Referring to the health of Mrs. Castle, Mr. Castle said: "My wife is in the same condition. There is some one constantly with her, and there can be no doubt as to her unfortunate condition. I think it unnecessary for any doctors or witnesses to come from America."

Sir Edward Clarke, Q. C., formerly Solicitor General, has been retained for the defense of the Castles.

BETRAYED A TRUST.

H. N. Whipple Levants With $355 Odd Fellows Money.

HE WAS THE TREASURER

A Bad Business Investment on San Leandro Road.

HIS DEPARTURE A SURPRISE.

A Warrant for Embezzlement Issued In the Case.

H. W. Whipple, the treasurer of the Elmhurst Lodge of Odd Fellows, has lavanted and with his has gone $355 in coin which belonged to the order. A complaint charging him with felony embezzlement has been sworn to and if he is caught every effort will be made to send him to the penitentiary.

The warrant is in the hands of Constable Weldon of East Oakland, who thinks he has a clue to the whereabouts of the missing man. From information received it is believed that he is in Fresno and a messenger has been sent to the officers there to arrest him.

Whipple formerly owned a saloon in Elmhurst, which from its former proprietor is known as "Billy Perus." It was bought by the lavanting treasurer about six weeks ago and the gorgeousness of the opening is still the talk of the San Leandro road. His proprietorship was of short duration, for on the first of this month he sold his interest to his partner and on the 8th harnessed up his horse and drove away.

He took with him a young lad who went about 200 miles, but when Whipple said he intended driving across the desert the boy's courage failed and he returned home.

It was some time before the Elmhurst Odd Fellows could fully realize that they had been robbed for Whipple was well liked in the town and very popular. He spent money with a lavish hand and was good to rich and poor alike. When, however, his order did conceive that it had been his dupe it lost no time in getting the machinery of the law to work. Warder K. Damon swore to the complaint before Justice Lawrence of Brooklyn Township.

Whipple is a single man and about 40 years of age.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Editor Marshall of the Alameda "Telegram" in Trouble.

CARPENTER IS AFTER HIM.

The Veterinarian Wants the Articles About Him Investigated.

EXTRACTS COMPLAINED OF

The Doctor's Professional Work Is Given Caustic Criticism.

Dr. Thomas L. Carpenter, the veterinarian of Alameda, has filed a complaint charging L. J. Marshall of Alameda with criminal libel. The document was prepared by District Attorney Snook and a warrant will be served early this afternoon.

The cause of the complaint is an article in the Telegram of Alameda of October 15th which is edited by Marshall and which reads as follows:

"I was informed yesterday that two gentlemen residing in this city had written to Ontario Veterinarian College which institution the "Hoss Dr." Carpenter claims a his place of graduation making inquiries as to how long the Dr. attended that school which is supposed to impart knowledge of the hoss and bovines. This is a course that I would not have adopted. If they do not think his record straight, take his actions here. The charge has been made openly that this fellow who draws a salary of $75 per month from the city and is also an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was paid to do some investigating in a divorce suit in which a trumped up charge was made against a lady in the case in order to humiliate her by association her name with one not of her social standing or learning. Charles Foster refused to do such work as this. The situation of the Veterinary inspector is evidently not very arduous or the hoss Dr. would not have time to attend to so many irons at the same time. I predict some of them will get burned before he is much older."

This article bears the following heading:

"Persons Interested in the Doctor."

On the 18th of this month, the following article also appeared in the Telegram, and it, too, is complained of as being libelous:

"A friend of mine met H. P. Marcal the other day making a display of an abnormally swelled eye. 'Kicked by a cow?' quietly my friend, nodding in the direction of his injured optic, remembering at the same time an item that appeared in these columns say no, that a cow who had any respect for herself would not kick the 'hoss' doctor Carpenter. 'No,' replied Mr. Marcal laughingly, 'that cow did not kick me. I was running for a few days, and a twig of manzanita bush struck me in the eye.' But coming back to the 'Dr.' My friend Louis Schaffer ex-Chief of Police of Oakland, who it is said knows more of man than any other man in the county informs me that the 'hoss' doctor was virtually run out of Oakland and he was quite unmanned in Alameda if his given time. By the way, one thing struck me very forcibly, and that was Mr. Schaffer did not mince his words about. He says if the hoss doctor gives him half a show, he will tell him more to his 'teeth.' I know Mr. Schaffer pretty well and will bank on him doing just as he says he will do. Detective John Perran also tells some good stories on the 'hoss doctor' that are almost too good to keep. They may find their way in print before the Dr. is much older."

its enhanced opportunities for doing good.

"The graduate of Princeton sees the first evidence of greater glory and prestige that have come to his alma mater and the added honor thence reflected upon him, while those still within her student halls see most prominently the promise of increased dignity which awaits their graduation from Princeton University.

"But there are others here, not of the family of Princeton, who see with an interest not to be outdone the signs of her triumphs in fields of higher education and the part she has taken during her long and glorious career in the elevation and betterment of a great people.

"Among those I take an humble place, and as I yield to the influences of this occasion I cannot resist the train of thought which especially reminds me of the promise of national safety and guaranty of prominence of our free institutions which may and ought to radiate from the universities and colleges scattered throughout our land.

"Obviously a Government resting upon the will and universal suffrage of the people has no anchorage except in the people's intelligence.

"While the advantages of collegiate education are by no means necessary to good citizenship, yet a college graduate, found everywhere, cannot smother his opportunities to teach his fellow countrymen and influence them for good, nor hide his talents in a napkin without recreancy to his trust.

"In a nation like ours, charged with the care of numerous and widely varied interests, a spirit of conservatism and toleration is absolutely essential to collegiate training.

"The study of principles, unvexed by distracting and misleading influences, and the correct apprehension of the theories upon which our Republic is established ought to constitute the college graduate a constant monitor, warning against popular rashness and excess.

"The character of our institutions and our National self-interest require a feeling of sincere brotherhood and a disposition to unite in mutual endeavor should pervade our people.

"Our scheme of government in its beginning, was based upon this sentiment and its interruption has never failed and can never fail to grievously menace our National health.

"Who can better caution against passion and bitterness than those who know by thought and study their baneful consequences, and who are themselves within the noble brotherhood of a higher education.

"There are natural laws and economic truths which command implicit obedience and which should unalterably fix the bounds of wholesome popular discussion, and the limits of political strife.

"The knowledge gained in our universities and colleges would be sadly deficient if its beneficiaries were unable to recognize and point out to their fellow citizens these truths and natural laws and to teach the mischievous futility of their non-observance or attempted violation.

"The activity of our people and their restless desire to gather to themselves especial benefits and advantages lead to a growth of unconfessed tendency to regard their Government as a giver of private gifts and to look upon the agencies for its administration as distributors of official places and preferment.

"Those who in the university or college, have had an opportunity to study the mission of our institutions and who in the light of history have learned the danger to the people of their neglect, the patriotic care they owe the national life entrusted to their keeping should be well fitted to constantly admonish their fellow citizens that the usefulness and beneficence of their plan of government can only be preserved through their unselfish and loving support, and their contented willingness to accept in full return the peace, protection and opportunity which it impartially bestows.

"Not more surely do the rules of honesty and good faith fix the standard of individual character in a community than do these same rules determine the character and standing of the nation in the world of civilization.

"Neither the glitter of its power, nor the tinsel of its commercial prosperity nor the gaudy show of its people's wealth can conceal the cankering rust of national dishonesty and the lover of meanness in national bad faith.

"A constant stream of thoughtful, educated men should come from our universities and colleges preaching national honor and integrity and teaching belief in the necessity of political parties, nor do I deny their desirability.

"I recognize wholesome differences of opinion, touching legitimate governmental policies and would by no means control or limit the utmost freedom in their discussion.

"I have only attempted to suggest important patriotic services which our institutions of higher education and their graduates are fitted to render our people, the enforcement of those immutable truths and fundamental principles which are related to our national condition, but should never be dragged into the field of political strife nor impressed into the service of partisan contention.

"When the excitement of party warfare presses dangerously near our national safeguards, I would have the intelligent conservatism of our universities and colleges warn the contestants in impressive tones against the perils of a breach impossible to repair."

"When popular discontent and passion are stimulated by designing partisans to pitch perilously near class hatred or sectional anger, I would have our universities and colleges sound the alarm in the name of American brotherhood and fraternal dependence.

"When an attempt is made to delude the people into the belief that their suffrages can change the operation of natural laws, I would have our universities and colleges proclaim that those laws are inexorable and far removed from political control.

"When a selfish interest seeks undue private benefit through Governmental aid and public places are claimed as a reward of party service, I would have our Universities and colleges persuade the people to a relinquishment of the demand for party spoils and exhort them to a disinterested and patriotic love of their Government for its own sake and because in its true adjustment and unperverted operation it secures to every citizen his just share of the safety and prosperity it holds in store for all.

"When the design is to allure people from honest thoughts and blind their eyes to the sad plight of National dishonor and bid plight, I would have Princeton University panoplied in her patriotic traditions and glorious memories, and joined by all the other Universities and colleges of our land cry out against the infliction of this treacherous and fatal wound.

"I would have the influence of these institutions on the side of religion and morality.

"I would have those they send out among the people not ashamed to acknowledge God and proclaim His interposition in the affairs of men, enjoining such obedience to His law as makes manifest the path of National perpetuity and prosperity.

"I hasten to concede the good already accomplished by our educated men in purifying and steadying the political sentiment, but I hope I may be allowed to intimate my belief that their work in these directions would be easier and more useful if it was less spasmodic and occasional.

"The disposition of our people is such that, while they may be inclined to distrust those who only on rare occasions come among them from an exclusiveness savoring of assumed superiority, they readily listen to those who exhibit real fellowship and a friendly and habitual interest in all that concerns the common welfare.

"Such a condition of intimacy would, I believe, not only improve the general political atmosphere, but would vastly increase the influence of our Universities and colleges in their efforts to prevent popular delusion or correct them before they reach an acute and dangerous point.

"I am certain therefore, that a more constant and active participation in political affairs on the part of our men of education would be of the greatest possible value to our own country.

"It is exceedingly unfortunate that politics should be regarded in any quarter as an unclean thing, to be avoided by those claiming to be educated or respectable.

"It would be strange, indeed, if anything relating to the administration of our Government, or the welfare of our Nation, should be essentially degrading.

"I believe it is not a superstitious sentiment that leads to the conviction that God has watched over our National life from its beginning.

"Who will say the things worthy of God's regard and fostering care are unworthy of the touch of the wisest and best of men?"

"I would have those sent out by our Universities and colleges not only counsellors of their fellow countrymen, but tribunes of the people—fully appreciating every condition that presses upon their daily life, sympathetic in every untoward situation, quick and earnest in every effort to advance their happiness and welfare and prompt and sturdy in the defense of all their rights.

"I have but imperfectly expressed the thoughts to which I have not been able to deny utterance on an occasion so full of glad significance and so pervaded by the atmosphere of patriotic aspiration.

"Born of these surroundings the hope cannot be vain that the time is at hand when all our countrymen will more deeply appreciate the blessings of American citizenship, when their disinterested love of their Government will be quickened, when fanaticism and passion shall be banished from the field of politics and when all our people, discarding every difference of condition or opportunity, will be seen under the banner of American brotherhood, marching steadily and unfalteringly on towards the brightest heights of our natural destiny."

At the conclusion of the President's address, the entire assemblage arose and sang "America."

Benediction by the Right Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, Bishop of Washington, D. C., concluded the centennial exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were entertained at lunch at 1 o'clock by President and Mrs. Patton, invitations being issued to the visiting delegates.

Later in the afternoon a reception was given by President and Mrs. Patton to the President and his wife.

Over a thousand invited guests paid their respects to the Chief Executive and Mrs. Cleveland.

This function lasted until 5 P. M., and immediately afterward the President and Mrs. Cleveland were escorted to their special train and the homeward journey to Washington was begun at 5:15 P. M.

MRS. HARTMANN DEAD.

The Wife of the Proprietor of the Crellin Passes to Rest.

Mrs. M. N. Hartmann, the wife of the proprietor of Hotel Crellin, died this morning at 5:15 o'clock. Her death was due to heart disease. She was taken suddenly ill Sunday evening and her symptoms were alarming from the first. Wednesday all hope for her recovery was deemed useless and her children, who lived in distant towns, were hastily summoned.

Death came quietly in the early morning hours.

Mrs. Hartmann was 66 years of age and was born in Hungary. Her husband came to the coast in the early fifties and she soon joined him. He has always been in the hotel business and with his wife's assistance has managed some of the largest hostelries on the coast. He has been connected with the old and new Oriental of Walla Walla, Washington, the big hotel at Salt Lake, Utah, the Lick House of San Francisco, the old Grand Central and Weber House of this city. Both of the latter were burned down while he was proprietor. He opened the Hartmann House on Ninth street, now known as the Henry House, and after a retirement from active business for a number of years, he took charge of the Crellin Hotel two years ago.

In all of his enterprises Mr. Hartmann has been ably assisted by his wife, whose careful oversight of the hotel and business ability made her a capable manager. She was a woman of generous instincts and had many warm personal friends. She leaves six children, all daughters, four of whom are married, Mrs. Jonas, wife of the clothier on Broadway, Mrs. Josie Neuman of this city, Mrs. Rosie Rosenberg of Nevada City, Mrs. Lulu Goodman of Fresno and Misses Annie and Stella Hartmann, who resided with their parents at the Crellin. All of the children were with their mother when she died.

The funeral will take place from Mrs. Jonas' house, Tenth and Harrison, at 2 P. M. tomorrow.

A BLOODY SET-TO.

Turkish Troops and Albanians Fight at the Sultan's Palace.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The Temps this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Constantinople saying a conflict occurred at the Yildiz Kiosk (Sultan's Palace) between the Turkish and Albanian Guards.

Several men on both sides were killed.

SUED THE COMMITTEE.

The Old Republican County Organization in Court.

N. B. VAIL THE PLAINTIFF.

He Wants Judgment for the Services He Rendered.

ALL ARE CO-DEFENDANTS.

The Matter Will Be Pushed to a Final Outcome.

The threats of law suits which have been hanging over the heads of the old Republican County Central Committee for some time past culminated today in definite action, when Attorneys Hugh S. Aldrich and F. W. Sawyer filed a complaint in Judge Allen's court for N. B. Vail, the leader of the Infantry Band. The claim is based on services performed by the band at the dictation of the old committee and an assignment to Vail of a $76 claim by William August, making the total amount $192.

The individual members of the old committee are made defendants. They are Phil M. Walsh, A. L. McPherson, F. B. Armstrong, Charles Mautalen, J. H. W. Riley, W. H. Ford, John Striker, John Mitchell, J. G. McCall, F. J. Fletter, J. W. Evans, B. C. Hawes and V. C. Bernal.

The document in part reads as follows:

"That at all the time herein mentioned the defendants above named were members of and constituted a certain association or body known as the Republican County Central Committee of Alameda County.

"That within two years last past at the city of Oakland, in said county of Alameda, at the special instance and request of said defendants, the plaintiff performed services to and for said defendants, for which services defendants did then and there agree to pay said plaintiff the sum of $117.

"That said defendants have not paid the same, nor any part thereof."

William August's assigned claim is for services performed at Elmhurst under the dictation of the committee.

Vail asks for a judgment for the full sum and costs.

All the members of the committee have been served with summons though the regulation five days is allowed in which to file an answer.

Vail is very determined and declares that he will press the matter to the end, though the County Committeemen are inclined to treat the action jestingly.

Their claim is that the campaign committee is the one to sue.

One member speaking of the matter said: "He had already drawn a warrant for Vail, but now it is doubtful if we will pay him at all. He has tackled the wrong people when he tries to sue us, for we are not responsible."

CAN STAY IN AMERICA.

New Jersey Will Care for the Armenian Exiles.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The 134 Armenian refugees who have been held at Ellis Island for several days will after all be allowed to find homes in this country.

The New Jersey men who protested against the colonizing of the Aremnians by the Salvation Army in Ramsay, N. J., have appeared before Immigration Commissioner Senner to ask for the release of the Armenians.

The New Jersey delegation offered to support the Salvationist in securing bonds for the refugees so they should not become public charges.

E. T. SWENARTON DEAD.

A Former Well Known Oakland Man Passes Away in New York.

News was received in this today of the death on Thursday, October 15th, in New York City of Edward T. Swenarton, formerly a resident of Oakland.

Mr. Swenarton was well known in social and business circles here, being connected with Geo. B. M. Gray in the real estate business.

He left Oakland several years ago and was with his parents in New York when he died. Deceased was 28 years of age. The cause of death was consumption.

MILLER FOUND GUILTY.

Another Chapter in the Pottery Row in East Oakland.

James Miller, the Twenty-third avenue potteryman was found guilty this morning of exhibiting a deadly weapon and threatening L. G. MacMillan bookkeeper for a rival firm. The passing of sentence was continued until Saturday.

Ben Ferris the real estate man was summoned as juryman but failed to appear. This afternoon he was brought into court and reprimanded for his delerection.

NOT IDENTIFIED.

The Unknown Suicide Viewed by Many in Vain.

The body of the unknown man who took poison and was found yesterday noon in a Seventh street lodging house has not yet been identified although several have viewed the remains.

Goettinger and Greenhood.

In the suit of George Goettinger against Jacob and Aline Greenhood, the defendants, have filed an answer denying that Greenhood conveyed property to his wife for the purpose of defrauding his creditors, and alleging that the property in question is worth $40,300 and has incumbrances on it to the extent of $15,500 only. This property is situated on William street, Frederick street and at the corner of San Pablo avenue and Alden street. Affidavits regarding the value of the property in question have been sworn to by J. S. Meyers, William J. Dingee, P. A. Cameron, O. I. Denison, Jacob Greenhood, J. Tyrrell and C. K. Marshall.

A BAREFOOTED BURGLAR.

He Makes a Call at the Residence of C. B. Morgan.

A Noise Scared Him Away Before He Had Time to Steal.

A burglar took off his shoes and stockings, walked from the back parlor to the kitchen door in the residence of Capitalist and ex-School Director C. B. Morgan, and left, sometime during the night, without taking or disturbing any of the family's valuables.

The case was reported to the police this morning, and Detective Shorey, who investigated, could not find so much as a silver spoon missing. He therefore theorizes that the intruder was frightened away before fully commencing operations. None of the family were cognizant of the visitor's presence, so the noise which caused the fright was, if made by them, made unconsciously.

The Morgan residence is at Fourteenth and Brush streets, and the rear parlor window, which was left unlocked, was the one through which the burglar made his entrance. His footprints on the soft ground underneath it shows that he wore neither shoes nor stockings. The cook found the kitchen door unlocked this morning, and it is surmised that through this he made his exit.

TRIPPED UP FOR BIGAMY

A Gold Mine Confidence Man Runs Across a Snag.

His Many Wives Have Been Located by the Dakota Police.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—Allen J. Wines, the gold mine schemer, will be taken to Fargo, N. D., today where he is wanted for getting $1,2000 from a Swede under alleged false pretenses. He has a matrimonial record, according to the statements of H. J. Hansen, the deputy sheriff who came to take him back. Wines is said to have a wife in Fargo and another in Wilkesbarre, Pa., besides the woman he married in Cairo, Ill., last summer.

In Fargo Wines was known as Joseph Miller and it was under this name that he is alleged to have married Ella Nansen, a Fargo girl, and the daughter of a druggist of that place.

Mary James was the name of his Wilkesbarre wife and Miss Elizabeth Peters of Cairo, Ill., was wife number three.

CONATY IS FIRST CHOICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Prelates, members of the Board of Directors of the Catholic University, were called together this morning for a supplemental session and changed the time of the annual meeting to the second Wednesday in October instead of after Easter.

Archbishop Corrigan of New York has been delegated to write a letter to the Pope presenting the list of three names recommended for the rectorship.

Cardinal Gibbons asked the Archbishops to take such steps through the press and otherwise as lay in their power to overcome the public impression that the present meeting of the board and the events leading up to it had been of a sensational, scandalous character.

The impression prevails in church circles and is shared by some members of the board, that while Father Conaty heads the list, Vicar General Mooney will receive very favorable consideration by the Pope and possibly may be successful, though Father Conaty's chances are somewhat better.

The designation of Archbishop Corrigan to write the letter to the Pope was responsible in part, for the sentiment this morning favorable to Vicar General Mooney.

After the meeting of the Directors the Archbishops assembled for their annual meeting.

The sessions are private.

The principal subject of consideration, it is thought will be the Indian School question as effected by the recent decision of Congress to do away with national aid to sectarian educational institutions.

TEMPORARILY INSANE.

The Coroner Investigates the Death of Bertha Wahmuth.

The Coroner summoned a jury and held the inquest this morning on the body of unhappy Bertha Wahmuth, the four months' bride of William Wahmuth, who locked herself in a closet and turned on the gas.

The testimony showed that the girl suffered from melancholia and from the evidence introduced, the jury could only find that she took her life while temporarily insane.

The girl was but 23 years of age and very popular in the German society in the Encinal city.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow from her husband's residence 1218 Broadway. The interment will be in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery in San Francisco.

Will Make Storage-Room.

Material is now arriving with which to place a cement floor in the basement of the annex to the hall of records. This work was not done when the building was erected because of scarcity of money. This floor will enable the basement to be used for storage of various articles which are now scattered around in the upper stories of the building.

McKINLEY AND BRYAN.

There is much dispute over which will be our next President, but Democops and Republicans alike all concede that R. C. Lyon, the furniture dealer at 1252-57 Broadway, sells his goods, stores your furniture or moves your piano, etc., at hard times prices. Gold or silver accepted in payment at ratio of 16 to 1.

BURGLARS AT A BANK.

They Make a Rich Haul From a Missouri Institution.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 22.—Robbers entered the bank at Cassville, Mo., last night and blew open the safe, securing its contents.

The amount was large, but the bank officials refuse to say how much.

The robbery was the work of professionals.

FINZER'S FORTUNE.

The late Nicholas Finzer, a wealthy tobacco manufacturer of Middletown Ky., on June 30 1884, obtained a policy in The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York for $100,000 on the five per cent debenture 10-premium plan, the annual premium being $8 133

The death of Mr Finzer makes this policy a death claim with the following results

At the end of each year the Company will pay $5 000 to the wife of the insured, continuing such payments for twenty years then if she is still alive the Company will pay the face of the policy—$100,000 In case of her death before the end of the twenty year the Company will continue to pay to her representative until the end of the twentieth year when the full amount of the policy will be paid, thus making a total payment by the Company to the heirs of the insured of $200 000.

The total amount of premiums paid by the insured was $24 399, thus giving a net profit at the end of twenty years of $175,601 over cost

In other words, by the payment of $24,399 in three years, Mr Finzer has secured for his family and heirs a stated income of $5,000 a year for the next twenty years, or a five per cent investment on the principal of $100 000, which remains intact until 1916, no subject to loss by bad reinvestment or depreciation by the possible mismanagement of the executors, administrators or attorneys of his estate

The widow and children are provided with an ample and certain income for twenty years when the original $100,000 insurance is paid over to whoever is legally entitled to the same.

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Notice is hereby given that a general election will be held throughout the State of California on TUESDAY, THE THIRD DAY OF NOVEMBER, A D 1896, when the following officers will be elected, namely

NINE ELECTORS OF PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Also, SEVEN REPRESENTATIVES TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, being one Representative from each Congressional District

Also, ONE STATE SENATOR FROM EACH OF THE FOLLOWING SENATORIAL DISTRICTS First, Third Fifth, Seventh Ninth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth Twenty-first, Twenty-third, Twenty-fifth Twenty-seventh, Twenty-ninth Thirty-first, Thirty-third, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-seventh and Thirty-ninth.

Also, ONE MEMBER OF THE ASSEMBLY FROM EACH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT IN THIS STATE

Also, FOUR JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO

Also, FOUR JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR LOS ANGELES COUNTY

Also, THREE JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SACRAMENTO

Also, TWO JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES Alameda, Humboldt San Diego, San Joaquin, Santa Clara and Sonoma

Also ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras Contra Costa, Colusa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Inyo Kern, Lake, Lassen, Mariposa, Marin, Merced, Mendocino, Monterey, Modoc Mono, Napa, Nevada, Orange Placer, Plumas, San Bernardino, San Benito San Luis Obispo, San Mateo Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sierra Siskiyou, Solano, Stanislaus Yuba and Sutter Tehama, Trinity, Tuolumne, Ventura and Yolo

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF FRESNO, for the unexpired term of S A Holmes, deceased ending January, 1897; vice Stanton L Carter, appointed

Also, at said election, AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE, submitted by the Legislature at its last regular session, numbered and designated as hereinafter specified will be voted upon by the electors of said State, namely

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 33)

ARTICLE XIII

Section 1 All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or of this Constitution shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law The word "property" as used in this article and section is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Sec 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Sec 3 Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law, provided, that secrecy in voting be preserved.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint-stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association; and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint-stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint-stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint-stock association, during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No 25)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6 Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws, but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification in proportion to population of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No 15)

ARTICLE XI

Section 8½ It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows

1 For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts and for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches

2 For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards

3. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed and for the constitution regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force

4 For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1 Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of any public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with any of its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect

Each amendment shall be voted on separately from the others by ballot, at the next general election to be held on Tuesday the third day of November, 1896

The said amendments are respectively designated

Amendment Number One
Amendment Number Two.
Amendment Number Three
Amendment Number Four
Amendment Number Five
Amendment Number Six

Each ballot used at such election must contain printed thereon the words

Amendment Number One, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 33 (exempting mortgages and trust deeds from taxation) For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.

Saturday next will be a [illegible] day in the history of [illegible] coast. It will mark the opening of the magnificent new grounds [illegible] track of the California Jockey Club [illegible] Oakland. The grounds contain [illegible] 160 acres on and around the site of the old Oakland Trotting Park, at Emeryville Station.—Alameda Telegram.

The Army and Navy League of Oakland is doing good work for Congressman Hilborn It is a strong organization of 550 members and is composed of soldiers and sailors of the civil war. All over the district the old soldiers are rallying around their comrade and will put forth their best efforts to make his majority large.—Haywards Review.

A SUPERSTITIOUS FANCY.

The Vassar Graduate Failed to Appreciate the Fine Feather Duster.

A young business man went home the other evening with a very fine feather duster for his wife, who is a practical housekeeper, albeit she is also a graduate of Vassar and well up in all the isms and ologies of the day. It must be remembered that the conversation which ensued was not held in the dark ages, but in the present enlightenment of the nineteenth century, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Here's something you'll appreciate, Maud," he said, as he began to undo the numerous wrappings. "There was only one and it came over in two ships."

"What in the world is it, you dear old thing?" cried Maud, dancing around him

"Guess, sweetheart"

"Oh, I know. It's a new umbrella for my birthday"

"Nothing of the sort. Shut your eyes. Now open them. There"

An immense duster of magnificent peacock feathers released from its sheath of wrappings was flourished before the young woman's eyes. She gave one look at it, then burst out crying.

"Maud, what is the matter?"

"Oh, Claude, how could you? Oh, oh, oh."

"Well, I like that. Upon my word I do."

"Oh, you cruel boy When you know how u-u-unlucky it is to have peacock feathers in the house, and what dreadful trouble it makes to g-g-ive any one feathers, sobbed Maud.

"Then you don't want this feather duster?"

"Not for the world."

"Maud."

"Claude."

"I have a great mind to throw it out of the window."

"I wish you would, dear. We'll never have any luck with it in the house."

And the man who, going home late that night, picked it up, has been congratulating himself ever since on his lucky find.

Little Farms in Japan.

Japan, and not France or Belgium, would appear to be the land of petite culture According to a recent American bulletin a couple of acres is considered a large tract for farming purposes. Most of the farms are smaller, and on a little plot a surprising variety of crops is cultivated—a few square feet of wheat, barley, maize and millet; a plot of beans perhaps 10 feet wide by 20 feet long, a similar area of potatoes and peas and a patch of onions "about as big as a grave," beetroot, lettuce, turnips, sweet potatoes and other crops occupy the rest of the area. The farmer examines his growing crops every morning, just as an engineer inspects his machinery, and if anything is wrong he puts it right If a weed appears in the bean patch he pulls it up, if a hill of potatoes or anything else fails it is at once replanted. When he cuts down a tree he always plants another As soon as one crop is harvested the soil is worked over, manured, and forthwith sown to another crop It is estimated that nine-tenths of the agricultural land of Japan is devoted to rice, and as this a crop requiring much water the paddy fields are banked up into terraces, one above the other, and divided off into small plots 25 feet or 30 feet square, with ridges of earth between them to prevent the water from flowing away when they are flooded All farming lands are irrigated by a system that is a thousand years old. Some of the ditches are walled up with bamboo wicker work and some with tiles and stone Nearly half the total population of Japan is engaged in agriculture. Silk and tea, the two chief exports of the country are raised almost by the work of women—From the London Times.

A Tribute.

The worried-looking business man turned in his chair and gloomily looked after the clerk as he went through the door.

"That," he said in tones of suppressed emotion, "is the most reliable man in this establishment"

"Why, he's the one that's always making trouble"

"That's it. Whenever I give him a piece of work I can rely implicitly on his doing it wrong"

Bryan's rabbit's foot is thought to have had an important influence on his fortunes so far but it distributed no restraining spell over the Yale students the other day as a trustworthy and sound amulet ought to have done They kicked and bellowed like a herd of Winnipeg buffaloes and wouldn't hear him quenching the thunders in the index by louder ones of their own There is probably something wrong about it. To be possessed of complete potency, the rabbit it belonged to should have been killed in a country graveyard at midnight, during the dark of the moon, on Friday, the 13th of the month, by a cross-eyed left-handed, red headed, bow-legged, full-blooded African of specified political principles, riding a white horse backwards These are the conditions which authorities upon the mascot pronounce to be essential, and if they were all fulfilled neither Mithridates nor Wallenstein could have possessed one which united so many gruesome credentials. It would have been a piece of substance in Hecate's cauldron, giving additional potency to the mess The [illegible] which the candidate has carried is probably not genuine Somebody has likely palmed off on him the foot of an ordinary domestic hare slain anywhere by anybody, with no ceremonies. In that case it will not help his Presidential aspirations or outlook in the least, and has no value except for its silver mounting, which he is entitled to hold at any rate he likes without waiting for National or International co-operation.—New York Tribune.

In the opinion of some who have come in contact with the Czar, it is neither knife nor bomb nor bullet that will send him to his account. He will be killed by sheer fright. "A weakling from the day of his birth," says a British writer, "he never had any nerves worth speaking of, and those he did have are now gone. The autocrat of all the Russias is as timid as a hare and more tearful than a woman."

There was a transaction a few days ago in the Superior Court of New York that had a touch of novelty about it Judge MacLean appointed three women who were members of the bar to act as receivers in certain supplementary proceedings against debt and to satisfy judgments obtained against them Mrs Werner, then Miss Titus was the first woman admitted to the bar in New York She and Miss Haggerty are two of the four lawyers who are to deliver lectures on law this winter to classes of women in the New York University. These appointments made by Judge MacLean are not important cases, still they show a beginning of confidence in the work of women engaged in the practice of law One of the appointees was interviewed and said 'I hope that hereafter some better work of this kind will be allotted to the few women who are engaged in the practice of law'

The most intelligent opinion about the political prospects of Oregon that we have seen of late was that recently given by a member of the editorial staff of the Oregonian The fact is and I am only stating what all well informed people of that section agree on, Bryan has absolutely no chance of getting Oregon's vote In Portland the betting is 2 and even 3 to 1 in favor of McKinley carrying the State and there is nobody willing to take the Bryan end of the wager Portland is as strong a gold center as any town in the country, and the Gold Democrats out there are going to vote for McKinley. In Southern Oregon there is considerable free silver sentiment, but east of the mountains, where the sheep industry has been ruined by the Wilson tariff, the voters think far more of protection as a restorative of prosperity than of free silver This section is strongly for McKinley.

Theodore Roosevelt addressed an enthusiastic audience at the Coliseum in Chicago under the auspices of the Republican College League Club Robert T Lincoln presided These were among the telling points made by Roosevelt 'The dominant note in Mr Bryan's utterances and in the campaign waged on his behalf is the note of hysteria Messrs Bryan, Altgeld, Tillman Dels Coxey, and the rest have not the power to rival the deeds of Marat and Robespierre but they are strikingly like the leaders of the Reign of Terror in France in mental and moral attitude Mr Altgeld is a more dangerous man than Bryan He is much slyer and more intelligent The one plans wholesale repudiation, the other would connive at wholesale murder. For America to put men like these in control of her destinies would be such a dishonor as it is scarcely bearable to think of In this Presidential election we confront a danger graver than any that has menaced the country since its birth, save at the election of 1860 alone On the result of next month depends whether we shall hang our heads with shame because our country has become the dupe and willing prey of dishonest demagogues."

The Chicago Times-Herald relates this incident of Sir Walter Beasant when he was in that city It has the real English flavor. 'One day in midsummer while the World's Fair Auxiliary Congress of authors was in session the Art Institute became as hot as an oven, and Walter Beasant—the English novelist, now Sir Walter—nudged one of the managers of the Congress, while some one was reading a tiresome paper, and whispered "I say, my man, can't we slip out of here and get a breath of air and a little something cool to drink?" The great and good man thus addressed readily assented and piloted the Englishman across Michigan avenue into a drug store and against a soda fountain "What will you have, Mr Besant" he inquired waving his hand toward the fountain "Gimme a pint of 'alf and 'alf," promptly replied the novelist. The embarrassed pilot gasped and explained that no "strong" drinks could be bought there. Mr. Besant calmly adjusted his eyeglasses, looked the marble outfit over quizzingly and ejaculated "It's one of those blarsted American fizzing machines! All right, sir; go ahead, do you choose for me. Pick out whatever you consider dangerous."

Prosperity for California.

The man who works and votes for the election of Bryan is not working for the prosperity of California. It is time that this clear distinction was made California attained its greatest prosperity by national legislation which Bryan repudiates Four years ago the promise was made of still better times if a change of administration were made But the four years that followed were the most trying ones this State has ever experienced

Now comes Bryan and his supporters to tell another plausible story of prosperity if only he can be placed at the head of the Administration But it is admitted that his election would be followed by a business crisis, and probably the worst ever known in the history of the country Now the country has had a crisis for about four years It has had enough of that It wants no an exemption from business disasters a restoration of confidence and a return to the old prosperity What promises does Bryan give that he can do any thing to restore this prosperity What promise does he make of a restoration of the ruined wool interest of California' What encouragement does he offer to the crippled raisin interest to the citrus and to the fruit men gen rally wher he has openly declared that he was the enemy of that protection that had once secured them some measure of prosperity

These questions are now brought home in a practical way One of the best friends that California ever had in Congress outside of California, was Blaine The vote of the State was cast for him because he was in favor of protecting every interest that made for the prosperity of California McKinley is Blaine's successor as the staunch friend of every productive industry. These men had nothing in common with Bryan or the doctrines that he has announced No voter who has had at heart the interests of California can consistently cast a ballot for Bryan If he is a friend of this State from the ground up, he is also a friend of the man who is at the head of the Republican ticket

Outlining Public Parks.

Engineer Bridge's report about public parks is good reading A great deal of discussion and planning will necessarily precede the practical work of securing any such public improvement If few citizens take the initiative something in time will be done The proposed conversion of the marsh in West Oakland into a small park, has never met with any strong opposition There seems to be a general concurrence of opinion that such a result ought to be reached at no distant day But this one small park reclaimed from the marsh, would never entirely satisfy the needs of the city It would of course be a great acquisition, the first step as it were, towards a still greater improvement Ever since any public interest has been attached to Lake Merritt it has been considered as an adjunct of a public park Somewhere between the Lake and Piedmont, there would be a public reservation of not less than five hundred acres that would constitute the future park of Oakland There would be a connection between the Lake and the Park by means of a broad avenue or boulevard, or perhaps by a still wider strip of land

This idea is still cherished It has been dormant for some years But now and then it is turned over and given an airing This of course is not the only plan that has been outlined But it is sufficiently definite to invite further consideration The park will take shape whenever the public is in earnest to have it There is so much land available for such a purpose, that there is little danger of going amiss in making the best selection

Dr. Coyle In Oakland.

The resignation of Dr Coyle, formally announced last evening, was met by a protest from his people So far as we can learn every member of his great church and congregation are opposed to the change They believe the right man is in the right place, and the work that he has done and is now doing is the best evidence of that proposition

But beyond this particular congregation there is the still larger interest of the community Dr Coyle has met his full share of responsibility as a citizen He has been found in the right place when public interests of vital importance were at stake He has in this way become identified with all the better interests of the city and of many interests which reach beyond it For this reason the protest of his church against his leaving is seconded by the protest of the community The fact that there is this unanimity of sentiment ought to go a long way to bring about a reconsideration of the proposed change.

Quite a spirited controversy is going on in some of the Eastern papers as to who was the first discoverer of anesthetics Fifty years ago for the first time in the history of surgery, ether was successfully applied as an anaesthetic at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston Dr J Collins Warren, the surgeon at the request of Dr Morton, a dentist, permitted the latter to administer ether to a patient upon whom he was about to perform an operation This was done on October 16 1846 To the astonishment of all present the person under treatment remained in perfect unconsciousness, and the usefulness of ether as a means of preventing pains was established The anniversary of the event will be celebrated not only in the United States, but also in Europe, especially in France"

The Hartford Courant, one of the most conservative papers which seldom ever gives place to an extravagant utterance, breaks out in this way "That was a converted regenerated, sanctified "rebel yell" that rang through the streets of Canton, Ohio, last week. No wonder it was musical in the ears of Major McKinley and the other old soldiers of the Union who listened to it. It brought home to mind and heart the glorious changes of the years The old battle cry had been transformed into a shout of generous devotion to the welfare and honor of the one dear undivided, never-to-be-divided country I was as patriotic as the words, full of brotherly feeling and simple broad Americanism, with which McKinley greeted the Southern men that uttered it."

Bryan Is Not a Friend of California

The very best reason in the world for voting against Bryan is that he is not a friend of the industrial interests of this State, and never has been since he has had any public record. He is not a friend of laboring men, and they know it. That is the reason that no large delegations of working men have ever gone out to meet him, as they have gone to meet McKinley. The dinner pail army is not for Bryan He contributed as much as any other man to destroy their prosperity while in Congress. He was one of the conspicuous men who put the blight on American industry No, there are not so many dinner pails in evidence by many thousands as there were four years ago While a member of the Ways and Means Committee of Congress he was no friend to labor This incident is described by the New York Mail and Express:

'It is important to keep in mind at this time, when Mr Bryan is appealing with tearful earnestness for the votes of the workingman, that it was he who heaped upon labor the grossest insult to which it was ever subjected in the halls of Congress He was a member of the Ways and Means Committee of the House that framed the Wilson bill During the discussion several representative manufacturers from Pittsburg, accompanied by delegations of their employes, appeared before the Committee to urge the maintenance of schedules that would afford reasonable protection to the industries in which they were interested H Sellers McKee ventured to explain that the abolition of the duties on glass would paralyze one of the greatest interests of Pennsylvania, whereupon, Mr. Bryan, who had assumed charge of the discussion for the Committee, interrupted him by angrily declaring "Oh, you manufacturers are robbers"

This brutal outburst so shocked the workingmen in attendance that one of their leaders turned to Mr. Bryan and asked "If the manufacturers are robbers, what are we?' To this Mr Bryan immediately retorted with great vehemence

You are public beggars, and so is everybody else that asks for a protective tariff that will benefit him"

Of course every man in California who wanted to save the wool industry from ruin by maintaining a protective tariff, was a beggar and a robber. Every man who would develop the fruit industry was in the same category In short as a majority of the citizens of this State are not only in favor of protection, but have asked directly or indirectly that that system should be maintained in behalf of the infant industries of the State they are according to the Bryan classification, robbers and beggars And now the man who has insulted labor in this way wants the votes of laboring men There will soon be an opportunity for the wage earners of California to settle with Bryan at the polls

Venerable old Princeton University is about to celebrate the 150th anniversary of that institution Here is a reminiscence of early days It was one of the college laws 'No member of college shall wear his hat in the college at any time, or appear in the dining room at meal time, or in the hall at public meeting, or knowingly in the presence of the superiors of the college, without an upper garment and having shoes and stockings tight Every scholar shall rise up and make obeisance when the president goes in or out of the hall or enters the pulpit Every Freshman sent on an errand shall go and do it faithfully and make quick return Every scholar in college shall keep his hat off about ten rods to the president and five to the tutors'

It is reported that Oliver Ellsworth, of the class of 1766, was summoned before the college faculty, charged with violating the last named rule He made the following defense "A hat is composed of two parts, the crown and the brim consequently it is not a hat and I can be guilty of no offense" His argument could not be gainsaid by the tribunal and he was discharged, although it afterward appeared that the brim had been torn off to make a test case This precocious logician was in later life appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States

IN CHARITY'S CAUSE.

An Excellent Entertainment Is to Be Given This Evening.

LINCOLN WILL BE HEARD.

The Proceeds Are to Go to the Ladies' Relief Society.

A RECEPTION TO BE HELD.

All Who Can Should Attend and Enjoy the Programme.

The Ladies' Relief Society will give an entertainment and reception at the First Presbyterian Church this evening The entertainment will consist of a monologue by Frank Lincoln, the humorist, and will be followed by a reception in the Boy's Brigade room of the church. The reception will be in the nature of a social event, as the Reception Committee consists of prominent society ladies assisted by several younger ladies who will serve refreshments

The entertainment is not only to raise funds, of which the society is sorely in need but to bring the organization before the general public. The Ladies' Relief Society is the oldest charitable organization in this city and has for a number of years been prominently identified with philanthropic enterprises It established the home for the old ladies, children and babies at Temescal, and has accomplished far reaching results in this instance

In the organization of many new charitable societies, the Ladies' Relief Society has to a certain extent been forgotten For a long time its affairs were in such a prosperous condition that there was no necessity of calling upon the public for assistance Lately, owing to the depression in properties owned by the society and the withdrawal of State aid amounting to $250 per month, the society finds itself sadly crippled The organization needs funds, and money must be raised by some means At first it was thought advisable to raise the money by subscriptions but much to the members surprise there appeared to exist an ignorance concerning the society and its work It was therefor decided to adopt some way of bringing the society and its wants clearly before the public, and this evening's entertainment is for this purpose At the reception, the general public may meet the directors and members of the society and become personally acquainted with the aims of the organization

The entertainment will be excellent, and will in every way conform to the high standard of entertainments that this society always gives There receptions have always been events of social importance

Frank Lincoln, who has offered his services for an hour's entertainment, is a clever, versatile humorist, whose talk never grows tiresome or lags in interest His manner of entertaining his audience is a novel one and thoroughly enjoyable He is a most wonderful musical mimic and can imitate perfectly the performance of an entire grand opera troupe This feature is remarkable in many respects, and has attracted attention wherever given Lincoln is a genius in monologue, and his amusing sociable travesties were considered in London far more amusing and interesting than Albert Chevalier's costermonger songs Lincoln does not devote himself to any one class of types for his descriptive talks but cleverly and originally depicts the humorous phases of life among all classes

The ladies who have charge of the committee intend to make tonight's entertainment and reception as swell an affair as the former receptions, balls, luncheons, theatricals and other affairs that were formerly given by this society and were considered social events of the year

The reception room and auditorium of the church has been elaborately decorated by Mrs H P Livermore and a staff of ladies Mrs James Spier of Berkeley assisted by Miss Dr Tremery and a corps of young ladies, will attend to the serving of ice cream in the charmingly decorated tables Other committees are composed of the following ladies.

Entertainment—Mrs Taft, Mrs. R G Brown Mrs M Erath, Mrs Gregory, Mrs Wilson Mr Blake, Miss De Fremery, Mrs Gordon, Mrs Gelette, Mrs F L Brown, Mrs Dunham, Mrs Maury, Mrs Liverantz Mrs Taylor, Mrs Livermore, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs Johnston, Mrs Wright, Mr Cotton and Mrs. Wellman

Ways and Means—Mrs F. S. Stratton, Mrs Dam, Mrs Wellman, Mrs Morrow, Mrs Livermore, Mrs Taylor, Miss Campbell, Mrs Spiers, Miss Miner, Mrs Wright, Mrs Dunham, Mrs F. L. Brown, Miss De Fremery

A VICIOUS ASSAULT.

Attorney Fred Krause Charges Leonard Keller With a Serious Offense.

Fred Krause, the attorney, made application to District Attorney Snook today for a warrant charging Leonard H Keller with assault upon his stepdaughter a young woman about 16 years of age.

Keller has been arrested and placed in jail

The offense was committed, it is alleged, under most aggravating circumstances.

Krause resides in Fruitvale and one Sunday evening about three weeks ago, Keller called at the Krause home and went thence as escort to Krause's stepdaughter to evening service at the Fruitvale Presbyterian Church.

After the services had closed at the church, Keller, it is alleged led the girl along the dark hills on the way home and there assaulted her.

The young girl concealed the affair from her mother and stepfather until last night, when her injuries proved such that she could no longer conceal the facts of the assault.

Krause is greatly incensed over the outrage, as the latter, because he alleges, the mother of the young man seems to stand up in defense of her offspring.

AND STILL THE CORSELET.

It Continues to Be Popular and Will Reign Through the Winter.

There is no diminution in the popularity of the corselet One may safely put it on a gown intended for late winter wear In fact, there never was a more economical idea than that of having a corselet and a bolero jacket that can be worn over any fancy waist.

A corselet which particularly attracted me was worn with a dark-brown gown It was made of silk plaided in golden browns, and the bolero which accompanied it, was of brown satin with a covering of gold bead passementerie.

Another very striking, was of white honiton lace, stretched over white satin It fitted perfectly, without the sign of a wrinkle A shirred black silk bodice was its companion, and to say that they were worn by a very slim person is, of course, unnecessary

Black and white, the combination which is forever new, is used most effectively in a gown of black cloth, figured with white silk A dainty white and black silk was used in designating the bodice, and is laid around with soft folds of black velvet The sleeves are also of black velvet—short, squatty puffs, with slim, lengthy sleeves beneath

And the hat, trimmed with white lace and black feathers, was a most striking accompaniment

Extenuating Circumstances

They led the prisoner before the morning justice He was a bum He had been arrested for stealing a door-mat

'Name'' queried the morning justice, sternly

'Robert Willoughby, sir," replied the tramp

'Charge'"

'Stealin' a door-mat your honor" said the policeman who had made the arrest

'Guilty or not guilty?' This was addressed to the bum

The prisoner drew a long breath made a profound bow and said 'Your honor, in view of the fact that this officer caught me in the act I am willing to plead guilty, but your honor, in so doing I want to say that there were extenuating circumstances"

"What were they?" thundered the justice

'The door-mat had 'Welcome' on it and I thought it meant me'—From the Buffalo Express.

He Had One Effect

The just engaged girl was telling the other girls all about 'it" or, more properly, 'him" 'Yes,' she said. 'I'm very much in love, I know, but not in the blind, silly, illogical way that most girls are I'm not so far gone but what I can see that he has defects—oh, lots of them—both in looks and in character, I'm able to regard him, thank goodness' from a perfectly impartial and dispassionate standpoint" After which the just-engaged girl proceeded to go into detail According to her 'impartial, dispassionate standpoint' 'he' was, it seemed, handsome and amiable and clever and courageous and charming, and— "See here," interrupted one of the other girls, "isn't this rather one-sided? How about these many defects you said you saw so plainly? Please mention some of them" "Well," said the just-engaged girl, heroically, after a minute's silence, 'one of his front teeth is just a trifle crooked.—From the Boston Advertiser.

LADIES' SWEATER BARGAINS.

Come and see what a real good Sweater you can buy for a small sum of money. Sweaters at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 to $2.50. Were formerly $2.90 to $4.50 each.

FEARN TO FIGHT AGAIN.

The Henderson & Graham Drug Store Trouble Is Revived.

Suit Brought to Compel Payment of a Promissory Note.

The troubles growing out of the dissolution of the drug firm of Henderson & Graham, who formerly did business in the Hotel Crellin before selling out to John Fearn, are to be again aired in court, if a suit filed today is ever brought to trial.

The suit in the main has already been tried in one of the departments of the Superior Court, Louisa B. Henderson and John Fearn as plaintiff and defendant respectively. The decision of the case was in favor of the defendant. In today's filing, three causes of action are alleged, one for the purpose of recovering on a note for $1500 alleged to be due the plaintiff because of money loaned to Henderson & Graham in 1892, one for the recovery of $350 loaned, and one for the recovery of $150 alleged to have been expended in the attempt to collect on the $1500 note.

The plaintiff is the wife of the senior member of the former drug firm of Henderson & Graham. She alleges she lent the firm $1500 and took a note for the amount, dated May 2, 1892. This note, it seems, got lost, and on June 14, 1895 the firm gave in lieu a promissory note to cover the indebtedness with interest at 6 per cent. This second note was also lost inadvertently and by mistake was torn up and destroyed by David L. Henderson, the husband of the petitioner. In June, 1895, Henderson retired from the business and conveyed his interest to his former partner, Fred Graham. In July, 1895, Graham transferred everything in the business to John Fearn. It is alleged that among the matters transferred was the indebtedness of $1500 representing the firm's note to Mrs. Henderson for the $1500 alleged to have been borrowed. In this manner it is sought to have Fearn make the amount good.

Fearn fought the case in a determined way before and it is expected that he will make another big fight now.

WANTS OUR WATCHES.

Prince Hilkoff Is Well Pleased With His American Trip.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Prince Hilkoff, the Russian Minister of Ways and Commerce, accompanied by his son, Prince Michael Hilkoff, occupied suites on the American line steamer St. Paul which sailed Wednesday for Southampton.

The Prince is pleased with many American railroad devices and may adopt some of them in his country. It is said one result of his visit to the United States is the placing by him of an order for 18,000 American watches to be used by employes on Russian railroads.

If we told you that your baby was starving, that it actually didn't get enough to eat, you might resent it. And yet there are thousands of babies who never get the fat they should in their food or who are not able to digest the fat that they do get. Fat is a necessity to your baby. It is baby life and baby beauty. A few drops of Scott's Emulsion for all little ones one, two and three years of age is better than cream for them. They thrive and grow on it.

TALENTED TALKERS.

Republican Stump Speakers Are Winning Many Votes.

MORE RALLIES ANNOUNCED.

Irving Scott and General Hart to Speak Here Tomorrow.

BRYAN MEN ON PARADE.

Much Expectation Regarding the Swinnerton-Smith Debate.

Tomorrow night Irving M. Scott and A. L. Hart are the attractions at the Tabernacle. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the reception of the two noted Republican orators and nothing will be lacking to make the evening a grand success.

The parade which will escort the speakers will be a long one. In it the following marching clubs will be fully represented: The Alliance, Army and Navy League, Young Men's Republican Forty-eighth Assembly District, the Alameda Republican Drill Corps and the National Republican League.

There has been plenty of music arranged for, while other features will assist in making the evening decidedly entertaining.

MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

The Prohibitionist Appeal Threatens to Delay the Ballots.

County Clerk Jordan is anxiously awaiting to hear from the Supreme Court, relative to the action taken by the Prohibitionists with the idea of having their candidates placed on the county ticket, despite the opinion of the Superior Court.

The time is now rapidly approaching when the ballots must be printed and if by any chance an order should be made to put the names on, it may be almost impossible to have the official ballots ready the requisite ten days before election.

"Unless I hear from the Supreme Court within three days," said County Clerk Jordan when questioned, "I shall have the ballots printed.

"I have been watching this matter with no little concern, and should I be ordered to place the names of the Prohibitionist candidates on the official ballot it is going to make it impossible to send out the sample ballots as the law directs. I have the ballots prepared and am about to order 60,000 official and 30,000 sample copies. It has required a lot of hard work to get this copy ready and if it has to be done over again it will be very close to election day before I get through."

AN IMPORTANT DEBATE.

Judge Swinnerton and Governor Smith Meet Monday Night.

Next Monday night the Tabernacle will be the scene of one of the star features of the campaign and one which will bring out members of the opposition parties. It will be a debate on the financial question between ex-Judge Swinnerton of Stockton and Robert B. Smith, fusion nominee for Governor of Montana.

Judge Swinnerton is one of the best posted men on the coast regarding the sound money question, while Governor Smith is said to be an able exponent of silver. That the fur will fly when the two gladiators meet there is no doubt.

SILVER'S CHAMPIONS.

G. W. Baker Will Talk Before the Democratic Financial School.

There will be an interesting meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Financial school tomorrow evening in the headquarters, 418 Eighth street.

The financial question will be expounded fully from a silver standpoint by George W. Baker and Major G. W. Arbuckle. As is well known, Mr. Baker is one of the best posted silver men on this coast and he has many interesting points to make in defense of the standard he champions.

The addresses will not however be devoted exclusively to finance, for many of the other important questions of the day will be elaborated upon.

BRYAN'S BOOMERS.

A Good Showing Made Last Night by the Silver Forces.

The largest Popocratic demonstration held in the county so far this campaign took place last night.

All the marching clubs that could be marshalled together, put in an appearance early in the evening and under the flickering light of the many torches made quite a showy display.

A wagon led the van, scattering a pyrotechnic display all along the line. Then came the Marshal, J. S. Meyers, on horseback, followed by the aids, also mounted.

A brass band was next in line with the Alameda Bryan Silver Club, close behind. The Zouaves stretched out for some distance, preceding the Young Men's Democratic Club, which in turn was followed by the Army and Navy Bryan Silver League. T. H. B. Rosenberg's Bryan Central Club brought up the rear.

banded and the club men took the seats numerous, while nearly all the men in ranks were provided with torches.

At the Tabernacle the procession disbanded and the club men took the seats set aside for them.

N. J. Manson, chairman of the People's Party County Central Committee, called the meeting to order and introduced Attorney R. M. Fitzgerald, as Chairman of the evening.

H. D. Hougham read an original poem and was followed by J. L. Gilbert of Fresno who spoke for an hour on the financial aspect of the campaign. In conclusion he said:

"Our Republican friends say they are willing to have free coinage if England consents. I say that to ask England to consent to free coinage would be to say, 'Will you let this little trembling dependency dig her own silver out of her own hills and coin it in her own mints for the business of her own people?'

"I want a dollar that England don't want. I want a dollar that is good in America. I don't care whether it is good in England or in Africa. If I go to England or Africa I can get money that will be current there.

"If we are not strong enough to establish a financial system of our own I want to be attached to Mexico or some other country that has patriotism and independence enough to do so.

"I do not solicit any votes myself. I am not a candidate. But I do ask you to vote for my home, for my children and for the prosperity of my country and your country."

Burdette Cornell was the next speaker. He believed the substantial difference between the People's and Democratic party on one side and the Republican party on the other is whether this nation is able to maintain the parity of the two metals at the ration of 16 to 1 without international agreement. By this declaration for international agreement the Republicans concede that the coinage of silver is desirable and that we need more money. The demand for money is equal to the sum total of all demands. What we ask is that 412½ grains of silver shall be coined by the government and made legal tender for all dues.

A ROUSING MEETING.

Colored Republicans Hold Forth at the League Rooms.

The headquarters of the National Republican League was the scene of a rousing rally held by the Colored Republican Club last night. It was the first meeting conducted by the Club and the hall was packed.

Felix Lafon, President of the Club, presided and Congressman Hilborn, Judge Carpenter, Colonel Thomas Pearson, H. E. Caltes, F. B. Morton, S. P. Hall and others made short addresses.

The Colored Glee Club composed of Messrs. Johnson, Jackson, Butler, Flood, and Crump, entertained the assemblage with campaign and plantation songs.

GOLD VERSUS SILVER.

Veterans to Meet in Debate on the Financial Issue.

The debate which is being arranged between the Army and Navy Republican and Army and Navy Bryan Silver Leagues, on the financial question promises to be very interesting.

upon their champions today.

For the Republicans, the following Committee has been appointed to take charge: J. P. McElroy, F. W. Phelps, and W. R. Thomas. They will decide upon their champions today.

The Silver debaters will probably be chosen from Messrs Arbuckle, Gregg, and Bretz.

THE FIRST WARD.

A Big Campaign Meeting to Be Held This Evening.

The Republicans of the First Ward will hold a big rally tonight in Hansen's Hall. The meeting has been called by County Committeeman W. W. Morrison and a rousing meeting is anticipated.

H. A. Powell and Lin S. Church will deliver the speeches of the evening.

They will discuss all phases of the important questions before the people of the country and will be followed by some of the county candidates who will talk briefly on local subjects.

Will Talk on Money.

Colonel H. G. Shaw, the veteran newspaper man will give an illustrated talk on the money question tonight in Thomas's Hall, at Twenty-third avenue. Mr. Shaw has given the subject much study and is an able talker.

W. R. Davis Is Busy.

Saturday night W. R. Davis will deliver a campaign speech in Stockton and on the following week will make a trip through Yolo County.

Popocrats in Berkeley.

Tonight the Democrats and Populists will gather in East Berkeley in force. Shattuck Hall is the objective point and Taylor Rodgers of San Francisco, the chief attraction. Incidentally the Zouaves and other marching clubs will be on hand as will also several local speakers.

Perkins Up the Coast.

George C. Perkins spoke to a large audience in Fortuna, Humboldt County last night. He arrived in the morning and will remain in that section until Saturday, speaking each evening.

Judge Greene Speaks.

There was one of the largest political gatherings in the history of Mission San Jose last night, when Judge W. E. Greene and A. P. Van Duzen enlightened an audience numbering upward of 1000 on Republican doctrine.

Alameda Plans.

The Executive Committee of the Alameda Republican Clubs met last night in its headquarters and decided upon holding two rousing meetings before the campaign closes.

A Livermore Rally.

George W. Baker, President of the California Silver Campaign Committee, is billed to address the citizens of Livermore on Tuesday evening of next week.

Hanna's Views.

Robert R. Porter, the Eastern orator, who has been stumping Oregon for McKinley, will deliver two speeches in California during the last few days of the campaign. In a recent interview Mark Hanna is quoted as saying:

"Mr. Porter will be quite an acquisition to those already sent, especially as there is no man better informed on the question that interests the Pacific Coast—that of protection. Of course, California has always been a gold State. From letters and telegrams received in this department I have no fears as to how the coast States will go. They are thoroughly organized and thorough organization in any of these States means complete Republican victory.

Silver Talkers in Fruit Vale.

The Bryan Silver men will hold a meeting tonight commencing at 8 o'clock in Upper Fruitvale Hall. The meeting will be addresses by Hon. Geo. W. Baker, Green Majors, and J. A. Jones.

Mining Troubles.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 22.—Judge Knowles in the United States court has signed a decree of foreclosure of the first mortgage of $1,079,910 on the property of the Butte and Boston Mining Company, but refused to sign a second decree asked for by the Reorganization Company providing for a sale of the whole property in a lump and shutting off the right of redemption within six months after the sale.

The High Case.

Judge Ellsworth has taken under advisement until next Monday the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Gavin Dhu High, convicted in the Police Court of libel. High is now out of jail on bail.

FOUGHT FOR HIS LIFE.

A Lumberman Kills Two Negroes and Wounds Four.

RESCUED JUST IN TIME.

With a Winchester He Kept a Big Mob at Bay.

THE SHOOTING WAS LIVELY.

Locking Himself in a Room He Gave His Foes Battle.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHIPLEY, Fla., Oct. 22.—Besieged by infuriated negroes J. M. Criglar, manager of Hagerman's lumber mills, at Hager station, four miles west of here, defended himself with such effect that he killed two of his assailants and wounded four others.

Criglar became enraged in a quarrel with one of his employes and the other negroes drew pistols and began firing at the manager

Criglar ran to his office, locked himself in and opened fire with a Winchester on the maddened negroes who surrounded the building.

For an hour the battle continued and when the Louisville & Nashville train arrived at the station the negroes were preparing to set fire to the building and

The train crew and passengers, however, rushed to Criglar's aid and dis-

The train crew and passengers, howpersed the negroes.

The negroes had fired over 200 shots into the building but Criglar escaped by lying on the floor.

As soon as the negroes fired a volley, however, he would rise and shoot at them through the windows.

The negroes killed are Amos Judson and Alexander.

The wounded are Henry Simpson, Jack Noble, Andrew Miller and Albert Lester. Simpson and Lester are thought to be fatally wounded.

THE THEATERS.

"Town Topics" Will Be Here Two Nights Next Week

Mr. Barnes of New York continues to attract good houses to the Oakland. The play is an excellent one, and is artistically presented by Manager Bacon's clever company.

The Broadway Comedians in this season's biggest farce-comedy sensation, "Town Topics," is the attraction at the Macdonough Theater Monday and Tuesday next.

It comes with banners flying heralded as the most pretentious migratory farce-comedy company ever seen on tour, with a costume and scenic investiture complete in every detail. The comedy is in three acts, the first being comedy situations and crisp with witty dialogue. In this act there are no specialities; the second act is almost entirely specialties and burlesque; the third act, with the exception of several specialties, is again given over to farcical play and the unraveling of the plot. Any one discovering the plot without the aid of a dark lantern will be rewarded liberally.

The company will include William Keller, William H. Mack, John Queen, James Tenbrook, Phil Ott, Jos. Harrington, William Nelson, Frank Caverly, A. M. Miller, Beatrice Norman, Nellie Sennett, Lyllan Heckler, Luella Miller, Elsie Nugent, Laura aWinsford, Fred. Peel and Mamie Welty.

FRANKE IS FOUND.

A Defaulting Chicago Merchant Landed by the Detectives.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—It is reported the Pinkertons have located Frederick H. Franke, the merchant of North avenue who left a large number of creditors in the lurch by selling his stock of goods to Gore & Co., in Kansas City.

There is a movement started among the creditors, it is claimed, to raise money with which to prosecute him.

Detectives Ross and Corbush have gone to Houghton, Mich., to serve a warrant on Emil Franke, who is under arrest in that city on a charge of larceny.

Franke is wanted in Chicago on a charge of larceny also. He is the son of F. H. Franke, the North Side merchant.

CAN DIE IN PEACE.

Governor Upham of Wisconsin Pardons Wife-Murderer Duval.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 22.—Governor Upham has pardoned Dr. W. P. Duvall, who two years ago was sentenced to State's prison for life from Walworth County for the murder of his wife, Elizabeth Duvall.

The pardon was urgently recommended by the judge who sentenced him and this, together with the fact that the doctor has grown old and is very feeble and at the most has but a short time to live, and the further fact that a member of his family in another State desires to care for him during his remaining days, made it appear to the Governor as proper cause for the exercise of executive clemency.

A Noted Speaker.

Mrs. Chas. E. Walker of the Woman's Executive Committee of New York City is the guest of Mrs. G. A. Hall of Telegraph avenue. Mrs. Walker spoke at Dr. Coyle's prayer meeting yesterday evening. This afternoon she is delivering an address at Berkeley, Friday at Alameda, and next Tuesday at Brooklyn and the Presbyterian Churches. Mrs. Walker is a speaker of National reputation and Oakland is fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing her.

ATLANTA, Georgia, Oct. 22.—In response to a telegram of inquiry concerning Watson's letter of acceptance, Chairman Butler wires the Atlanta Journal as follows:

"Telegram received. Letter not yet reached me. MARION BUTLER, Chairman."

WORKING HIM HARD.

Bryan Is Speaking at Many Small Towns in Illinois.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ROCHESTER, Ind., Oct. 22.—The Indiana Committee evidently does not intend to allow Bryan to fall far behind his record as a speech maker on this trip through Hoosierdom.

Nineteen speeches were made in the twenty-four hours ending at midnight last night and today seventeen are on the card and there will probably be more.

But Parks Martin, the Chairman of the State Committee who is in charge of the train is taking care that Bryan receives more rest and is doing his best to save him from the too affectionate crowds of his admirers.

The first speech today was at Decatur shortly after 8 o'clock.

Several thousand listened to Bryan more than a quarter of an hour and gave a boisterous approval of his utterance.

The crowd was made up largely of farmers.

Bryan told them the farmers of no country ever endorsed the gold standard and called attention to a meeting of agriculturalists some time ago, in Budapest, where bimetallism was endorsed and greetings sent to the bimetalists of America.

He quoted the address of Prince Bismarck to farmers a year ago, in which he said the farmers must stand together and protect themselves from the drones of society who produce nothing but laws.

Markel was not down on the bills for a speech, but a stop was made there and Bryan spoke five minutes.

At Huntington he addressed a crowd which numbered thousands, who were evidently in accord with him.

Laketon telegraphed a crowd had gathered there and a stop was made long enough for Bryan to greet the people and shake hands with those nearest him.

MORE GOLD MEN.

PERU, Ind., Oct. 22.—The public square in front of the Court House at Rochester was crowded when Bryan arrived.

It was a free silver crowd, and the few people who wore yellow badges looked lonesome.

Bryan quoted from the Indiana State Republican platform six years ago, and referred to the message of President Harrison December, 1890, sayin:

"I want to show the Republicans who are here today that the Republican party has deserted the position which it occupied and having changed its policy is attempting to change the convictions of Republicans who supported it when it was supporting bimetalism."

FARMERS CALL.

A Large Delegation Pays a Visit to Major McKinley.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 22.—It was glorious Indian summer weather at Canton this morning.

A large delegation of farmers first called at the McKinley home. They came from Creston, Ohio.

Major McKinley responded to A. I. Richards, who spoke on behalf of the delegation. The nominee said:

"I remember when the Republicans of Creston and Wayne County were among the most earnest and enthusiastic of my old Congressional District and I see you have not lost your earnestness and enthusiasm for the great doctrines of the Republican party. We cannot, by legislation, in this country, make values.

"We cannot by any legerdemain of finance make something out of nothing. The only way to get wealth is by labor.

"Anybody who teaches any other doctrine is a false teacher and not a friend to American citizenship or our American homes. (Applause.)

"Congress can do a good many things, but it cannot make you rich or the country rich by debasing the money of the country, and it cannot make the country rich by giving us dollars that are only worth 52 cents each and stamping them on dollars. (Great laughter and applause.)

"Now, Congress can help you, but it must be by wise legislation, caring for the products, labor, farms and manufactures of our own people by protecting them against the products of people living in other lands.

"Well, now, the best thing for the farmer, after good crops and good markets is good money, and when you give four pecks for a bushel and sell your wheat by a full bushel you want to be paid in dollars worth fully a hundred cents each, not only today, but every day and everywhere.

"This is what the Republican party stands for this year. Those two things above all others, but the Republican party does not stand alone for them.

"The greater part of the Democratic party, the greater leaders of the old Democratic party are one with us in the struggle for national honor and prosperity." (Continuous cheering.)

Rousing cheers were given for the next President.

A FLYING SQUADRON.

The Governors Touring Illinois in a Special Train.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The "Governors' Flying Squadron" left Chicago this morning over the Alton Road to make a campaign tour of three days in Illinois.

Ex-Governors Richard J. Oglesby, John L. Beveridge, Shelby M. Cullom, John M. Hamilton and Joseph W. Fifer are accompanied by Captain John R. Tanner, National Committeeman Jamieson and Col. W. H. Hahn of the Republican National Speakers' Bureau.

Stops were made today at Joliet, Braidwood, Gartenar, Dwight, Pontiac, Lexington, Bloomington, Lincoln, Springfield and Jacksonville, speeches being made from a flat car attached to the special train.

WILL BET ON M'KINLEY.

Michael Doran of St. Paul Has $100,000 He Will Wager.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 22.—In an interview with the Pioneer Press, Michael Doran, a banker and broker in this city and known all over the United States as a Democratic National Committeeman and leader in Minnesota, for twenty years, announced that he is willing and ready to bet any part or all of $100,000 that McKinley for President and Clough (Republican) for Governor, would carry Minnesota at the coming election.

HAD THE WRONG MAN.

Pinkerton and David Henderson Sued for $100,000 Damages.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Matthew W. Pinkerton and David Henderson are co-defendants in a suit for $100,000 damages which is on trial before a jury in Judge Smith's Court.

The plaintiff is Albert Beaumont, once advertising agent of the Chicago Opera House. Beaumont was arrested in August, 1890, on complaint of Henderson, then manager of the Opera House, and indicted on the charge of embezzlement. The charge was that he had sold theater passes. The arrest was made by Pinkerton.

Beaumont was tried and acquitted.

He Grew Satirical.

"That's a splendid heating apparatus you put into my house last year," said the small sarcastic man.

"I—er—was afraid you didn't like it, judging from some of the things you said last winter."

"Its good qualities don't show off at all times. But when a cool spell like the present comes on we realize that it has great possibilities. If you could regulate it a little it would be all right."

"I guess we can regulate it almost any way you want it."

"That's good, I believe in always looking out for the future. And if you'll have somebody come up and regulate it so that it keeps the house as cold in July as it does in October, we'll burn fires in the grates all winter and never say a word."

The U. S. Cruiser "Raleigh" Captures a Couple of Filibusters.

THEY TRIED TO GET AWAY.

A Lively Cannonade Though Brought Them to Time.

THE PRIZES ARE SAFE NOW.

They Were Preparing for Another Trip to Cuba.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A special to the Record says:

The United States cruiser Raleigh at 5 o'clock yesterday morning discovered the steamer Dauntless taking on a cargo of coal from the steamer R. L. Mabey of Mosquito Inlet.

As the warship bore down on them the filibusterers started in opposite directions and the Raleigh opened fire, dropping solid shot across their bows as a signal to stop.

The Dauntless heaved to but the Mabey ran into Mosquito Inlet and anchored opposite New Smyrna.

The Raleigh took the Dauntless in tow and sent an officer after the Mabey.

The two prizes were towed up the coast to the St. John's bar and were anchored inside the river with the cutter Boutwell alongside.

The Dauntless had just arrived from the south and is supposed to have been preparing to carry another expedition to Cuba.

SUITS FOR A SONG.

The water sale at the Famous is attracting attention of all Oakland and the store is filled daily. It is only logical to say that so popular a sale cannot last always. It behooves the intelligent Oaklander to be brisk and buy quickly. Hats, suits for men and boys, and underwear, are selling for much less than they originally cost. It is a local providential blessing to temper the acidity of a moneyless year, and there are bargains galore for the appreciative.

SOME FRATERNITY INITIATIONS

The Freshmen Preparing for the Coming Glee.

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—The people of Berkeley are growing nervous over the many burglaries that have been committed lately throughout the county and are anxious to have more police officers. While the college town has been generally free of depredations of this kind in the past, the residents feel it is no sign of what the future may bring forth in the way of hold-ups, burglaries and other lawless adventures and ask for police protection before the need of it arises. The city officials, although they have considered the question of increasing the police force, have taken no active steps in the matter owing to the finances of the town.

FRATERNITY INITIATIONS.

The young women fraternities are beginning to initiate new members. Last evening the Gamma Phi Beta received three new members at the Chapter House the new comers being Miss Charlotte Hoffman, Miss Harriett Haraithy and Miss Mabel Williams. The Sorosis will probably take in one new girl this term, Miss Humphrey, although more may be initiated later. Alpha Thetas are "making" several girls but have initiated none as yet.

THE FRESHMEN GLEE.

The freshman class of the State University will hold its glee the evening of the 30th inst in Harmon Gymnasium. The committee on decorations consists of Miss Arents, Miss McCulloch, Miss McAllister, Miss Metrovich, Miss Thompson Smith, Gundlefinger and Parker.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

The University students will hold a special drill Tuesday. The freshmen have now received their guns and uniforms will be donned for the big drill.

The University co-eds of the class of '99 will tender a reception to the male students of the same class Friday evening at Stiles Hall.

The Associated Students of the State University have offered $5 for the best football song for the Thanksgiving game. The writer must be an undergraduate.

The Agriculture Committee of the University faculty are preparing a programme for another series of Farmers' Institutes. This time the institutes will be held in Central California.

COURT COMMENT.

Extensive Litigation in Progress Before the Superior Judges.

The London and San Francisco Bank has presented a claim against the estate of George J. Ainsworth for $13250, balance due on a $15,000 note.

Irving H. Coonradt has asked to be appointed guardian of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Virginia Coonradt, who was committed to the Stockton Insane Asylum yesterday afternoon.

J. F. W. Bohst, Joseph Wohlfrom and John L. Bromley have appraised the estate of Philip Metz, deceased, at $17,022.25.

F. C. Boehmer has commenced suit against the Oakland, Alameda & Piedmont Electric Railway Company for $15,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by a collision which occured on the company's line on April 6, 1895, at Eleventh and Harrison streets.

Ida O'Leary has secured a divorce from Thomas O'Leary, custody of the minor children, Elsie and Lloyd, and $125 a month alimony. She is also allowed to resume her maiden name of Ida Dockery.

In the matter of the petition of George Bates, formerly principal of the Berkeley Gymnasium, to be declared an insolvent debtor, John J. Moran, manager of the Peralta University Academy has made an affidavit charging Bates with being in possession of $697.50 received from Bardwell Bros. and which affiant alleges rightfully belongs to him.

W. M. Brandon, H. Latham and George A. Norton have appraised the estate of Robert M. Marrack, deceased, at $2,000.

Charles Lafferty has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of Mary Lafferty, deceased. The estate consists of a house and lot at 518 Sixth street, this city, and is worth about $1000.

The estate of John W. Wuetzer, deceased, has been appraised by Melvin Wise, W. H. Friend and J. G. Poorman at $900.

The Hickmott Canning Company has sued Elisabeth Jayne, Emily E. Mills, Edson Adams, Teresa Casserly et al, to quiet title to property on the corner of First and Myrtle streets.

THANKS TO ELLIOTT.

Woman Suffragists Acknowledge His Good Work for the Cause.

Albert H. Elliott, of the firm of Stearns & Elliott, Nevada block, San Francisco, has been one of the ablest and most effective speakers for woman suffrage during the present campaign. He has spoken several nights every week, and his services have been wholly a free-will offering. Mr. Elliott counts several noted lawyers among his ancestry, but he is entirely a "self-made man," is a graduate of Berkeley, and has already made a name in his profession. He is a son-in-law of Professor Bunnell. At a meeting of the Alameda County Suffrage Society yesterday the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That this society extends to Mr. Albert H. Elliott its sincere thanks and gratitude for his services in the cause of woman suffrage during the present campaign, and hopes to be able in the future to express a more substantial recognition."

A LIVING POSTER SHOW.

It Will Be Given for the Benefit of the Vested Choir.

Money Must Be Raised to Pay the Expenses of the Vestments.

Next Sunday evening, the Girls' Vested Choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will make its second appearance and will assist in the church services. This choir is composed of forty members in all, twelve of whom are young ladies. The young ladies sing at the evening services only and are clad in the Oxford vestments. This is the only girls' choir on the coast that is garbed in the Oxford gown. The other girl choirs have adopted the regular surplice and gown of the boy chorister, some of them wearing the Oxford mortar board.

The young ladies will only appear at evening services and it is believed that their innovation in choir music will serve to increase the attendance at this service. The plan of having young ladies sing was introduced by the Music Committee which is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. L. L. Bromwell, Chairman; Mrs. H. C. Taft, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. H. E. McElrath, Mrs. C. E. Palmer, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Sumner Bugbee and Mrs. Babcock.

The twelve young ladies whose voices swell the choruses at the evening services are under the leadership of Miss Margie Gaskill, who is the soloist and are as follows: Miss Chrissie Taft, Miss Bessie Palmer, Miss Irene Baker, the Misses Fore, Miss Clara Converse, Miss Winifred Morgan, Miss Clara Croit, Miss Hattie Currier, Miss Florence Sharon, Miss Julia Lee.

The Music Committee met this morning and made arrangements for an entertainment to raise funds to pay for the vestments of the new choir of girls. The entertainment will be a novel living poster show and will be the opening entertainment at the new Ebell rooms. The date has not been set as yet. The participants will be well known society young men and women.

credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Section 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Section 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Amendment Number Two.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be observed.

Amendment Number Three.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 13.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 2. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association; and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

Amendment Number Four.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

Amendment Number Five.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches; and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation, and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

Amendment Number Six.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which arenow or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, and an Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for the submission of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D. 1893, the said amendments are submitted, to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the State on

Tuesday, November the Third, A. D. 1896

The said amendments are respectively designated—

Amendment Number One,
Amendment Number Two,

Silver and Gold.

"We believe that the free coinage of silver will bring gold to this country, and that, too, without the aid of syndicates."—Bryan's Speech at Syracuse, N. Y.

If that is the effect of the free coinage of silver, why does it not do so in the countries which now have free coinage? The South American States have had free coinage of silver for many years, yet the gold does not appear to be drifting to them. They have actually mined $25,000,000 in gold since the beginning of 1892, yet they have lost most of that; and, instead of the gold going to them under the free coinage of silver, as Mr. Bryan says will happen, they have lost their gold until they have today but $1.11 for each individual. Mexico has had free coinage of silver for many years; but, instead of attracting gold according to the Bryan theory, her gold has rapidly left her, so that, although she mines between four and five millions of gold a year, her gold money amounts to just 41 cents for each individual in her population, or one-twentieth of what the United States has per capita. Does this look as though the free coinage of silver would "bring gold to this country, and that without the aid of syndicates"?

"Gold and Silver are different from other commodities in that they are limited in quantity. Corn, wheat, manufactured products, etc., can be produced almost without limit, provided they can be sold at a price sufficient to stimulate production, but gold and silver are called precious metals because they are found, not produced."—Bryan's Madison Square Garden Speech.

Does not Mr. Bryan know that the mining of gold and silver has increased with enormous rapidity in the past thirty-five years? The amount of gold produced from the mines of the world since 1860 equals all that produced in the world in over 350 years prior to that time. In a single year now the world produces more gold than was produced in a quarter of a century prior to the gold discoveries of California. The suspension of the purchases of silver bullion in 1893 so stimulated the miners of Colorado to search for gold that they more than doubled the production of that metal in a single year. The silver mines of the world since 1860 have produced more than half as much silver as they mined in the preceding 350 years.

THE HOMEOPATHS.

Interesting Proceedings at a Meeting of the Doctors.

At the recent meeting of the local homoepathic medical fraternity, held in the Unitarian Church, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. E. W. Bradley; vice president, Dr. George Augur; secretary and treasurer, Dr. N. B. Chamberlain; censors, Dr. R. E. Hill Jr., Dr. Schofield and Dr. Small.

An interesting programme, consisting of papers on medical topics and music, followed, during which Miss Little sang a pleasing solo, the words of which, composed by Col. Little, were as follows:

When any one is sick, it's run for doctor quick,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do;
When Johnny's got a pain, and Sally's sore throat,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do,
When we've got a broken leg by falling over a keg,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you sick or well, and I don't care if I tell,
That we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

We have no use for jalaps, castor oil or senna tea,
But we want you, doctors dear, us to see.
Whenever we are taken with fever or with chills,
Then we want you, doctors dear, with your pills,
Your sweet sugar coated, your cunning little doses,
Which offend neither palates nor our delicate little noses,
But cure us up so quickly and keep from being sickly.
Yes we want you, doctors dear, yes we do.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you sick or well, and I don't care if I tell,
That we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

With your aconite and belladonna, your arnica and nux,
We want you, doctors dear, yes we do,
With ipecacuanha, colocynth and rhustox,
We want you, doctors dear, yes we do.
The allopaths ain't in it, no, not even for a minute,
So we want you, doctors dear, so we do.
They cannot beat your china, your kali and your phos,
Just give us high dilution and you are bound to be the boss.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you every minute and nobody else is in it,
For we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

LEGAL NOTICE.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Take notice that upon a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County, State of California, which will be held on Monday, the 26th day of October, 1896, the petition herein published will be presented to said Board for its action.

All persons interested in said matter are hereby notified to be present at said time that they may present objections, if any they have, to said petition.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California.—Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, and each of us, do hereby petition and request your honorable body to incorporate as a municipal corporation, under and in accordance with an act entitled "An Act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13th, 1883, and the amendments thereto, the territory included and embraced in the limits and boundaries hereinafter particularly described and set forth as the proposed boundaries of said corporation, and which said territory is located in the County of Alameda, State of California.

We hereby petition and request your honorable body to incorporate said territory in accordance with said Act last hereinbefore mentioned, under the name and designation of the Town of Emeryville.

We further certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that the proposed boundaries of said proposed municipal corporation are particularly described and set forth as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the northern boundary of the City of Oakland, 150 feet easterly from the easterly line of San Pablo avenue measured at a right angle to the said line of San Pablo avenue, and running thence northerly parallel with and 150 feet distant from said line of San Pablo avenue to a point 150 feet easterly from the easterly line of Adeline street measured at a right angle to said line of Adeline street, thence northerly parallel to and distant 150 feet from said line of Adeline street to a point 150 feet distant easterly from and measured at a right angle to the easterly line of Lowell street, thence northerly parallel with and distant 150 feet from said line of Lowell street to the southern boundary of the Town of Berkeley, thence westerly following the southern boundary of the Town of Berkeley to its intersection with the northern boundary of the City of Oakland, and thence easterly along said boundary of the City of Oakland to the beginning.

We hereby further certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that the number of inhabitants within said proposed boundaries and limits of said proposed municipal corporation and in said proposed municipal corporation is 1,000.

We, the undersigned, further hereby certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that we and each of us are qualified electors of the County of Alameda, State of California, and are residents within the limits and boundaries of said proposed municipal corporation as said limits and boundaries are hereinbefore described and set forth.

We, the undersigned, therefore pray that the said territory hereinbefore referred to and designated, the boundaries of which are hereinbefore particularly described and set forth, be incorporated under the provision of an Act entitled "An Act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13th, 1883, and the amendments thereto.

AN OPEN TOURNAMENT.

The Brunswick-Balke People Want a Big Billiard Contest.

Playing to Be Conducted Six Days at New York and Chicago.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. has made the following proposition for an international billiard tournament and in the event of this not materializing, an offer for a tournament confined to American players.

"We will give a purse of $7500 for prizes to be contested for in two six-night tournaments, one at New York City and one at Chicago, at 14 or 18-inch balkline, one shot in balk, anchor barred, six hundred points each game. It is stipulated that at least two of the three leading American players, Ives, Schaeffer and Slosson, shall take part in the tournament and that two of the leading French players shall also enter, but the tournament is not restricted to those four entries. The entries will close on November 21st.

"In case this proposition does not meet with the responses we hope for, we will make another offer to American professional players only. We will give $5000 as prizes for two tournaments, one at New York City and one at Chicago, provided that no less than two of the three leading players, Ives, Schaeffer and Slosson, take part, and also that not less than five players in all compete in each tournament, but the entries are not to be limited to that number."

FRATERNAL NEWS

Grand Army Men Preparing a Memorial to Dr. Root.

ODD FELLOWS IN SESSION.

They Assemble in Their Grand Encampment at Santa Cruz.

MASONS HOLD THEIR ELECTION

Notes of Many Meetings and Gossip of the Lodges.

With the exception possibly of the generals of the army and the President of the United States, there was no person more widely known and more heartily esteemed in loyal territory during the war of the rebellion than was Dr. George F. Root, of the then musical firm of Root & Cady of Chicago.

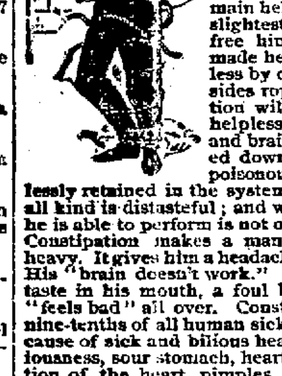

The doctor died a few years ago and the announcement of his death brought again before the people the name of the composer who, during the great struggle to put down secession, had, by his inspiration sung Federal armies into victory as he had also solaced at home those bereaved by the price that had been paid for those brilliant but bloody achievements.

It was Dr. Root who gave to the world these stirring songs which, it may be remarked, will endure as long as a hero of the late struggle survives, namely: "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," "Yes, We'll Rally 'Round the Flag," "Just Before the Battle, Mother," "The Vacant Chair," "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag," and a number of other compositions, which were sung from the center to the circumference of the continent. The last mentioned piece was intended to embalm in memory the last words of a gallant young soldier, Colonel Mulligan, commander of the 9th Illinois regiment of volunteers, words spoken on the field at Winchester when he was stricken down by the enemy's bullet. As his men raised him for the purpose of bearing him off the field, he made use of those words, "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag." The music to which these words and the sentiment which they inspired were adapted did not have the martial ring that many of Root's other works had, for the reason that the subject called for a less demonstrative treatment. It was, however, effective and brought tears to the eyes of both auditors and singers when it was sung in thousands of homes in the great State which had sent the young soldier to the war. The song was all the more effective in that it showed how carefully Mulligan had treasured in his heart the pledge he had made when, before an assemblage of Chicago's leading citizens of the day, he accepted that same stand of colors which was committed to his care by a beautiful young lady who subsequently became noted in relief work among the soldiers. Mulligan pledged himself to defend the banner with the last thought of his mind and the last drop of blood in his heart. That promise he fulfilled to the letter because it was borne out by the words he uttered when stricken unto death and when the advance of the enemy seemed imminent, namely, "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag."

It is fitting that such men as Dr. Root should be remembered, and it is especially appropriate that his memory should be perpetuated by the men whose sufferings, daring, valor and success he sang as has no other contemporaneous composer sung of the late war or of any other war in history.

The members of the Grand Army are not wealthy. Few of them can give more than that which is necessary to bear the minimized expenses of membership in their order and to offer assistance to needy brethren. And yet, in the East, they have undertaken the erection, at Sheffield, Massachusetts, the birthplace of Root, a white marble building in memory of the composer. The G. A. R. posts in that section have assessed their members 10 cents per head for the purpose of raising a fund to be contributed toward the purpose in view. It is expected that $25,000 will be raised for the work. Geo. H. Thomas Post of San Francisco has voted $40 toward the fund. It has not yet been decided what Oakland's Posts will do in the premises, but there is no fear that they will allow the occasion to pass without doing something in the premises.

In this connection the Tribune has been requested to make the suggestion to the several posts of the G. A. R. in this vicinity that the occasion offers an excellent opportunity of teaching the present generation the songs which thrilled the nation a generation ago. These war melodies are now sung at intervals, but many of them have never been heard by thousands of boys and girls whose patriotism will in no measure be lessened by the effort. An entertainment could be given in the Tabernacle with cheaply prepared or borrowed scenery to represent the fireside, scenes in the field, in prison, the plantation and other places and with these as the background for the effective tableaux suggested by the stories told by the several ballads, the vocal numbers and choruses could be rendered with an effect never felt here befor. There is not one of those pieces that does not suggest either a stirring or pathetic scene with a side light at plantation life, thus affording scope for a great display of variety of talent. The primary object would be a revival of those great war ballads, the next the raising of funds for the needy soldier during the coming winter, and finally, the appropriation of a small contribution to the Root monument fund. If all the Posts and Corps were to take hold of this matter there is no doubt that all the talent and military assistance required to carry out the idea could be secured gratis.

You wouldn't think much of a man who remained tied when he had a knife in his hands, would you? He would be foolish to remain helpless when the slightest effort would free him. A man is made helpless and useless by other things besides ropes. Constipation will make a man helpless. His muscles and brain are so weighed down with impure, poisonous matter, uselessly retained in the system, that effort of all kind is distasteful; and what little work he is able to perform is not of good quality. Constipation makes a man sluggish and heavy. It gives him a headache, most likely. His "brain doesn't work." He has a bad taste in his mouth, a foul breath, and he "feels bad" all over. Constipation causes nine-tenths of all human sickness. It is the cause of sick and bilious headaches, of biliousness, sour stomach, heart-burn, palpitation of the heart, pimples, blotches, indigestion and dyspepsia. It can be cured just as easily as a rope may be cut. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will do it. They will do it without producing any harmful effect on the rest of the system. They are not violent in their action. They merely assist Nature. They will restore the healthy, natural action of the digestive organs. You don't become a slave to their use. You stay cured when you are cured. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative; two a mild cathartic. Get them at druggists. Nothing else is "just as good."

HEALTH FOR NOTHING.—If you knew more about your body and its needs you would be sick less often and less seriously. You may have this knowledge free. If you will send 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, we will send you post-paid, a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This 1,008-page, illustrated, medical work contains more information about the human body in health and disease than any other medical book printed in the English language. If you would like to have a copy bound in fine, French cloth, send ten cents additional (thirty-one cents in all). World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Portugese Emblem.

In view of the prominence given to the Portuguese Union of this State, as a consequence of the recent grand lodge meeting in Pleasanton in this county, the following interpretation of the badge of the order which has heretofore not been understood, may be of interest:

The badge is historic, patriotic and benevolent. On it is found a square rigged ship of the fifteenth century, indicative of Vasso Di Gama's exploration from eastern to western lands. Above the ship's masts are arranged two unfurled flags, one of the land of Portugal, the other of the adopted country of the members. The rays of the setting sun are spread over the Golden West. The upper part of the emblem bears the initials U. P. D. C., which in Portuguese signify Uniao Portugueza do Estado California, and translated means Portuguese Union, State of California. This is a beneficiary society, whose motto is Union, Protection and Charity.

Masonic.

The intimation conveyed in these columns a week ago with reference to the outcome of the election of some of the grand officers of the Masonic Grand Lodge of this State, which was held on last Friday has been verified.

Geo. Johnson has been re-elected grand secretary, a position which he has filled with ability for several years and which there is little doubt he will continue to fill in the same manner for many years to come. The office of grand secretary in the Masonic order is one which is changed only after long intervals, and then only for cause, in the majority of cases it is death which removes the incumbent from his place. It is a fact that after a long series of years of arduous and successful labor the original grand secretary of the Masonic order in this State, Alex Abell, was elected for the last time while he was on his death bed and, after he had served the order for more than a generation. He died shortly after he had been notified of his last election. In the history of the order in California there have been only three grand secretaries, and Mr. Johnson is the man who is third in line. He is still a young man and there is every reason to hope that he will long retain the position which thus far he has adorned.

The new junior grand warden, Charles L. Patton of San Francisco, a portrait of whom appeared in the Tribune of a week ago on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home at Decoto. Mr. Patton holds the position of president of the Board of Directors of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home. He has discharged the duties of that office in a very capable manner and as a consequence has been given a position which is in line with that of the highest office in the gift of the Masonic order in this State. Mr. Patton has many friends outside the Masonic order in this State and they as well as his brother Masons, are pleased with the preferment which has been conferred upon him.

LIVE OAK LODGE.

The second degree will be conferred in Live Oak Lodge No. 61, F. & A. M., tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The third degree will be conferred October 30th.

Order of Eastern Star.

At the twenty-fourth annual session of the grand chapter, order of Eastern Star, which assembled in San Francisco last Tuesday, ninety-four chapters regularly organized and fourteen chapters under dispensation were represented.

The report of Mary T. Dean, the grand treasurer, showed that the order is now in a better financial condition than it has been since the organization.

Knights of Pythias.

Tomorrow night the Page Rank will be conferred in a manner unprecedented in the history of the organization in this city. Many new features will be introduced. Prof. J. N. Bonham promises a surprise of a musical character. All members of the order, especially sojourning Knights who have never had the privilege of witnessing the elaborate manner in which Oakland lodge confers that rank should avail themselves of this opportunity to be present.

Oakland lodge No. 103, at its session last Friday night, received the report of the committee on investigation on the application of Stranger Carlson. The report was of a favorable nature and the stranger was balloted for and elected.

As is usual with the conventions of this lodge, a large number of the brethren were present, and, under the head of "Good of the Order" a flow of reason, wit and humor prevailed.

AT ST. HELENA.

Pluto lodge, K. of P., acquitted itself nobly as a host Saturday evening week, when it entertained nearly fifty Knights from Suisun, Napa and elsewhere, says the St. Helena Star. The third degree was conferred on Esquire Hazen by a team of twenty Knights from Suisun, and as a compliment to him the band boys turned out and escorted Pluto lodge to the depot to meet the visiting brethren. There were twenty members from Suisun lodge, fourteen from Napa, Past Grand Chancellor Morrison of San Francisco and a number from Oakland. At the banquet which followed the exercises a speech was made by Julius Fransden of this city.

Grand Orient.

Alameda Council, No. 1, Order of the Grand Orient, held a very enthusiastic meeting last Friday night. After the Council had been opened in due Oriental form, the grand herald announced that there were several weary pilgrims clamoring at the outward gates for permission to enter and receive the Oriental degree.

The grand padishah requested the grand medical examiner, Dr. J. F. Fearn, to retire and satisfy himself as to the physical qualifications of the applicants for Oriental honors. The examinations having proved satisfactory, the grand herald then introduced Pilgrim C. A. Wakefield of Pride of Butte Lodge of Chico; Larimer of Piedmont, No. 172; Squires, Hansen, McDonald and Dickson of No. 103, who were instructed in the impressive ritualistic lessons of the order.

Alameda Council contemplates tendering its members another one of its pleasant social entertainments and banquets. The banquet will be got up under the supervision of Prince J. H. Moon of Alameda Council, No. 1.

Rathbone Sisters.

Calanthe Temple, No. 6, Order of R. S., at its convention last Thursday, initiated one candidate and received two applications for membership.

Calanthe Temple is one of the most progressive temples in the grand jurisdiction.

Applications for membership are being received at nearly every one of its sessions. Its reputation as an entertainer is an excellent one. Its experimental period is a thing of the past, and the light of prosperity illuminates its horoscope of futority.

Native Sons.

Grand Vice President Clark will officially visit the parlors, N. S. G. W., of the county during the early part of next month, as follows: Alameda, No. 47; Oakland, No. 50; Las Positas, No. 96; Eden, No. 113; Piedmont, No. 120; Wisteria, No. 127; Halcyon, No. 146; Brooklyn, No. 151; Athens, No. 195.

A volume which will be of a great deal of interest to present and future officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West is that which is now in course of preparation, and which will be distributed by Grand Secretary Lunstedt early next month. It will contain a digest of the decisions rendered by the different grand presidents from the time of the meeting of the Grand Parlor, in 1878, up to those rendered at the meeting of the Grand Parlor which was held recently in San Luis Obispo.

Athens Parlor, No. 195, N. S. G. W., held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening, a large attendance being present.

An application was received from F. A. Leeb Jr., which was allowed to take its regular course.

A new Ninth of September Committee was appointed by President Maloney to serve until May, 1897, consisting of Ben F. Woolner, H. B. Belden and C. D. Maloney.

Santa Rosa is already in the field for the next Admission Day celebration. Many of the San Francisco parlors have interested themselves in the matter, and will assist the Santa Rosa people in their endeavor to secure the prize.

Order Star of Bthlehem.

The officers of Star of the West Lodge, S. of B., No. 15, of San Francisco, were recently installed by Deputy A. Karlson, Sir R. H. Larson, Sir L. A. Everson and Ladies M. E. Mullin and E. Adams of Star of Truth Lodge, No. 19, O. S. B., of this city.

Red Men

Tecumseh Tribe, No. 62, has changed its night of meeting from Friday to Monday. This change took place last Monday night, and was made for the accommodation of members whose occupations and whose membership in other organizations rendered Friday evening inconvenient.

Several applications for membership were handed to the chief of records at the last council meeting. A social time is expected at the next meeting, the 26th inst. All Red Men are invited.

Pawnee Tribe, No. 67, of Alameda, conferred the hunter's, warrior's and chief's degrees Thursday evening last.

GRAY EAGLE TRIBE.

District Deputy Great Sachem William G. Robinson visited Gray Eagle Tribe, No. 65, at its council meeting on the 14th inst. He reports an active and improved condition of all the tribes in his district. The warrior's and chief's degree will be conferred on three applicants by Gray Eagle Tribe next Wednesday evening.

POCAHONTAS DEGREE.

Wyoming Council, No. 16, Degree of Pocahontas, I. O. R. M., is holding weekly meetings and steadily increasing its membership.

Last Monday evening, two pale faces were adopted into the council. About twenty members of Minnewawa Council of Elmhurst were present and helped to make the evening one of interest.

Catholic Ladies' Aid Society.

The C. L. A. S. will hold its election of officers Monday evening, October 26th, at Y. M. I. Hall, 1058 Broadway.

Odd Fellows.

The forty-second session of the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows is in session in Santa Cruz. The report of Grand Patriarch George W. Reid of Santa Cruz showed a net gain of 100 members during the past year. There are eighty-eight subordinate encampments in the order in this State and of these seventy-three had been visited by the grand patriarch.

These encampments have a membership of 5,380, which represents a gain of 160 members over the number of last year. During the past year, there was expended for the relief of patriarchs $19,299.05, for the relief of widows $565, for burial purposes $2,934, for charitable purposes $928.40, making a total of $23,725.45. The assets of the subordinate encampments amount to $152,597, which represents an average of $29 per member.

The report of the grand treasurer showed a balance on hand of $1,403.

The report of Grand Representatives Downs and Roesch, who attended the Sovereign Grand Lodge at Dallas, Texas, showed that the growth of the Rebekah order throughout the country had been phenomenal during the past year, the increase in membership in the auxiliary order being 37,854. The report also showed that there are included with the Supreme Grand Lodge jurisdiction 800,000 lodges, 130,000 encampments and 254,000 Rebekah lodges. The total revenue from these lodges amounted to $8,500,000, while the amount disposed of in charity reached $3,500,000. The order owns 3,000 buildings valued at $12,000,000. Throughout the world's jurisdiction of the order, there are, as was shown, twenty-six homes for orphans, widows and aged Odd Fellows.

At yesterday's session, a per capita tax of 10 cents was levied for the maintenance of the Odd Fellows' Home of this State at Thermalito.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: J. T. Doran, grand patriarch; C. S. Erlewine, grand high priest; J. W. Harris, grand senior warden; William H. Barnes (re-elected), grand scribe; George W. Lamont (re-elected), grand treasurer; Joseph Foster, grand junior warden; George W. Reid, grand representative; H. S. Winn, F. A. Week and W. S. Potter (re-elected), trustees.

The next Grand Encampment will be held at Los Angeles.

In the competitive drill of cantons, Patriarchs Militant, three cantons took part, namely, Sacramento, No. 1; San Francisco, No. 5, and Oakland, No. 11. Oakland Canton required 20½ minutes, San Francisco 23 minutes and Sacramento 21 minutes to go through the evolutions.

A decision has not as yet been rendered as to which canton will bear off the trophy, which is valued at $500, independently of a purse of $400 raised by the Odd Fellows of Santa Cruz.

Among the members of the staff of Brigadier General Crossett who were present were Major George Kirk and Major F. B. Ogden of his city.

ELDERLY ODD FELLOWS.

Speaking about elderly members of the Order of Odd Fellows, reference to whom was made in these columns several weeks ago, Secretary Barnes of the Veteran Odd Fellows' Association has something to say. In the Tribune was published a paragraph to the effect that a member of the order in Decoto in this county, named James W. Hawley, claimed to be the oldest member of the order in the State, on the ground that he had been for fifty-three years continuously a member of the organization. Mr. Barnes, however, says that he has on his list of members the names of a dozen men who have been in the order for "fifty-six years or more."

If Secretary Barnes will make known those names, as also as to the lodges the owners belong to, and where they were initiated, he will contribute an interesting feature to fraternal work and one that will be greatly appreciated by the members of the Odd Fellows' Society in this county.

Young Men's Institute.

A special session of the Board of Grand Directors, Y. M. I., has been called for November 7th. Every council of San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda has been requested to appoint delegates who are to represent their respective councils at that special session and determine upon the best plan to celebrate the next Y. M. I. day. The next regular meeting of the board will be held November 14th.

OAKLAND COUNCIL.

Next Wednesday evening the eleventh annual ball of Oakland Council, No. 6, will take place at Masonic Hall, Twelfth and Washington streets. The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will have charge of the decorations, which guarantees that they will be both attractive and tasty.

United Workmen.

There will be quite a pleasant time at the meeting of Pacific Lodge, No. 7, this evening. The event will be the initiating of a number of young men as members of the order.

This is the first installment of new members for Pacific Lodge under the new assessment plan, but from the number of applications in sight, it will not be the last.

The candidates for this evening are all young men, one of them being only a little over 18 years of age. The work will be performed by the uniformed drill team, and after the close of the lodge refreshments will be served. Members of the order are generally invited to be present.

The arrangements for the anniversary celebration, which is to be held at the Exposition Building next Tuesday evening, are about completed, and there is no doubt it will be attended by the Workmen and their friends generally.

KEYSTONE LODGE.

No A. O. U. W. lodge in Oakland is in a more prosperous condition than Keystone Lodge, No. 64. Applications for membership are coming in rapidly. The officers of the lodge are kept busy initiating candidates, and the drill team frequently renders its services.

Financier J. G. Poorman forgot his music last week, but made amends for his forgetfulness with an eloquent address, full of wit, humor and common sense.

Master Workman Henry Schwerz, Recorder Geo. S. Johnson and others made interesting remarks.

Past Master J. D. Taylor's speech on "Insurance" was loudly applauded. He spoke at length upon the importance of members becoming more interested in the social and fraternal part of the organization, concluding with three friendly suggestions to new members as follows: "Look before you leap, choose for your investment an order that is vigorously and honestly conducted in all its departments and in which the relation of surplus to liability justifies the expectation of stability and security. The A. O. U. W., with 363,000 members, speaks for itself.

"And do not overleap. Take no more insurance than your depending anticipation of income makes it more than probable you can maintain.

"Stick. When you have joined your order, stand firm. For your family's sake, for your character's sake, for truth's sake, do not break the contract. Let your motto be, 'The beneficiary, it must and shall be preserved'."

The Entertainment Committee reported that the Tabernacle had been secured for next Tuesday evening, October 27th, at which time a fine programme will be carried out.

OAK LEAF LODGE.

Oak Leaf Lodge, No. 53, A. O. U. W., had an excellent attendance at its meeting last Monday evening.

Two new members were initiated into the mysteries of the junior workman degree, the past master workman officiating with his customary ability and impressiveness.

Past Master Cogan, chairman of the Special Committee on Celebration, reported that the programme for the celebration had been completed, and that the entertainment to be given at the Exposition Hall (Mills Tabernacle) next Tuesday evening, in honor of the twenty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the order, would be the grandest in the history of the A. O. U. W. of Alameda County.

The master workman appointed Brothers McAllister, Jacobsen, Harris, Larrabee and Preston to act as ushers at the celebration entertainment.

Past Master Workman Preston read an interesting paper on an economic question, which was greatly appreciated.

After lodge closed, Brother Cogan, chairman of the initiating team, had the members of the team go through some practice work, which they did in a very creditable manner.

Next Monday evening three new members will take the workman degree.

Oak Leaf initiatory team will also have the screen work included on this occasion in the initiatory rites and ceremonies.

Companions of the Forest.

The regular meeting of Loyal Circle, No. 323, C. O. F., held last Thursday evening, was largely attended. Three new companions were initiated into this new circle, which is only four months old and consists of very sociable and agreeable members. It already has thirty-five names on the roll and two new applications are on the table. If this circle prospers as well in the future as it has in the past, there is a chance that it will become the banner circle of Alameda County in ritualistic and secret work.

After the meeting, refreshments were served, consisting of coffee and cake. Games were played until a late hour, a new game being introduced by the treasurer, Mrs. N. C. Noblett, entitled "The Horse Game," which created a great amount of laughter.

Degree of Honor.

Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. W. J. Masters will visit Dawn of Hope Lodge D. of H. on the 31st inst.

IVY LODGE.

Ivy Lodge No. 4 Degree of Honor A. O. U. W. initiated a new member Wednesday evening.

Three applications for membership were received.

Grand Recorder Mrs. Poland announced that the Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Masters would leave this week from Los Angeles on a visit to all the different Degree of Honor Lodges in her jurisdiction and that on Wednesday evening, November 18th she will visit this city.

The Grand Chief of Honor will visit Silver Star Lodge, Temescal, next Thursday evening; Minerva Lodge, Alameda, Friday, October 30th and Dawn of Hope Lodge, West Oakland, Saturday, October 31st.

Brother Ingler stated that he and Sister Ingler will leave this week on a trip to Los Angeles where they will sojourn for several weeks. The affable brother said he would make it his duty to visit the different Degree of Honor Lodges in the southern part of the State and give them Ivy Lodge's greeting.

Brother Cogan spoke upon the true meaning of fraternity and in an eloquent speech, requested the members of Ivy Lodge to visit sister lodges whenever they have the opportunity and try to encourage them to continue in the good work.

The brother's remarks had such effect that a delegation immediately agreed to meet Friday night at five minutes past 8 o'clock and take the Alameda car at Broadway and Eleventh street on a visit to Minerva Lodge, Alameda.

The new by-laws were read and adopted and the Committee which framed them, Sister Macdonald and Brothers Poland and Mitchell was discharged with thanks.

Brother Lissner gave into the charge of the Chief of Honor a beautiful gold emblematic pin to be presented to the sister bringing in the largest number of members before the end of the year.

Brother Lissner, Sister Reichman, Sister Oakes, and Sister Butler were appointed the New Attraction Committee for next Wednesday evening.

The regular Monthly Social Committee, Sisters Murray, Mitchell, Marks, McAlister, Preston, Brothers Marks and Isaacs promise a good programme for Social Night Wednesday evening, November 4th.

After the lodge adjourned, the Drill Team went through a number of exercises under the supervision of Sister and Brother Poland, Brother Hall officiating as organist.

PRUDENT "PEGGY."

A Lively Horse With a Lot of Sound Intelligence.

"Peggy" is the plain blunt name of a mare housed at the Dashaway Stables on Eleventh street, near Franklin street, and for common sense and good judgment she leads every horse in town. She is a favorite with the patrons of the stable. The other day Peggy was driven to San Leandro. The man who drove went into a restaurant and forgot all about the unhitched team. When he came out it was gone. He searched high and low but without success. Late at night he returned to the stables only to find that Peggy had come home on her own account foot safe and buggy sound. This is only one of Peggy's samples of intelligence.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Caution! Many unscrupulous dealers are selling ordinary Glauber Salt, or a mixture of Seidlitz Powder and Salt, under the name of "German Salt," "Sprudel Salt," "Artificial Sprudel Salt," or under other similar names, upon the reputation of the genuine products of the Carlsbad Springs. The public is warned against the purchase of any of these imitations. The genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is produced from the Sprudel Spring at Carlsbad, under the direct supervision of the City Council. Each bottle bears the seal of the City of Carlsbad and the signature of "EISNER & MENDELSON Co., Sole Agents for the United States," on every bottle. None other is genuine.

UP-TO-DATE PHOTOGRAPHY.

Nearly every one knows that Oakland is a leading city for fine photographs, but possibly there are a few people that still go to San Francisco for their pictures. PANIC REIGNS IN THE WHEAT MARKET.

Six More Points Lost Today in San Francisco, Making a Total of Twenty-Three Since Monday.

CHICAGO TRADERS CRAZED WITH EXCITEMENT.

Wild Efforts to Sell and the Bottom Falls Completely Out of the Market.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Following the drop in price in Chicago wheat, the local market took a sudden drop again today, declining six points during the morning sessions of the Produce Exchange.

This is a fall of thirteen points since yesterday morning and a fall of twenty-three points since Monday.

The excitement continued at the Call Board room this morning, and prices were hammered down a point at a time.

Eleven thousand tons of wheat changed hands up to noon.

December wheat closed yesterday at $1.39½ per cental, opened today at $1.39, sold as low as $1.32, closing at noon at $1.33½.

May closed yesterday at $1.43½, opened today at $1.43, high at $1.43½, closed at noon at $1.37.

Since the close of the noon session at San Francisco, a curb quotation at Chicago was received, giving a rise of ⅝ per cent.

The bulls are confident that the market will be firmer.

CHICAGO'S PANIC.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Wheat took another downward plunge this morning.

Opening trades for December options were made from 73⅞@74¼c, the highest figure paid being exactly a cent under yesterday's closing.

It sold immediately down to 73½c, rallied slowly to 73¾, then started on a rapid and nervous decline to 72½.

Various influences contributed to the weakness, the chief being the tightness of the money market.

December wheat closed yesterday at 75¼c, finished today at 70½.

It is not often a price runs such a sensationally sudden collapse.

Stop loss orders were in the hands of every commission man who had customers long on wheat and when the decline came early today it caught most of these.

It was practically impossible to execute the stop loss orders, at any given figure and the result was an almost unanimous rush to sell.

Close, wheat, October, 67½; December, 70½. Corn, October, 22@22⅛; December, 23¾. Oats, October, 17⅛; December, 18⅛.

The closing 15 minutes on change were marked by scenes of almost unparalleled excitement.

In that brief period the price of December option which had been tumbling around 73¼@73⅝c in an uncertain fashion for som time, fell to 70¼c, the lowest point of the day.

The latest decline occurred within five minutes.

Liquidations had been going on a large scale all day.

The fact that Armour was offering large lots of cash wheat was costrued as meaning there was no immediate prospect of improvement in the money market.

About 1 o'clock Cudahy's wheat began to go over. It was the last straw.

In a minute the wheat pit, which had been lively enough before, was in a perfect pandemonium.

Wheat was thrown on the market in a perfect deluge.

From 73c to 72c, which drop occurred in almost less time than it takes to chronicle it, it was impossible to sell a bushel.

Down the price went until 71¼c had been reached.

Then the market quieted for an instant.

But it was the calm before the storm.

Away it went again and in the closing minutes the market was in a perfect panic.

Noone wanted to by, everyone wanted to sell and a minute before closing December was offered at 70¼c.

As the closing bell rang out, 7½c was being quoted.

EXCITEMENT IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—On the Produce Exchange this afternoon, a sensational drop of prices startled the whole trade and completely demoralized the wheat pit.

Prices slid down the scale a quarter to a half at a time, wheat selling off nearly 4 cents in half an hour.

The close was very nervous at 77½ for December.

DULL IN LONDON.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—At the Baltic today cargo wheat market was dull at opening, with sellers generally offering at a shilling less than yesterday and no bids.

It was reported the Berlin wheat market opened with free offerings at three marks down and the market was steady at a decline.

LIVERPOOL REPORT.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 22.—Wheat today opened with fair business at 1½d decline.

After recovering ½@⅝d it returned to opening prices, finally closed excitedly with a decline of 3@3½d in sympathy with the American market.

IN PARIS.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Flour and wheat opened here today with free offering at 50 centimes per hundred kilos under yesterday's prices, but recovered 25 centimes toward the close of the market.

MURDERED BY SAVAGES.

Details of the Massacres at the Soloman Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Details of the Salmon Island massacre were brought here today by the steamer Oceanic from Australia.

The victims of the savages were members of a party of Austrians taken to the islands by the Alstrian man-of-war Albatross.

The party was under the leadership of Henry Baron Foullon Von Norbeck, the Austrian scientist.

Baron Von Norbeck and three others were killed.

Another of the party was fatally wounded and six were dangerously wounded.

The Fight Ended by Their Fainting Through Loss of Blood.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Kato Nishamto and Harry Nismato, Japanese, and cousins, fought a bloody duel today at their boarding house.

Harry got off better, but his body is covered with wounds and gashes.

The row began over payment of a debt and Harry used a big butcher knife, while Koto wielded a Japanese naval sword.

Both fainted from loss of blood but they may recover.

SAVING A STEAMER.

The Umatilla to Be Docked and Put in Commission Again.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 22.—The steamer Umatilla, which recently went ashore at Point Wilson, finished discharging its cargo this morning and left for Quartermaster Harbor in tow of two tugs, where she will be docked and repaired.

Eight pumps are continually discharging water to prevent the vessel from sinking.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

A Brilliant Scene at the Pageant at Santa Cruz.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 22.—The parade of Odd Fellows this morning was the largest ever witnessed here.

Hundreds of spectators lined the sidewalks as the procession moved along Pacific avenue.

Grand Marshal Frank Mattison and aids Lieut. A. A. Morey and M. C. Hopkins.

In the procession were General J. F. Crossett and Col. W. H. Sherburne with their staffs mounted.

The Patriarchs Militant with flashing swords and waving plumes were represented by Cantons from San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland and Stockton.

Besides the Grand Encampment their subordinate encampments from Santa Cruz and Watsonville, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from all parts of the county were in line, also the young ladies drill corps.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A Car Inspector Killed While at Work in Los Angeles.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 22.—Moses B. Morey, a car inspector of the terminal Railway Company was killed in the switch yards of the company this morning by being run over by a freight car.

He was working underneath the car and failed to put out a flag.

The switch engine backed a number of cars on the switch which bumped against the car underneath which Morey was.

THE LAWS OF CURRENCY.

A Stirring Address to the Students of Princeton University.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22.—Fair weather today made the exercises of the Zusqui Centennial Anniversary Day doubly enjoyable.

The presence of the President of the United States had the effect of increasing the already large crowd in town.

Alexander Hall in which the ceremonies were held, was packed almost to suffocation, when Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler of Brooklyn began the exercises with a simple, heartfelt prayer for the continuation to Princeton University of the prosperity it enjoyed under the title of the College of New Jersey.

Before the beginning of the celebration, the Philadelphia City troop assembled at the home of President Patton, where President Cleveland had been the guest over night and escorted the head of the nation on foot through the University grounds to Alexander Hall.

Mrs. Cleveland was driven in an open carriage, under the escort of Mrs. Patton, to the hall.

Delegates representing institutions of learning all over the world and the faculty assembled at Marquand Chapel and clad in their academic gowns, made their impressive march to Alexander Hall, preceding President Cleveland.

After Dr. Cuyler's prayer Dr. Patton made the formal announcement that what was formerly the College of New Jersey will henceforth and forever be known as Princeton University.

A scene of wonderful enthusiasm followed.

Dr. Patton then announced the endowment fund received, amounting to nearly a million and a half dollars, not including amounts contributed for Blair Hall by John I. Blair and the new library.

The ceremony of conferring degrees on sixty-five men elected for that honor was next on the programme.

President Patton desired to confer the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Mr. Cleveland, but the President modestly declined the honor.

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon a large number of European college professors and scholars, including Karl Brugmann of the University of Leipsic; Edward Dowden, Trinity College, Dublin; Andrew Seth University of Edinburgh; Goldwin Smith of Toronto and Joseph J. Thompson, University of Cambridge.

Among Americans similarly honored are: Joseph B. Angell, University, Michigan; William Gardner Hale, University of Chicago; William T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education; Joseph L. Cole, University of California; Seth Lowe, Columbia University, New York City.

The Degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred, among others, upon Rev. Morgan Dix, New York; Bishop John F. Hurst, Washington, D. C., Rev. S. J. Niccolls, St. Louis; Rev. Professor M. B. Riddle, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Upon the following, among others, the Degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred: Richard Watson Gilder, Augustus St. Gaudens, Horace E. Schurder, Charles Dudley Warner.

The honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws was also conferred in Absentia upon Lord Kelvin, the Scottish naturalist and Otto Struve, formerly Director of the Observatory of Pulkowa, Russia.

Next came the principal event of the day,—the address by the President of the United States.

CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen—As those in different occupations and with different training each see most plainly in the same landscape a view of those features which are mostly nearly related to their several habitual environments, so in our contemplation of an event or occasion, each individual especially observes and appreciates in the light his mode of thought supplies such of its features and incidents as are most in harmony with his mental situation.

"Today, while all of us warmly share the general enthusiasm and felicitation which pervade this assemblage, I am sure its various suggestions and meanings assume a prominence in our receptive fields of mental vision, dependent upon their relation to our experience and condition.

"Those charged with the management and direction of the educational advantages of this noble institution most plainly see, with well-earned satisfaction, proofs of its growth and usefulness and

SPOILED A PLOT.

An Attempt to Overthrow the Manchus in China.

BOLD PLANS WERE LAID.

Kidnapping Arranged for the Viceroy of Canton.

THE SUSPECTS IMPRISONED.

One of Them Believed to Be at the London Legation.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Globe publishes a startling story of the alleged kidnapping and imprisonment of a Chinaman at the Chinese Legation here.

The newspapers says he Chinese Government learned in November last there existed a conspiracy to seize the Viceroy of Canton as the first step towrads the overthrow of the present Manchu Dynasty.

The plot was disclosed by the premature importation of 400 coolies to Canton from Hong Kong to assist in the capture of the Viceroy, which aroused suspicion.

Some leaders were arrested and confessed.

One, a doctor named Sun Yatsen, escaped to America and thence made his way to London.

This doctor, it is alleged, has been missing since Saturday a week ago.

Some of his English friends claim they learned he was imprisoned at the Chinese Legation having been seized by a couple of Chinese at the Foreign Office.

The Scotland Yards authorities have been notified and detectives are watching the Chinese Legation to prevent the removal of the Doctor.

Friends have applied for a writ of habeas corpus but it is doubted whether the writ is applicable at the Legation.

MORE MASSACRES

The Slaughter of Armenians Being Renewed In Turkey.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—News received here from Eastern Anatolia says that widespread fear exists of a renewal of massacres.

In the middle of September Kurds from the Kharput district overran the Vilayet Sivas, destroyed and looted six Armenian villages, killing a number of the inhabitants.

The village of Pinguian had 200 houses burned and sixty inhabitants massacred.

It is further stated that a woman committed suicide by jumping into the Euphrates to escape the brutality of the Kurds.

THE CZAR IS WELL.

He Sends Word That He Is Enjoying a Good Rest.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Grand Duke Vladimer today received the following despatch from the Czar who is at Darmstadt.

"We are enjoying a well earned rest under the hospitable roof of Tyrants of Hesse. (Signed.) 'NIKI.'"

The French newspapers assert this telegram throws valuable light upon the condition of the Czar's spirits and proves his brain is not haunted by grave considerations after talking with Emperor William of Germany at Weisbaden.

CASTLE SENDS WORD TO HIS FRIENDS.

He Repeats His Protests of Innocence and Says He Will Come Out of the Fire Unscathed.

HIS WIFE STILL IN A DISTRESSFUL CONDITION.

Baroness Hirsch Has Given Him $5000 for a San Francisco Hospital.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The officials of the United States Embassy have received a letter from Mr. Walter Castle of San Francisco who with his wife is under $250,000 bail pendening approaching trial, at Clerkenwell Sessions on a charge of stealing furs and other articles from various stores in this city.

In the communication Mr. Castle expresses deep gratitude for all they and the other officials as well as friends of the family in America, have done in his behalf.

Castle says: "Never during my long business career, has there been the slightest suspicion or hint against my honor. In my present misfortune I am equally blameless, and by God's help I will remain so in the future."

Continuing, Castle writes: "The most difficult task of my life is to frame words which can in the smallest degree express my feeling of heartfelt gratitude for the kindness showed upon me by the honorable gentlemen of the Embassy and by my seemingly unlimited number of friends in London and America.

"I owe them a debt of gratitude which cannot be liquidated in a life time and the more I think of the loving care with which I have been watched and protected during my days of misfortune, the less can I comprehend how it is possible that a man, comparatively unkown and thousands of miles away from home, can awaken such sympathy and secure the disinterested support of such a large number of prominent people of both great nations."

Later in the day Castle called at the London office of the Associated Press and said he hoped the Associated Press would again convey expressions of his gratitude to his friends in the United States.

Mr. Castle, who was looking as though he had regained health and confidence since his appearance in court Tuesday, told in a straightforward manner the circumstances of the case as already cabled.

He added: "I was leaving England in the best of spirits, had enjoyed my vacation and had at the same time opened important business connections here and on the Continent, which in my opinion would please my brother and help my firm.

I was also taking home to my mother good news in regard to a project which is dear to her heart, namely the Jewish Hospital in San Francisco. I had approached Baroness Hirsch on the subject, and had just received a letter dated Eichborn, Austria, in which the Baroness subscribed $5,000 to Mount Zion Hospital, San Francisco."

Referring to the health of Mrs. Castle, Mr. Castle said: "My wife is in the same condition. There is some one constantly with her, and there can be no doubt as to her unfortunate condition. I think it unnecessary for any doctors or witnesses to come from America."

Sir Edward Clarke, Q. C., formerly Solicitor General, has been retained for the defense of the Castles.

FINANCIAL FIELDS.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Bank of England has advanced the rate of discount from 3 to 4 per cent.

NO CHANGE IN AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, Oct. 22.—At a meeting this morning of the directors of the Austro-Hungarian Bank the discount rate was not changed, the financial situation being satisfactory.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The stock market opened weak and lower in sympathy with the depression of American prices in London and under the favorable influence of an advance to 4 per cent in the Bank of England's minimum discount.

Bulls soon rallied and marked values up sharply all around, despite further advances in quotations for posted and demand for sterling. Sugar was heavily dealt in, and moved up 1¼ per cent respectively. Gould shares were notably firm.

The market continued to display strength till 12 o'clock.

BETRAYED A TRUST.

H. N. Whipple Levants With $355 Odd Fellows Money.

HE WAS THE TREASURER

A Bad Business Investment on San Leandro Road.

HIS DEPARTURE A SURPRISE.

A Warrant for Embezzlement Issued in the Case.

H. W. Whipple, the treasurer of the Elmhurst Lodge of Odd Fellows, has invanted and with his has gone $355 in coin which belonged to the order. A complaint charging him with felony embezzlement has been sworn to and if he is caught every effort will be made to send him to the penitentiary.

The warrant is in the hands of Constable Weldon of East Oakland, who thinks he has a clue to the whereabouts of the missing man. From information received it is believed that he is in Fresno and a messenger has been sent to the officers there to arrest him.

Whipple formerly owned a saloon in Elmhurst, which from its former proprietor is known as "Billy Penn's." It was bought by the lavanting treasurer about six weeks ago and the gorgeousness of the "opening" is still the talk of the San Leandro road. His proprietorship was of short duration, for on the first of this month he sold his interest to his partner and on the 8th harnessed up his horse and drove away.

He took with him a young lad who went about 200 miles, but when Whipple said he intended driving across the desert the boy's courage failed and he returned home.

It was some time before the Elmhurst Odd Fellows could fully realize that they had been robbed for Whipple was well liked in the town and very popular. He spent money with a lavish hand and was good to rich and poor alike. When, however, his order did conceive that it had been his dupe it lost no time in getting the machinery of the law to work. Walter K. Damon swore to the complaint before Justice Lawrence of Brooklyn Township.

Whipple is a single man and about 40 years of age.

Andrus Was Killed While Experimenting With an Invention.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Chief Mangien of the Yonkers police, said today the mystery surrounding the tragic death of Hamlin J. Andrus of Ellington Chemical Co., who was killed by an explosion in his office yesterday, has been explained.

The chief said Andrus had not been killed by anarchists, nor was his death the result of any plot as at first supposed.

After a careful investigation the chief has reached the conclusion Andrus was experimenting with a machine he intended to use on a safe to kill burglars should they attempt to rob the safe.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Editor Marshall of the Alameda "Telegram" in Trouble.

CARPENTER IS AFTER HIM.

The Veterinarian Wants the Articles About Him Investigated.

EXTRACTS COMPLAINED OF

The Doctor's Professional Work Is Given Caustic Criticism.

Dr. Thomas L. Carpenter, the veterinarian of Alameda, has filed a complaint charging E. L. Marshall of Alameda with criminal libel. The document was prepared by District Attorney Snook and a warrant will be served early this afternoon.

The cause of the complaint is an article in the Telegram of Alameda of October 13th, which is edited by Marshall and which reads as follows:

"I was informed yesterday that two gentlemen residing in this city had written to Ontario Veterinarian College which institution the "Hoss Dr." Carpenter claims as his place of graduation, making inquiries as to how long the "Dr." attended that school which is supposed to impart knowledge of the "hoss" and bovines. This is a course that I would not have adopted. If they do not think his record straight, take his actions here. The charge has been made openly that this fellow who draws a salary of $75 per month from the city, and is also an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was paid to do some investigating in a divorce suit in which a trumped up charge was made against a lady in the case in order to humiliate her by association her name with one not of her social standing or learning. Charles Foster refused to do such work as this! The situation of the Veterinary Inspector is evidently not very arduous or the 'hoss Dr.' would not have time to attend to so many irons at the same time. I predict some of them will get burned before he is much older."

This article bears the following heading:

"Persons Interested in the Doctor."

On the 16th of this month, the following article also appeared in the Telegram, and it, too, is complained of as being libelous:

"A friend of mine met H. P. Moreal the other day making a display of an abnormally swelled eye. 'Kicked by a cow?' queried my friend, nodding in the direction of his injured optic, remembering at the same time an item that appeared in these columns saying that a cow who had any respect for herself would not kick the "hoss" doctor Carpenter. 'No,' replied Mr. Moreal laughingly, 'that cow did not kick me. I was hunting for a few days, and a twig of manzanita bush struck me in the eye.' But coming back to the 'Dr.' My friend Louis Schaffer ex-Chief of Police of Oakland, who it is said knows more criminals than any other man in the county, informs me that the 'hoss' doctor was virtually run out of Oakland, and he will queer himself in Alameda if he is given time. By the way, one thing struck me very forcibly, and that was Mr. Schaffer did not mince his words a bit. He says if the 'hoss' doctor gives him half a show, he will tell him more to his 'teeth.' I know Mr. Schaffer pretty well and will bank on him doing just as he says he will do. Detective John Perren also tells some good stories on the 'hoss' doctor that are almost too good to keep. They may find their way in print before the 'Dr.' is much older."

MULLER AND TYE.

All in Readiness for the Great Contest This Evening.

Everything is in readiness for the Acme's entertainment at the Tabernacle tonight and much interest is being manifested in the affair. The bout between Muller of the Manhattan Club and Tye of the Acme will be the principal event. The men are evenly matched, both are plucky and skilful and in the pink of condition, and the victor will have to work for his laurels.

The San Francisco clubs are displaying as much enthusiasm as the local ones and blocks of seats have been sold across the bay.

The entertainment begins at 8:30.

A ROYAL BRIDE.

Princess Helene Makes a State Entry at Rome.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ROME, Oct. 22.—Princess Helene of Montenegro made her state entry into Rome today.

The Princess and relatives arrived at 11 o'clock and were welcomed by King Humbert, Queen Margaret, the Crown Prince, her betrothed husband, ministers, members of the Diplomatic Corps, etc.

The streets to the palace were thronged and gaily decorated.

The procession, composed of twenty royal carriages, was preceded and followed by strong detachments of cuirassiers.

Their majesties and the Princess were continually cheered.

HEAVY TAXES.

The Sultan Is Raising Money and Making Military Preparations.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—An irade has been issued levying a poll tax of five piastres per head on all Mussulmans and increasing the taxes on sheep, public works and education by one to one and a half per cent.

These taxes, with the revenue from five projected monopolies, will, it is estimated, produce 3,200,000 Turkish pounds which will be used for military purposes.

These military preparations in connection with the tone of the Turkish press against the Armenians, have excited comment.

CLEVELAND'S CRITICISM.

its enhanced opportunities for doing good.

"The graduate of Princeton sees the first evidence of greater glory and prestige that have come to his alma mater and the added honor thence reflected upon him, while those still within her student halls see most prominently the promise of increased dignity which awaits their graduation from Princeton University.

"But there are others here, not of the family of Princeton, who see with an interest not to be outdone the signs of her triumphs in fields of higher education and the part she has taken during her long and glorious career in the elevation and betterment of a great people.

"Among those I take an humble place, and as I yield to the influences of this occasion I cannot resist the train of thought which especially reminds me of the promise of national safety and guaranty of prominence of our free institutions which may and ought to radiate from the universities and colleges scattered throughout our land.

"Obviously a Government resting upon the will and universal suffrage of the people has no anchorage except in the people's intelligence.

"While the advantages of collegiate education are by no means necessary to good citizenship, yet a college graduate, found everywhere, cannot smother his opportunities to teach his fellow countrymen and influence them for good, nor hide his talents in a napkin without recreancy to his trust.

"In a nation like ours, charged with the care of numerous and widely varied interests, a spirit of conservatism and toleration is absolutely essential to collegiate training.

"The study of principles, unvexed by distracting and misleading influences, and the correct apprehension of the theories upon which our Republic is established ought to constitute the college graduate a constant monitor, warning against popular rashness and excess.

"The character of our institutions and our National self-interest require a feeling of sincere brotherhood and a disposition to unite in mutual endeavor should pervade our people.

"Our scheme of government in its beginning, was based upon this sentiment and its interruption has never failed and can never fail to grievously menace our National health.

"Who can better caution against passion and bitterness than those who know by thought and study their baneful consequences, and who are themselves within the noble brotherhood of a higher education.

"There are natural laws and economic truths which command implicit obedience and which should unalterably fix the bounds of wholesome popular discussion, and the limits of political strife.

"The knowledge gained in our universities and colleges would be sadly deficient if its beneficiaries were unable to recognize and point out to their fellow citizens these truths and natural laws and to teach the mischievous futility of their non-observance or attempted violation.

"The activity of our people and their restless desire to gather to themselves especial benefits and advantages lead to a growth of unconfessed tendency to regard their Government as a giver of private gifts and to look upon the agencies for its administration as distributors of official places and preferment.

"Those who in the university or college, have had an opportunity to study the mission of our institutions and who in the light of history have learned the danger to the people of their neglect, the patriotic care they owe the national life entrusted to their keeping should be well fitted to constantly admonish their fellow citizens that the usefulness and beneficence of their plan of government can only be preserved through their unselfish and loving support, and their contented willingness to accept in full return the peace, protection and opportunity which it impartially bestows.

"Not more surely do the rules of honesty and good faith fix the standard of individual character in a community than do these same rules determine the character and standing of the nation in the world of civilization.

"Neither the glitter of its power, nor the tinsel of its commercial prosperity nor the gaudy show of its people's wealth can conceal the cankering rust of national dishonesty and the lover of meanness in national bad faith.

"A constant stream of thoughtful, educated men should come from our universities and colleges preaching national honor and integrity and teaching belief in the necessity of political parties, nor do I deny their desirability,

"I recognize wholesome differences of opinion, touching legitimate governmental policies and would by no means control or limit the utmost freedom in their discussion.

"I have only attempted to suggest important patriotic services which our institutions of higher education and their graduates are fitted to render our people, the enforcement of those immutable truths and fundamental principles which are related to our national condition; but should never be dragged into the field of political strife, nor impressed into the service of partisan contention.

"When the excitement of party warfare presses dangerously near our national safeguards, I would have the intelligent conservatism of our universities and colleges warn the contestants in impressive tones against the perils of a breach impossible to repair."

"When popular discontent and passion are stimulated by designing partisans to pitch perilously near class hatred or sectional anger, I would have our universities and colleges sound the alarm in the name of American brotherhood and fraternal dependence.

"When an attempt is made to delude the people into the belief that their suffrages can change the operation of natural laws, I would have our universities and colleges proclaim that those laws are inexorable and far removed from political control.

"When a selfish interest seeks undue private benefit through Governmental aid and public places are claimed as a reward of party service, I would have our Universities and colleges persuade the people to a relinquishment of the demand for party spoils and exhort them to a disinterested and patriotic love of their Government for its own sake and because in its true adjustment and unperverted operation it secures to every citizen his just share of the safety and prosperity it holds in store for all.

"When the design is to allure people from honest thoughts and blind their eyes to the sad plight of National dishonor and bad faith, I would have Princeton University panoplied in her patriotic traditions and glorious memories, and joined by all the other Universities and colleges of our land cry out against the infliction of this treacherous and fatal wound.

"I would have the influence of these institutions on the side of religion and morality.

"I would have those they send out among the people not ashamed to acknowledge God and proclaim his interposition in the affairs of men, enjoining such obedience to His law as makes manifest the path of National perpetuity and prosperity.

"I hasten to concede the good already accomplished by our educated men in purifying and steadying the political sentiment; but I hope I may be allowed to intimate my belief that their work in these directions would be easier and more useful if it was less spasmodic and occasional.

"The disposition of our people is such that, while they may be inclined to distrust those who only on rare occasions come among them from an exclusiveness savoring of assumed superiority, they readily listen to those who exhibit real fellowship and a friendly and habitual interest in all that concerns the common welfare.

"Such a condition of intimacy would, I believe, not only improve the general political atmosphere, but would vastly increase the influence of our Universities and colleges in their efforts to prevent popular delusions or correct them before they reach an acute and dangerous point.

"I am certain, therefore, that a more constant and active participation in political affairs on the part of our men of education would be of the greatest possible value to our own country.

"It is exceedingly unfortunate that politics should be regarded in any quarter as an unclean thing, to be avoided by those claiming to be educated or respectable.

"It would be strange, indeed, if anything relating to the administration of our Government, or the welfare of our Nation, should be essentially degrading.

"I believe it is not a superstitious sentiment that leads to the conviction that God has watched over our National life from its beginning.

"Who will say the things worthy of God's regard and fostering care are unworthy of the touch of the wisest and best of men?

"I would have those sent out by our Universities and colleges not only counsellors of their fellow countrymen, but tribunes of the people—fully appreciating every condition that presses upon their daily life, sympathetic in every untoward situation, quick and earnest in every effort to advance their happiness and welfare and prompt and sturdy in the defense of all their rights.

"I have but imperfectly expressed the thoughts to which I have not been able to deny utterance on an occasion so full of grad significance and so pervaded by the atmosphere of patriotic aspiration.

"Born of these surroundings, the hope cannot be vain that the time is at hand when all our countrymen will more deeply appreciate the blessings of American citizenship, when their disinterested love of their Government will be quickened, when fanaticism and passion shall be banished from the field of politics and when all our people, discarding every difference of condition or opportunity, will be seen under the banner of American brotherhood, marching steadily and unfalteringly on towards the bright heights of our natural destiny."

At the conclusion of the President's address, the entire assemblage arose and sang "America."

Benediction by the Right Rev. Henry Yates Saterlee, Bishop of Washington, D. C., concluded the centennial exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were entertained at lunch at 1 o'clock by President and Mrs. Patton, invitations being issued to the visiting delegates.

Later in the afternoon a reception was given by President and Mrs. Patton to the President and his wife.

Over a thousand invited guests paid their respects to the Chief Executive and Mrs. Cleveland.

This function lasted until 5 P. M., and immediately afterward the President and Mrs. Cleveland were escorted to their special train and the homeward journey to Washington was begun at 5:15 P. M.

MRS. HARTMANN DEAD.

The Wife of the Proprietor of the Crellin Passes to Rest.

Mrs. M. N. Hartmann, the wife of the proprietor of Hotel Crellin, died this morning at 5:15 o'clock. Her death was due to heart disease. She was taken suddenly ill Sunday evening and her symptoms were alarming from the first. Wednesday all hope for her recovery was deemed useless and her children, who lived in distant towns, were hastily summoned.

Death came quietly in the early morning hours.

Mrs. Hartmann was 66 years of age and was born in Hungary. Her husband came to the coast in the early fifties and she soon joined him. He has always been in the hotel business and with his wife's assistance has managed some of the largest hostelries on the coast. He has been connected with the old and new Oriental of Walla Walla, Washington, the big hotel at Salt Lake, Utah, the Lick House of San Francisco, the old Grand Central and Weber House of this city. Both of the latter were burned down while he was proprietor. He opened the Hartmann House on Ninth street, now known as the Henry House, and after a retirement from active business for a number of years, he took charge of the Crellin Hotel two years ago.

In all of his enterprises Mr. Hartmann has been ably assisted by his wife, whose careful oversight of the hotel and business ability made her a capable manager. She was a woman of generous instincts and had many warm personal friends. She leaves six children, all daughters, four of whom are married, Mrs. Jonas, wife of the clothier on Broadway, Mrs. Josie Neuman of this city, Mrs. Rosie Rosenberg of Nevada City, Mrs. Lulu Goodman of Fresno and Misses Annie and Stella Hartmann, who resided with their parents at the Crellin. All of the children were with their mother when she died.

The funeral will take place from Mrs. Jonas' house, Tenth and Harrison, at 2 P. M. tomorrow.

A BLOODY SET-TO.

Turkish Troops and Albanians Fight in the Sultan's Palace.

Several men on both sides were killed.

SUED THE COMMITTEE.

The Old Republican County Organization in Court.

N. B. VAIL THE PLAINTIFF.

He Wants Judgment for the Services He Rendered.

ALL ARE CO-DEFENDANTS.

The Matter Will Be Pushed to a Final Outcome.

The threats of law suits which have been hanging over the heads of the old Republican County Central Committee for some time past culminated today in definite action, when Attorneys Hugh S. Aldrich and F. W. Sawyer filed a complaint in Judge Allen's court for N. B. Vail, the leader of the Infantry Band. The claim is based on services performed by the band at the dictation of the old committee and an assignment to Vail of a $75 claim by William August, making the total amount $192.

The individual members of the old committee are made defendants. They are Phil M. Walsh, A. L. McPherson, F. B. Armstrong, Charles Mautalen, J. H. W. Idley, W. H. Ford, John Striker, John Mitchell, J. G. McCall, F. J. Fletter, J. W. Evans, B. C. Hawes and V. C. Bernal.

The document in part reads as follows:

"That at all the time herein mentioned the defendants above named were members of and constituted a certain association or body known as the Republican County Central Committee of Alameda County.

"That within two years last past at the city of Oakland, in said county of Alameda, at the special instance and request of said defendants, the plaintiff performed services to and for said defendants, for which services defendants did then and there agree to pay said plaintiff the sum of $117.

"That said defendants have not paid the same, nor any part thereof."

William August's assigned claim is for services performed at Elmhurst under the dictation of the committee.

Vail asks for a judgment for the full sum and costs.

All the members of the committee have been served with summons though the regulation five days is allowed in which to file an answer.

Vail is very determined and declares that he will press the matter to the end, though the County Committeemen are inclined to treat the action jestingly.

Their claim is that the campaign committee is the one to sue.

One member speaking of the matter said: "He had already drawn a warrant for Vail, but now it is doubtful if we will pay him at all. He has tackled the wrong people when he tries to sue us, for we are not responsible."

CAN STAY IN AMERICA.

New Jersey Will Care for the Armenian Exiles.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The 134 Armenian refugees who have been held at Ellis Island for several days will after all be allowed to find homes in this country.

The New Jersey men who protested against the colonizing of the Aremnians by the Salvation Army in Ramsay, N. J., have appeared before Immigration Commissioner Senner to ask for the release of the Armenians.

The New Jersey delegation offered to support the Salvationist in securing bonds for the refugees so they should not become public charges.

Goettinger and Greenhood.

In the suit of George Goettinger against Jacob and Aline Greenhood, the defendants, have filed an answer denying that Greenhood conveyed property to his wife for the purpose of defrauding his creditors, and alleging that the property in question is worth $10,300 and has incumbrances on it to the extent of $15,500 only. This property is situated on William street, Frederick street and at the corner of San Pablo avenue and Alden street. Affidavits regarding the value of the property in question have been sworn to by J. S. Meyers, William J. Dingee, P. A. Cameron, O. I. Denison, Jacob Greenhood, J. Tyrrell and C. K. Marshall.

A BAREFOOTED BURGLAR.

He Makes a Call at the Residence of C. B. Morgan.

A Noise Scared Him Away Before He Had Time to Steal.

A burglar took off his shoes and stockings, walked from the back parlor to the kitchen door in the residence of Capitalist and ex-School Director C. B. Morgan, and left, sometime during the night, without taking or disturbing any of the family's valuables.

The case was reported to the police this morning, and Detective Shorey, who investigated, could not find so much as a silver spoon missing. He therefor theorizes that the intruder was frightened away before fully commencing operations. None of the family were cognizant of the visitor's presence, so the noise which caused the fright was, if made by them, made unconsciously.

The Morgan residence is at Fourteenth and Brush streets, and the rear parlor window, which was left unlocked, was the one through which the burglar made his entrance. His footprints on the soft ground underneath it shows that he wore neither shoes nor stockings. The cook found the kitchen door unlocked this morning, and it is surmised that through this he made his exit.

TRIPPED UP FOR BIGAMY

A Gold Mine Confidence Man Runs Across a Snag.

His Many Wives Have Been Located by the Dakota Police.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—Allen J. Wines, the gold mine schemer, will be taken to Fargo, N. D., today where he is wanted for getting $1,2000 from a Swede under alleged false pretenses. He has a matrimonial record, according to the statements of H. J. Hansen, the deputy sheriff who came to take him back. Wines is said to have a wife in Fargo and another in Wilkesbarre, Pa., besides the woman he married in Cairo, Ill., last summer.

In Fargo Wines was known as Joseph Miller and it was under this name that he is alleged to have married Ella Nanson, a Fargo girl, and the daughter of a druggist of that place.

Mary James was the name of his Wilkesbarre wife and Miss Elizabeth Peters of Cairo, Ill., was wife number three.

CONATY IS FIRST CHOICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Prelates, members of the Board of Directors of the Catholic University, were called together this morning for a supplemental session and changed the time of the annual meeting to the second Wednesday in October instead of after Easter.

Archbishop Corrigan of New York has been delegated to write a letter to the Pope presenting the list of three names recommended for the rectorship.

Cardinal Gibbons asked the Archbishops to take such steps through the press and otherwise as lay in their power to overcome the public impression that the present meeting of the board and the events leading up to it had been of a sensational, scandalous character.

The impression prevails in church circles and is shared by some members of the board that while Father Conaty heads the list, Vicar General Mooney will receive very favorable consideration by the Pope and possibly may be successful, though Father Conaty's chances are somewhat better.

The designation of Archbishop Corrigan to write the letter to the Pope was responsible in part, for the sentiment this morning favorable to Vicar General Mooney.

After the meeting of the Directors, the Archbishops assembled for their annual meeting.

The sessions are private.

The principal subject of consideration, it is thought will be the Indian School question as effected by the recent decision of Congress to do away with national aid to sectarian educational institutions.

TEMPORARILY INSANE.

The Coroner Investigates the Death of Bertha Wahmuth.

The Coroner summoned a jury and held the inquest this morning on the body of unhappy Bertha Wahmuth, the four-months' bride of William Wahmuth, who locked herself in a closet and turned on the gas.

The testimony showed that the girl suffered from melancholia and from the evidence introduced, the jury could only find that she took her life while temporarily insane.

The girl was but 23 years of age and very popular in the German society in the Encinal city.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow from her husband's residence, 1218 Broadway. The interment will be in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery in San Francisco.

Will Make Storage-Room.

Material is now arriving with which to place a cement floor in the basement of the annex to the hall of records. This work was not done when the building was erected because of scarcity of money. This floor will enable the basement to be used for storage of various articles which are now scattered around in the upper stories of the building.

McKINLEY AND BRYAN.

There is much dispute over which will be our next President, but Democrats and Republicans alike all concede that E. C. Lyon, the furniture dealer at 253-7 Broadway, sells his goods, stores your furniture or moves your piano, etc., at hard times prices. Gold or silver accepted in payment at ratio of 16 to 1.

BURGLARS AT A BANK.

They Make a Rich Haul From a Missouri Institution.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 22.—Robbers entered the bank at Cassville, Mo., last night and blew open the safe, securing its contents.

The amount was large, but the bank officials refuse to say how much.

The robbery was the work of professionals.

FINZER'S FORTUNE.

The late Nicholas Finzer, a wealthy tobacco manufacturer of Middletown, Ky., on June 30, 1894, obtained a policy in The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York for $100,000, on the five per cent debenture, 10-premium plan, the annual premium being $8,133.

The death of Mr. Finzer makes this policy a death claim with the following results:

At the end of each year the Company will pay $5,000 to the wife of the insured, continuing such payments for twenty years, then if she is still alive the Company will pay the face of the policy—$100,000. In case of her death before the end of the twenty years the Company will continue to pay to her representative the $5,000 until the end of the twentieth year, when the full amount of the policy will be paid, thus making a total payment by the Company to the heirs of the insured of $200,000.

The total amount of premiums paid by the insured was $24,399, thus giving a net profit at the end of twenty years of $175,601 over cost.

In other words, by the payment of $24,399 in three years, Mr. Finzer has secured for his family and heirs a stated income of $5,000 a year for the next twenty years, or a five per cent investment on the principal of $100,000, which remains intact until 1916, not subject to loss by bad reinvestment or depreciation by the possible mismanagement of the executors, administrators or attorneys of his estate.

The widow and children are provided with an ample and certain income for twenty years, when the original $100,000 insurance is paid over to whoever is legally entitled to the same.

W. E. BARNARD,

ELECTION PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with the proclamation of the Governor of the State of California, issued on the 25th day of September, 1896, calling a general election throughout the State, to be held on Tuesday, November 3rd, 1896, for the purpose of electing the following named officers, of which the following is a copy:

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Notice is hereby given that a general election will be held throughout the State of California on TUESDAY, THE THIRD DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1896, when the following officers will be elected, namely:

NINE ELECTORS OF PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Also, SEVEN REPRESENTATIVES TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES; being one Representative from each Congressional District.

Also, ONE STATE SENATOR FROM EACH OF THE FOLLOWING SENATORIAL DISTRICTS: First, Third, Fifth, Seventh, Ninth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-third, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-ninth, Thirty-first, Thirty-third, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-seventh and Thirty-ninth.

Also, ONE MEMBER OF THE ASSEMBLY FROM EACH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT IN THIS STATE.

Also, FOUR JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Also, FOUR JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR LOS ANGELES COUNTY.

Also, THREE JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SACRAMENTO.

Also, TWO JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES: Alameda, Humboldt, San Diego, San Joaquin, Santa Clara and Sonoma.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES: Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, Contra Costa, Colusa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Inyo, Kern, Lake, Lassen, Mariposa, Marin, Merced, Mendocino, Monterey, Modoc, Mono, Napa, Nevada, Orange, Placer, Plumas, San Bernardino, San Benito, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Solano, Stanislaus, Yuba and Sutter, Tehama, Trinity, Tuolumne, Ventura and Yolo.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF FRESNO, for the unexpired term of S. A. Holmes, deceased, ending January, 1897; vice Stanton L. Carter, appointed.

Also, at said election, AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE, submitted by the Legislature at its last regular session, numbered and designated as hereinafter specified, will be voted upon by the electors of said State; namely:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or this Constitution, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property," as used in this article and section, is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Sec. 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be preserved.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint-stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association; and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint-stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint-stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint-stock association, during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which the times at which and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches; and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law, provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of any public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with any of its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

Each amendment shall be voted on separately from the others, by ballot, at the next general election to be held on Tuesday, the third day of November, 1896.

The said amendments are respectively designated:

Amendment Number One.
Amendment Number Two.
Amendment Number Three.
Amendment Number Four.
Amendment Number Five.
Amendment Number Six.

Each ballot used at such election must contain printed thereon the words:

Amendment Number One, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33 (exempting mortgages and trust deeds from taxation). For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.
Amendment Number Two, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8 (authorizing elections by ballot, or such other secret method as may be permitted by law). For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.
Amendment Number Three, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19 (limiting the liability of stockholders of corporations). For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.
Amendment Number Four, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25 (relating to the operation of of general laws in organized or incorporated cities or towns. For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.
Amendment Number Five, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13 (enlarging the provisions which may be made by Freeholders' Charters, relating to Police Courts, Police Commissioners, Boards of Education and Election, and providing for the election of county officers in consolidated cities and counties.) For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.
Amendment Number Six, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11 (extending the right to vote to females.) For the Amendment?	Yes. / No.

And I do hereby offer a reward of One Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of any and every person violating any of the provisions of Title IV, Part I, of the Penal Code; such reward to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended for the purpose reaches the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the City of Sacramento, this 25th day of September, 1896.

JAMES H. BUDD,
Governor.

(Seal.)

Attest:

L. H. BROWN,
Secretary of State.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Saturday next will be an important day in the history of racing on this coast. It will mark the opening of the magnificent new grounds and race track of the California Jockey Club in Oakland. The grounds contain over 160 acres on and around the site of the old Oakland Trotting Park, at Emeryville Station.—Alameda Telegram.

The Army and Navy League of Oakland is doing good work for Congressman Hilborn. It is a strong organization of 550 members and is composed of soldiers and sailors of the civil war. All over the district the old soldiers are rallying around their comrade and will put forth their best efforts to make his majority large.—Haywards Review.

A SUPERSTITIOUS FANCY.

The Vassar Graduate Failed to Appreciate the Fine Feather Duster.

A young business man went home the other evening with a very fine feather duster for his wife, who is a practical housekeeper, albeit she is also a graduate of Vassar and well up in all the isms and ologies of the day. It must be remembered that the conversation which ensued was not held in the dark ages, but in the present enlightenment of the nineteenth century, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Here's something you'll appreciate, Maud," he said, as he began to undo the numerous wrappings. "There was only one and it came over in two ships."

"What in the world is it, you dear old thing?" cried Maud, dancing around him.

"Guess, sweetheart."

"Oh, I know. It's a new umbrella for my birthday."

"Nothing of the sort. Shut your eyes. Now open them. There."

An immense duster of magnificent peacock feathers released from its sheath of wrappings was flourished before the young woman's eyes. She gave one look at it, then burst out crying.

"Maud, what is the matter?"

"Oh, Claude, how could you? Oh, oh, oh."

"Well, I like that. Upon my word I do."

"Oh, you cruel boy. When you know how u-u-unlucky it is to have peacock feathers in the house, and what dreadful trouble it makes to g-g-ive any one feathers, sobbed Maud.

"Then you don't want this feather duster?"

"Not for the world."

"Maud."

"Claude."

"I have a great mind to throw it out of the window."

"I wish you would, dear. We'll never have any luck with it in the house."

Little Farms in Japan.

Japan, and not France or Belgium, would appear to be the land of petite culture. According to a recent American bulletin a couple of acres is considered a large tract for farming purposes. Most of the farms are smaller, and on a little plot a surprising variety of crops is cultivated—a few square feet of wheat, barley, maize and millet; a plot of beans perhaps 10 feet wide by 20 feet long, a similar area of potatoes and peas and a patch of onions "about as big as a grave;" beetroot, lettuce, turnips, sweet potatoes and other crops occupy the rest of the area. The farmer examines his growing crops every morning, just as an engineer inspects his machinery, and if anything is wrong he puts it right. If a weed appears in the bean patch he pulls it up; if a hill of potatoes or anything else fails it is at once replanted. When he cuts down a tree he always plants another. As soon as one crop is harvested the soil is worked over, manured, and forthwith sown to another crop. It is estimated that nine-tenths of the agricultural land of Japan is devoted to rice, and as this a crop requiring much water the paddy fields are banked up into terraces, one above the other, and divided off into small plots 25 feet or 30 feet square, with ridges of earth between them to prevent the water from flowing away when they are flooded. All farming lands are irrigated by a system that is a thousand years old. Some of the ditches are walled up with bamboo wicker work and some with tiles and stone. Nearly half the total population of Japan is engaged in agriculture. Silk and tea, the two chief exports of the country, are raised almost by the work of women.—From the London Times.

A Tribute.

The worried-looking business man turned in his chair and gloomily looked after the clerk as he went through the door.

"That," he said in tones of suppressed emotion, "is the most reliable man in this establishment."

"Why, he's the one that's always making trouble."

"That's it. Whenever I give him a piece of work I can rely implicitly on his doing it wrong."

Bryan's rabbit's foot is thought to have had an important influence on his fortunes so far but it disturbed no restraining spell over the Yale students the other day as a trustworthy and sound amulet ought to have done. They kicked and bellowed like a herd of Winnipeg buffalo, and wouldn't hear him, quenching his thunders in the index of louder ones of their own. There is probably something wrong about it. To be possessed of complete potency, the rabbit it belonged to should have been killed in a country graveyard at midnight, during the dark of the moon, on Friday, the 13th of the month, by a cross-eyed, left-handed, red-headed, bow-legged, full-blooded African of specified political principles, riding a white horse backwards. These are the conditions which authorities upon the mascot pronounce to be essential, and if they were all fulfilled neither Mithridates nor Wallenstein could have possessed one which united so many gruesome credentials. It would have been a piece of resistance in Hecate's cauldron, giving additional potency to the mess. The one which the candidate has carried is probably not genuine. Somebody has very likely palmed off on him the foot of an ordinary domestic hare slain anywhere by anybody, with no ceremonies. In that case it will not help his Presidential aspirations or outlook in the least, and has no value except for its silver mountings, which he is entitled to holt at any ratio he likes without waiting for National or international co-operation.—New York Tribune.

In the opinion of some who have come in contact with the Czar, it is neither knife nor bomb nor bullet that will send him to his account. He will be killed by sheer fright. "A weakling from the day of his birth," says a British writer, "the nerves had any nerves worth speaking of, and those he did have are now gone. The autocrat of all the Russias is as timid as a hare and more tearful than a woman."

THURSDAY.......OCTOBER 22, 1896.

There was a transaction a few days ago in the Superior Court of New York that had a touch of novelty about it. Judge MacLean appointed three women who were members of the bar, to act as receivers in certain supplementary proceedings against debt and to satisfy judgments obtained against them. Mrs Werner, then Miss Titus, was the first woman admitted to the bar in New York. She and Miss Haggerty are two of the four lawyers who are to deliver lectures on law this winter to classes of women in the New York University. These appointments made by Judge MacLean are not in important cases, still they show a beginning of confidence in the work of women engaged in the practice of law. One of the appointees was interviewed and said: "I hope that hereafter some better work of this kind will be allotted to the few women who are engaged in the practice of law."

The most intelligent opinion about the political prospects of Oregon that we have seen of late, was that recently given by a member of the editorial staff of the Oregonian. The fact is, and I am only stating what all well informed people of that section agree on, Bryan has absolutely no chance of getting Oregon's vote. In Portland the betting is 2 and even 3 to 1 in favor of McKinley carrying the State, and there is nobody willing to take the Bryan end of the wager. Portland is as strong a gold center as any town in the country, and the Gold Democrats out there are going to vote for McKinley. In Southern Oregon there is considerable free silver sentiment, but east of the mountains, where the sheep industry has been ruined by the Wilson tariff, the voters think far more of protection as a restorative of prosperity than of free silver. This section is strongly for McKinley.

Theodore Roosevelt addressed an enthusiastic audience at the Coliseum in Chicago under the auspices of the Republican College League Club. Robert T. Lincoln presided. These were among the telling points made by Roosevelt: "The dominant note in Mr. Bryan's utterances and in the campaign waged on his behalf is the note of hysteria. Messrs. Bryan, Altgeld, Tillman, Debs, Coxey, and the rest have not the power to rival the deeds of Marat and Robespierre, but they are strikingly like the leaders of the Reign of Terror in France in mental and moral attitude. Mr. Altgeld is a more dangerous man than Bryan. He is much slyer and more intelligent. The one plans, wholesale repudiation, the other would connive at wholesale murder. For America to put men like these in control of her destinies would be such a dishonor as it is scarcely bearable to think of. In this Presidential election we confront a danger graver than any that has menaced the country since its birth, save at the election of 1860 alone. On the result of next month depends whether we shall hang our heads with shame because our country has become the dupe and willing prey of dishonest demagogues."

The Chicago Times-Herald relates this incident of Sir Walter Besant when he was in that city. It has the real English flavor: "One day in midsummer while the World's Fair Auxiliary Congress of authors was in session the Art Institute became as hot as an oven, and Walter Besant—the English novelist, now Sir Walter—nudged one of the managers of the Congress, while some one was reading a tiresome paper, and whispered: "I say, my man, can't we slip out of here and get a breath of air and a little something cool to drink?" The great and good man thus addressed readily assented and piloted the Englishman across Michigan avenue into a drug store and against a soda fountain. "What will you have, Mr. Besant?" he inquired, waving his hand toward the fountain. "Gimme a pint of 'alf and 'alf," promptly replied the novelist. The embarrassed pilot gasped and explained that no "strong" drinks could be bought there. Mr. Besant calmly adjusted his eyeglasses, looked the marble outfit over quizzingly and ejaculated: "It's one of those blasted American fizzing machines! All right, sir; go ahead; do you choose for me. Pick out whatever you consider least dangerous."

Prosperity for California.

The man who works and votes for the election of Bryan is not working for the prosperity of California. It is time that this clear distinction was made. California attained its greatest prosperity by national legislation which Bryan repudiates. Four years ago the promise was made of still better times if a change of administration were made. But the four years that followed were the most trying ones this State has ever experienced.

Now comes Bryan and his supporters to tell another plausible story of prosperity if only he can be placed at the head of the Administration. But it is admitted that his election would be followed by a business crisis, and probably the worst ever known in the history of the country. Now the country has had a crisis for about four years. It has had enough of that. It wants now an exemption from business disasters, a restoration of confidence and a return to the old prosperity. What promise does Bryan give that he can do any thing to restore this prosperity? What promise does he make of a restoration of the ruined wool interest of California? What encouragement does he offer to the crippled raisin interest, to the citrus and to the fruit men generally, when he has openly declared that he was the enemy of that protection that had once secured them some measure of prosperity.

These questions are now brought home in a practical way. One of the best friends that California ever had in Congress outside of California, was Blaine. The vote of the State was cast for him because he was in favor of protecting every interest that made for the prosperity of California. McKinley is Blaine's successor as the staunch friend of every productive industry. These men had nothing in common with Bryan or the doctrines that he has announced. No voter who has had at heart the interests of California can consistently cast a ballot for Bryan. If he is a friend of this State from the ground up, he is also a friend of the man who is at the head of the Republican ticket.

Outlining Public Parks.

Engineer Bridge's report about public parks is good reading. A great deal of discussion and planning will necessarily precede the practical work of securing any such public improvement. If a few citizens take the initiative something in time will be done. The proposed conversion of the marsh in West Oakland into a small park, has never met with any strong opposition. There seems to be a general concurrence of opinion that such a result ought to be reached at no distant day.

But this one small park reclaimed from the marsh, would never entirely satisfy the needs of the city. It would of course be a great acquisition, the first step as it were, towards a still greater improvement. Ever since any public interest has been attached to Lake Merritt, it has been considered as an adjunct of a public park. Somewhere between the Lake and Piedmont, there would be a public reservation of not less than five hundred acres that would constitute the future park of Oakland. There would be a connection between the Lake and the Park by means of a broad avenue or boulevard, or perhaps by a still wider strip of land.

This idea is still cherished. It has been dormant for some years. But now and then, it is turned over and given an airing. This of course is not the only plan that has been outlined. But it is sufficiently definite to invite further consideration. The park will take shape whenever the public is in earnest to have it. There is so much land available for such a purpose, that there is little danger of going amiss in making the best selection.

Dr. Coyle in Oakland.

The resignation of Dr. Coyle, formally announced last evening, was met by a protest from his people. So far as we can learn, every member of his great church and congregation are opposed to the change. They believe the right man is in the right place, and the work that he has done and is now doing, is the best evidence of that proposition.

But beyond this particular congregation, there is the still larger interest of the community. Dr. Coyle has met his full share of responsibility as a citizen. He has been found in the right place when public interests of vital importance were at stake. He has in this way become identified with all the better interests of the city, and of many interests which reach beyond it. For this reason the protest of his church against his leaving is seconded by the protest of the community. The fact that there is this unanimity of sentiment ought to go a long way to bring about a reconsideration of the proposed change.

Quite a spirited controversy is going on in some of the Eastern papers as to who was the first discoverer of anesthetics. Fifty years ago for the first time in the history of surgery, ether was successfully applied as an anaesthetic at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. Dr. J. Collins Warren, the surgeon, at the request of Dr. Morton, a dentist, permitted the latter to administer ether to a patient upon whom he was about to perform an operation. This was done on October 16, 1846. To the astonishment of all present the person under treatment remained in perfect unconsciousness, and the usefulness of ether as a means of preventing pains was established. The anniversary of the event will be celebrated not only in the United States, but also in Europe, especially in France."

The Hartford Courant, one of the most conservative papers which seldom ever gives place to an extravagant utterance, breaks out in this way: "That was a converted, regenerated, sanctified "rebel yell" that rang through the streets of Canton, Ohio, last week. No wonder it was musical in the ears of Major McKinley and the other old soldiers of the Union who listened to it. It brought home to mind and heart the glorious changes of the years. The old battle cry had been transformed into a shout of generous devotion to the welfare and honor of the one dear undivided, never-to-be-divided country. It was as patriotic as the words, full of brotherly feeling and simple broad Americanism, with which McKinley greeted the Southern men that uttered it."

Bryan Is Not a Friend of California.

The very best reason in the world for voting against Bryan is that he is not a friend of the industrial interests of this State, and never has been since he has had any public record. He is not a friend of laboring men, and they know it. That is the reason that no large delegations of working men have ever gone out to meet him, as they have gone to meet McKinley. The dinner pail army is not for Bryan. He contributed as much as any other man to destroy their prosperity while in Congress. He was one of the conspicuous men who put the blight on American industry. No, there are not so many dinner pails in evidence by many thousands as there were four years ago. While a member of the Ways and Means Committee of Congress he was no friend to labor. This incident is described by the New York Mail and Express:

"It is important to keep in mind at this time, when Mr. Bryan is appealing with tearful earnestness for the votes of the workingman, that it was he who heaped upon labor the grossest insult to which it was ever subjected in the halls of Congress. He was a member of the Ways and Means Committee of the House that framed the Wilson bill. During the discussion several representative manufacturers from Pittsburg, accompanied by delegations of their employes, appeared before the Committee to urge the maintenance of schedules that would afford reasonable protection to the industries in which they were interested. H Sellers McKee ventured to explain that the abolition of the duties on glass would paralyze one of the greatest interests of Pennsylvania; whereupon, Mr. Bryan, who had assumed charge of the discussion for the Committee, interrupted him by angrily declaring.

"Oh, you manufacturers are robbers."

This brutal outburst so shocked the workingmen in attendance that one of their leaders turned to Mr. Bryan and asked: "If the manufacturers are robbers, what are we?" To this Mr. Bryan immediately retorted with great vehemence:

"You are public beggars, and so is everybody else that asks for a protective tariff that will benefit him."

Of course every man in California who wanted to save the wool industry from ruin by maintaining a protective tariff, was a beggar and a robber. Every man who would develop the fruit industry was in the same category. In short as a majority of the citizens of this State are not only in favor of protection, but have asked directly or indirectly that that system should be maintained in behalf of the infant industries of the State, they are according to the Bryan classification, robbers and beggars. And now the man who has insulted labor in this way wants the votes of laboring men. There will soon be an opportunity for the wage earners of California to settle with Bryan at the polls.

Venerable old Princeton University is about to celebrate the 150th anniversary of that institution. Here is a reminiscence of early days. It was one of the college laws: "No member of college shall wear his hat in the college at any time, or appear in the dining room at meal time, or in the hall at public meeting, or knowingly in the presence of the superiors of the college, without an upper garment and having shoes and stockings tight. Every scholar shall rise up and make obeisance when the president goes in or out of the hall or enters the pulpit. Every Freshman sent on an errand shall go and do it faithfully and make quick return. Every scholar in college shall keep his hat off about ten rods to the president and five to the tutors."

It is reported that Oliver Ellsworth, of the class of 1766, was summoned before the college faculty, charged with violating the last-named rule. He made the following defense: "A hat is composed of two parts, the crown and the brim, consequently it is not a hat, and I can be guilty of no offense." His argument could not be gainsaid by the tribunal and he was discharged, although it afterward appeared that the brim had been torn off to make a test case. This precocious logician was in later life appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

IN CHARITY'S CAUSE.

An Excellent Entertainment Is to Be Given This Evening.

LINCOLN WILL BE HEARD.

The Proceeds Are to Go to the Ladies' Relief Society.

A RECEPTION TO BE HELD.

All Who Can Should Attend and Enjoy the Programme.

The Ladies' Relief Society will give an entertainment and reception at the First Presbyterian Church this evening. The entertainment will consist of a monologue by Frank Lincoln, the humorist, and will be followed by a reception in the Boy's Brigade room of the church. The reception will be in the nature of a social event, as the Reception Committee consists of prominent society ladies assisted by several younger ladies who will serve refreshments.

The entertainment is not only to raise funds, of which the society is sorely in need, but to bring the organization before the general public. The Ladies' Relief Society is the oldest charitable organization in this city and has for a number of years been prominently identified with philanthropic enterprises. It established the home for the old ladies, children and babies at Temescal, and has accomplished far reaching results in this instance.

In the organization of many new charitable societies, the Ladies' Relief Society has to a certain extent been forgotten. For a long time its affairs were in such a prosperous condition that there was no necessity of calling upon the public for assistance. Lately, owing to the depression in properties owned by the society, and the withdrawal of State aid amounting to $250 per month, the society finds itself sadly crippled. The organization needs funds, and money must be raised by some means. At first it was thought advisable to raise the money by subscriptions, but much to the members' surprise there appeared to exist an ignorance concerning the society and its work. It was therefor decided to adopt some way of bringing the society and its wants clearly before the public, and this evening's entertainment is for this purpose. At the reception, the general public may meet the directors and members of the society and become personally acquainted with the aims of the organization.

The entertainment will be excellent, and will in every way conform to the high standard of entertainments that this society always gives. Their receptions have always been events of social importance.

Frank Lincoln, who has offered his services for an hour's entertainment, is a clever, versatile humorist, whose talk never grows tiresome or lags in interest. His manner of entertaining his audience is a novel one and thoroughly enjoyable. He is a most wonderful musical mimic, and can imitate perfectly the performance of an entire grand opera troupe. This feature is remarkable in many respects, and has attracted attention wherever given. Lincoln is a genius in monologue, and his amusing social travesties were considered in London far more amusing and interesting than Albert Chevalier's costermonger songs. Lincoln does not devote himself to any one class of types for his descriptive talks, but cleverly and originally depicts the humorous phases of life among all classes.

The ladies who have charge of the committee intend to make tonight's entertainment and reception as swell an affair as the former receptions, balls, luncheons, theatricals and other affairs that were formerly given by this society and were considered social events of the year.

The reception room and auditorium of the church has been elaborately decorated by Mrs H. P. Livermore and a staff of ladies. Mrs. James Spier of Berkeley assisted by Miss De Fremery and a corps of young ladies, will attend to the serving of ice cream in the charmingly decorated tables. Other committees are composed of the following ladies:

Entertainment—Mrs. Taft, Mrs. R. G. Brown, Mrs. McElrath, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Blake, Miss De Fremery, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Gelette, Mrs. F. L. Brown, Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. Maury, Mrs. Lilienerantz, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Livermore, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Cotton and Mrs. Wellman.

Ways and Means—Mrs. F. S. Stratton, Mrs. Dam, Mrs. Wellman, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Livermore, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Spiers, Miss Miner, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. F. L. Brown, Miss De Fremery.

A VICIOUS ASSAULT.

Attorney Fred Krause Charges Leonard Keller With a Serious Offense.

Fred Krause, the attorney, made application to District Attorney Snook today for a warrant charging Leonard R. Keller with assault upon his stepdaughter a young woman about 16 years of age.

Keller has been arrested and placed in jail.

The offense was committed, it is alleged, under most aggravating circumstances.

Krause resides in Fruitvale, and one Sunday evening about three weeks ago, Keller called at the Krause home and went thence as escort to Krause's stepdaughter to evening service at the Fruitvale Presbyterian Church.

After the services had closed at the church, Keller, it is alleged, led the girl along the foot hills on the way home and there assaulted her.

The young girl concealed the affair from her mother and stepfather until last night, when her injuries proved such that she could no longer conceal the facts of the assault.

Krause is greatly incensed over the outrage, all the more because he alleges, the mother of the young man seems to stand up in defense of her offspring.

AND STILL THE CORSELET.

It Continues to Be Popular and Will Reign Through the Winter.

There is no diminution in the popularity of the corselet. One may safely put it on a gown intended for late winter wear. In fact, there never was a more economical idea than that of having a corselet and a bolero jacket that can be worn over any fancy waist.

A corselet which particularly attracted me was worn with a dark-brown gown. It was made of silk, plaided in golden browns, and the bolero, which accompanied it, was of brown satin with a covering of gold bead passementerie.

Another very striking, was of white honiton lace, stretched over white satin. It fitted perfectly, without the sign of a wrinkle. A shirred black silk bodice was its companion, and to say that they were worn by a very slim person is, of course, unnecessary.

Black and white, the combination which is forever new, is used most effectively in a gown of black cloth, figured with white silk. A dainty white and black silk was used in designating the bodice, and is laid around with soft folds of black velvet. The sleeves are also of black velvet—short, squatty puffs, with slim, lengthy sleeves beneath.

And the hat, trimmed with white lace and black feathers, was a most striking accompaniment

Extenuating Circumstances

They led the prisoner before the morning justice He was a bum. He had been arrested for stealing a door-mat.

"Name?" queried the morning justice, sternly.

"Charge?"

"Stealin' a door-mat, your honor," said the policeman who had made the arrest.

"Guilty or not guilty?" This was addressed to the bum.

The prisoner drew a long breath, made a profound bow and said "Your honor, in view of the fact that this officer caught me in the act, I am willing to plead guilty, but, your honor, in so doing I want to say that there were extenuating circumstances."

"What were they?" thundered the justice.

"The door-mat had 'Welcome' on it and I thought it meant me."—From the Buffalo Express.

He Had One Defect.

The just-engaged girl was telling the other girls all about "it," or, more properly, "him." "Yes," she said "I'm very much in love, I know, but not in the blind, silly, illogical way that most girls are. I'm not so far gone but what I can see that he has defects—oh, lots of them—both in looks and in character. I'm able to regard him, thank goodness! from a perfectly impartial and dispassionate standpoint." After which the just-engaged girl proceeded to go into detail. According to her "impartial, dispassionate standpoint" "he" was, it seemed, handsome and amiable and clever and courageous and charming, and—— "See here," interrupted one of the other girls, "isn't this rather one-sided? How about these many defects you said you saw so plainly? Please mention some of them." "Well," said the just-engaged girl, heroically, after a minute's silence, "one of his front teeth is just a trifle crooked.—From the Boston Advertiser.

FEARN TO FIGHT AGAIN.

The Henderson & Graham Drug Store Trouble Is Revived.

Suit Brought to Compel Payment of a Promissory Note.

The troubles growing out of the dissolution of the drug firm of Henderson & Graham, who formerly did business in the Hotel Crellin before selling out to John Fearn, are to be again aired in court, if a suit filed today is ever brought to trial.

The suit in the main has already been tried in one of the departments of the Superior Court, Louisa B. Henderson and John Fearn as plaintiff and defendant respectively. The decision of the case was in favor of the defendant. In today's filing, three causes of action are alleged, one for the purpose of recovering on a note for $1500 alleged to be due the plaintiff because of money loaned to Henderson & Graham in 1892, one for the recovery of $350 loaned, and one for the recovery of $150 alleged to have been expended in the attempt to collect on the $1500 note.

The plaintiff is the wife of the senior member of the former drug firm of Henderson & Graham. She alleges she lent the firm $1500 and took a note for the amount, dated May 2, 1892. This note, it seems, got lost, and on June 14, 1895 the firm gave in lieu a promissory note to cover the indebtedness with interest at 6 per cent. This second note was also lost inadvertently and by mistake was torn up and destroyed by David L. Henderson, the husband of the petitioner. In June, 1895, Henderson retired from the business and conveyed his interest to his former partner, Fred Graham. In July, 1895, Graham transferred everything in the business to John Fearn. It is alleged that among the matters transferred was the indebtedness of $1500 representing the firm's note to Mrs. Henderson for the $1500 alleged to have been borrowed. In this manner it is sought to have Fearn make the amount good.

Fearn fought the case in a determined way before and it is expected that he will make another big fight now.

WANTS OUR WATCHES.

Prince Hilkoff Is Well Pleased With His American Trip.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Prince Hilkoff, the Russian Minister of Ways and Commerce, accompanied by his son, Prince Michael Hilkoff, occupied suites on the American line steamer St. Paul which sailed Wednesday for Southampton.

The Prince is pleased with many American railroad devices and may adopt some of them in his country. It is said one result of his visit to the United States is the placing by him of an order for 15,000 American watches to be used by employes on Russian railroads.

If we told you that your baby was starving, that it actually didn't get enough to eat, you might resent it. And yet there are thousands of babies who never get the fat they should in their food or who are not able to digest the fat that they do get. Fat is a necessity to your baby. It is baby life and baby beauty. A few drops of Scott's Emulsion for all little ones one, two and three years of age is better than cream for them. They thrive and grow on it.

Irving Scott and General Hart to Speak Here Tomorrow.

BRYAN MEN ON PARADE.

Much Expectation Regarding the Swinnerton-Smith Debate.

Tomorrow night Irving M. Scott and A. L. Hart are the attractions at the Tabernacle. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the reception of the two noted Republican orators and nothing will be lacking to make the evening a grand success.

The parade which will escort the speakers will be a long one. In it the following marching clubs will be fully represented: The Arkansa, Army and Navy League, Young Men's Republican Forty-eighth Assembly District, the Alameda Republican Drill Corps and the National Republican League.

There has been plenty of music arranged for, while other features will assist in making the evening decidedly entertaining.

MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

The Prohibitionist Appeal Threatens to Delay the Ballots.

County Clerk Jordan is anxiously awaiting to hear from the Supreme Court, relative to the action taken by the Prohibitionists with the idea of having their candidates placed on the county ticket, despite the opinion of the Superior Court.

The time is now rapidly approaching when the ballots must be printed and if by any chance an order should be made to put the names on, it may be almost impossible to have the official ballots ready the requisite ten days before election.

"Unless I hear from the Supreme Court within three days," said County Clerk Jordan when questioned, "I shall have the ballots printed.

"I have been watching this matter with no little concern, and should I be ordered to place the names of the Prohibitionist candidates on the official ballot it is going to make it impossible to send out the sample ballots as the law directs. I have the ballots prepared and am about to order 60,000 official and 30,000 sample copies. It has required a lot of hard work to get this copy ready and if it has to be done over again it will be very close to election day before I get through."

AN IMPORTANT DEBATE.

Judge Swinnerton and Governor Smith Meet Monday Night.

Next Monday night the Tabernacle will be the scene of one of the star features of the campaign and one which will bring out members of the opposition parties. It will be a debate on the financial question between ex-Judge Swinnerton of Stockton and Robert B. Smith, fusion nominee for Governor of Montana.

Judge Swinnerton is one of the best posted men on the coast regarding the sound money question, while Governor Smith is said to be an able exponent of silver. That the fur will fly when the two gladiators meet there is no doubt.

SILVER'S CHAMPIONS.

G. W. Baker Will Talk Before the Democratic Financial School.

There will be an interesting meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Financial school tomorrow evening in the headquarters, 418 Eighth street.

The financial question will be expounded fully from a silver standpoint by George W. Baker and Major G. W. Arbuckle. As is well known, Mr. Baker is one of the best posted silver men on this coast and he has many interesting points to make in defense of the standard he champions.

The addresses will not however be devoted exclusively to finance, for many of the other important questions of the day will be elaborated upon.

A Good Showing Made Last Night by the Silver Forces.

The largest Popocratic demonstration held in the county so far this campaign took place last night.

All the marching clubs that could be marshalled together, put in an appearance early in the evening and under the flickering light of the many torches made quite a showy display.

A wagon led the van, scattering a pyrotechnic display all along the line. Then came the Marshal, J. S. Meyers, on horseback, followed by the aids, also mounted.

A brass band was next in line with the Alameda Bryan Silver Club, close behind. The Zouaves stretched out for some distance, preceding the Young Men's Democratic Club, which in turn was followed by the Army and Navy Bryan Silver League. T. H. B. Rosenberg's Bryan Central Club brought up the rear.

banded and the club men took the seats numerous, while nearly all the men in ranks were provided with torches.

At the Tabernacle the procession disbanded and the club men took the seats set aside for them.

N. J. Manson, chairman of the People's Party County Central Committee, called the meeting to order and introduced Attorney R. M. Fitzgerald, as Chairman of the evening.

H. D. Hougham read an original poem and was followed by J. L. Gilbert of Fresno who spoke for an hour on the financial aspect of the campaign. In conclusion he said:

"Our Republican friends say they are willing to have free coinage if England consents. I say that to ask England to consent to free coinage would be to say, 'Will you let this little trembling dependency dig her own silver out of her own hills and coin it in her own mints for the business of her own people?'

"I want a dollar that England don't want. I want a dollar that is good in America. I don't care whether it is good in England or in Africa. If I go to England or Africa I can get money that will be current there.

"If we are not strong enough to establish a financial system of our own I want to be attached to Mexico or some other country that has patriotism and independence enough to do so.

"I do not solicit any votes myself. I am not a candidate. But I do ask you to vote for my home, for my children and for the prosperity of my country and your country."

Burdette Cornell was the next speaker. He believed the substantial difference between the People's and Democratic party on one side and the Republican party on the other is whether this nation is able to maintain the parity of the two metals at the ration of 16 to 1 without international agreement. By this declaration for international agreement the Republicans concede that the coinage of silver is desirable and that we need more money. The demand for money is equal to the sum total of all demands. What we ask is that 412½ grains of silver shall be coined by the government and made legal tender for all dues.

A ROUSING MEETING.

Colored Republicans Hold Forth at the League Rooms.

The headquarters of the National Republican League was the scene of a rousing rally held by the Colored Republican Club last night. It was the first meeting conducted by the Club and the hall was packed.

Felix Lafon, President of the Club, presided and Congressman Hilborn, Judge Carpenter, Colonel Thomas Pearson, H. E. Caltes, F. B. Morton, S. P. Hall and others made short addresses.

The Colored Glee Club composed of Messrs. Johnson, Jackson, Butler, Flood, and Crump, entertained the assemblage with campaign and plantation songs.

GOLD VERSUS SILVER.

Veterans to Meet in Debate on the Financial Issue.

The debate which is being arranged between the Army and Navy Republican and Army and Navy Bryan Silver Leagues, on the financial question promises to be very interesting.

upon their champions today.

For the Republicans, the following Committee has been appointed to take charge: J. P. McElroy, F. W. Phelps, and W. R. Thomas. They will decide upon their champions today.

The Silver debaters will probably be chosen from Messrs Arbuckle, Gregg, and Bretz.

THE FIRST WARD.

A Big Campaign Meeting to Be Held This Evening.

The Republicans of the First Ward will hold a big rally tonight in Hansen's Hall. The meeting has been called by County Committeeman W. W. Morrison and a rousing meeting is anticipated.

H. A. Powell and Lin S. Chase will deliver the speeches of the evening.

They will discuss all phases of the important questions before the people of the country and will be followed by some of the county candidates who will talk briefly on local subjects.

Will Talk on Money.

Colonel H. G. Shaw, the veteran newspaper man will give an illustrated talk on the money question tonight in Thomas's Hall, at Twenty-third avenue. Mr. Shaw has given the subject much study and is an able talker.

W. R. Davis Is Busy.

Saturday night W. R. Davis will deliver a campaign speech in Stockton and on the following week will make a trip through Yolo County.

Popocrats in Berkeley.

Tonight the Democrats and Populists will gather in East Berkeley in force. Shattuck Hall is the objective point and Taylor Rodgers of San Francisco, the chief attraction. Incidentally the Zouaves and other marching clubs will be on hand as will also several local speakers.

Perkins Up the Coast.

George C. Perkins spoke to a large audience in Fortuna, Humboldt County last night. He arrived in the morning and will remain in that section until Saturday, speaking each evening.

Judge Greene Speaks.

There was one of the largest political gatherings in the history of Mission San Jose last night, when Judge W. E. Greene and A. P. Van Duzen enlightened an audience numbering upward of 1000 on Republican doctrine.

Alameda Plans.

The Executive Committee of the Alameda Republican Clubs met last night in its headquarters and decided upon holding two rousing meetings before the campaign closes.

A Livermore Rally.

George W. Baker, President of the California Silver Campaign Committee, is billed to address the citizens of Livermore on Tuesday evening of next week.

Hanna's Views.

Robert R. Porter, the Eastern orator, who has been stumping Oregon for McKinley, will deliver two speeches in California during the last few days of the campaign. In a recent interview Mark Hanna is quoted as saying:

"Mr. Porter will be quite an acquisition to those already sent, especially as there is no man better informed on the question that interests the Pacific Coast—that of protection. Of course, California has always been a gold State. From letters and telegrams received in this department I have no fears as to how the coast States will go. They are thoroughly organized and thorough organization in any of these States means complete Republican victory.

Silver Talkers in Fruit Vale.

The Bryan Silver men will hold a meeting tonight commencing at 8 o'clock in Upper Fruitvale Hall. The meeting will be addresses by Hon. Geo. W. Baker, Green Majors, and J. A. Jones.

Mining Troubles.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 22.—Judge Knowles in the United States court has signed a decree of foreclosure of the first mortgage of $1,079,910 on the property of the Butte and Boston Mining Company, but refused to sign a second decree asked for by the Reorganization Company providing for a sale of the whole property in a lump and shutting off the right of redemption within six months after the sale.

The High Case.

Judge Ellsworth has taken under advisement until next Monday the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Gavin Dhu High, convicted in the Police Court of libel. High is now out of jail on bail.

FOUGHT FOR HIS LIFE.

A Lumberman Kills Two Negroes and Wounds Four.

RESCUED JUST IN TIME.

With a Winchester He Kept a Big Mob at Bay.

THE SHOOTING WAS LIVELY.

Locking Himself in a Room He Gave His Foes Battle.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHIPLEY, Fla., Oct. 22.—Besieged by infuriated negroes J. M. Criglar, manager of Hagerman's lumber mills, at Hager station, four miles west of here, defended himself with such effect that he killed two of his assailants and wounded four others.

Criglar became enraged in a quarrel with one of his employes and the other negroes drew pistols and began firing at the manager.

Criglar ran to his office, locked himself in and opened fire with a Winchester on the maddened negroes who surrounded the building.

For an hour the battle continued and when the Louisville & Nashville train arrived at the station the negroes were preparing to set fire to the building and

The trai ncrew and passengers, however, rushed to Criglar's aid and dispersed the negroes.

The train crew and passengers, however, dispersed the negroes.

The negroes had fired over 200 shots into the building but Criglar escaped by lying on the floor.

As soon as the negroes fired a volley, however, he would rise and shoot at them through the windows.

The negroes killed are Amos Judson and Alexander.

THE THEATERS.

"Town Topics" Will Be Here Two Nights Next Week.

Mr. Barnes of New York continues to attract good houses to the Oakland. The play is an excellent one and is artistically presented by Manager Bacon's clever company.

The Broadway Comedians in this season's biggest farce-comedy sensation, "Town Topics," is the attraction at the Macdonough Theater Monday and Tuesday next.

It comes with banners flying heralded as the most pretentious migratory farce-comedy company ever seen on tour, with a costume and scenic investiture complete in every detail. The comedy is in three acts, the first being comedy situations and crisp with witty dialogue. In this act there are no specialities; the second act is almost entirely specialties and burlesque; the third act, with the exception of several specialties, is again given over to farcical play and the unraveling of the plot. Any one discovering the plot without the aid of a dark lantern will be rewarded liberally.

The company will include William Keler, William H. Mack, John Queen, James Tenbrook, Phil Ott, Jos. Harrington, William Nelson, Frank Caverly, A. M. Miller, Beatrice Norman, Nellie Sennett, Lylian Heckler, Luella Miller, Elsie Nugent, Laura aWinsford, Freda Foel and Mamie Welty.

FRANKE IS FOUND.

A Defaulting Chicago Merchant Landed by the Detectives.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—It is reported the Pinkertons have located Frederick H. Franke, the merchant of North avenue who left a large number of creditors in the lurch by selling his stock of goods to Gore & Co., in Kansas City.

There is a movement started among the creditors, it is claimed, to raise money with which to prosecute him.

Detectives Ross and Corbush have gone to Houghton, Mich., to serve a warrant on Emil Franke, who is under arrest in that city on a charge of larceny.

Franke is wanted in Chicago on a charge of larceny also. He is the son of F. H. Franke, the North Side merchant.

CAN DIE IN PEACE.

Governor Upham of Wisconsin Pardons Wife-Murderer Duvall.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 22.—Governor Upham has pardoned Dr. W. P. Duvall, who two years ago was sentenced to State's prison for life from Walworth County for the murder of his wife, Elizabeth Duvall.

The pardon was urgently recommended by the judge who sentenced him and this, together with the fact that the doctor has grown old and is very feeble and at the most has but a short time to live, and the further fact that a member of his family in another State desires to care for him during his remaining days, made it appear to the Governor as proper cause for the exercise of executive clemency.

A Noted Speaker.

Mrs. Chas. E. Walker of the Woman's Executive Committee of New York City is the guest of Mrs. S. A. Hall of Telegraph avenue. Mrs. Walker spoke at Dr. Coyle's prayer meeting yesterday evening. This afternoon she is delivering an address at Berkeley. Friday at Alameda, and next Tuesday at Brooklyn in the Presbyterian Churches. Mrs. Walker is a speaker of National reputation and Oakland is fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing her.

ATLANTA, Georgia, Oct. 22.—In response to a telegram of inquiry concerning Watson's letter of acceptance, Chairman Butler wires the Atlanta Journal as follows:

"Telegram received. Letter not yet reached me. MARION BUTLER, Chairman."

WORKING HIM HARD.

Bryan Is Speaking at Many Small Towns in Illinois.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ROCHESTER, Ind., Oct. 22.—The Indiana Committee evidently does not intend to allow Bryan to fall far behind his record as a speech maker on this trip through Hoosierdom.

Nineteen speeches were made in the twenty-four hours ending at midnight last night and today seventeen are on the card and there will probably be more.

But Parks Martin, the Chairman of the State Committee who is in charge of the train is taking care that Bryan receives more rest and is doing his best to save him from the too affectionate crowds of his admirers.

The first speech today was at Decatur shortly after 8 o'clock.

Several thousand listened to Bryan more than a quarter of an hour and gave a boisterous approval of his utterance.

The crowd was made up largely of farmers.

Bryan told them the farmers of no country ever endorsed the gold standard and called attention to a meeting of agriculturalists some time ago, in Budapest, where bimetallism was endorsed and greetings sent to the bimetallists of America.

He quoted the address of Prince Bismarck to farmers a year ago, in which he said the farmers must stand together and protect themselves from the drones of society who produce nothing but laws.

Markel was not down on the bills for a speech, but a stop was made there and Bryan spoke five minutes.

At Huntington he addressed a crowd which numbered thousands, who were evidently in accord with him.

Hinkelton telegraphed a crowd had gathered there and a stop was made long enough for Bryan to greet the people and shake hands with those nearest him.

MORE GOLD MEN.

PERU, Ind., Oct. 22.—The public square in front of the Court House at Rochester was crowded when Bryan arrived.

It was a free silver crowd, and the few people who were yellow badges looked lonesome.

Bryan quoted from the Indiana State Republican platform six years ago, and referred to the message of President Harrison December, 1890, sayin:

"I want to show the Republicans who are here today that the Republican party has deserted the position which it occupied and having changed its policy is attempting to change the convictions of Republicans who supported it when it was supporting bimetallism."

FARMERS CALL.

A Large Delegation Pays a Visit to Major McKinley.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 22.—It was glorious Indian summer weather at Canton this morning.

A large delegation of farmers first called at the McKinley home. They came from Creston, Ohio.

Major McKinley responded to A. L. Richards, who spoke on behalf of the delegation. The nominee said:

"I remember when the Republicans of Creston and Wayne County were among the most earnest and enthusiastic of my old Congressional District and I see you have not lost your earnestness and enthusiasm for the great doctrines of the Republican party. We cannot, by legislation, in this country, make values.

"We cannot by any legerdemain of finance make something out of nothing. The only way to get wealth is by labor.

"Anybody who teaches any other doctrine is a false teacher and not a friend to American citizenship or our American homes. (Applause.)

"Congress can do a good many things, but it cannot make you rich or the country rich by debasing the money of the country, and it cannot make the country rich by giving us dollars that are only worth 53 cents each and stamping them on dollars. (Great laughter and applause.)

"Now, Congress can help you, but it must be by wise legislation, caring for the products, labor, farms and manufactures of our own people by protecting them against the products of people living in other lands.

"Well, now, the best thing for the farmer, after good crops and good markets is good money, and when you give four pecks for a bushel and sell your wheat by a full bushel you want to be paid in dollars worth fully a hundred cents each, not only today, but every day and everywhere.

"This is what the Republican party stands for this year. Those two things above all others, but the Republican party does not stand alone for them.

"The greater part of the Democratic party, the greater leaders of the old Democratic party are one with us in the struggle for national honor and prosperity." (Continuous cheering.)

Rousing cheers were given for the next President.

A FLYING SQUADRON.

The Governors Touring Illinois in a Special Train.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The "Governors' Flying Squadron" left Chicago this morning over the Alton Road to make a campaign tour of three days in Illinois.

Ex-Governors Richard J. Oglesby, John L. Beveridge, Shelby M. Cullom, John M. Hamilton and Joseph W. Fifer are accompanied by Captain John R. Tanner, National Committeeman Jamieson and Col. W. H. Hahn of the Republican National Speakers' Bureau.

Stops were made today at Joliet, Braidwood, Gardenar, Dwight, Fontiac, Lexington, Bloomington, Lincoln, Springfield and Jacksonville, speeches being made from a flat car attached to the special train.

WILL BET ON M'KINLEY.

Michael Doran of St. Paul Has $100,000 He Will Wager.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 22.—In an interview with the Pioneer Press, Michael Doran, a banker and broker in this city and known all over the United States as a Democratic National Committeeman and leader in Minnesota for twenty years, announced that he is willing and ready to bet any part or all of $100,000 that McKinley for President and Clough (Republican) for Governor, would carry Minnesota at the coming election.

George Peck's Campaigning.

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 22.—George R. Peck, general attorney for the St. Paul railroad, arrived here from Chicago yesterday and will spend a week campaigning in Kansas for McKinley and Hobart.

HAD THE WRONG MAN.

Pinkerton and David Henderson Sued for $100,000 Damages.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Matthew W. Pinkerton and David Henderson are co-defendants in a suit for $100,000 damages which is on trial before a jury in Judge Smith's Court.

The plaintiff is Albert Beaumont, once advertising agent of the Chicago Opera House. Beaumont was arrested in August, 1890, on complaint of Henderson, then manager of the Opera House, and indicted on the charge of embezzlement. The charge was that he had sold theater passes. The arrest was made by Pinkerton.

Beaumont was tried and acquitted.

He Grew Satirical.

"That's a splendid heating apparatus you put into my house last year," said the small sarcastic man.

"I—er—was afraid you didn't like it, judging from some of the things you said last winter."

"Its good qualities don't show off at all times. But when a cool spell like the present comes on we realize that it has great possibilities. If you could regulate it a little it would be all right."

"I guess we can regulate it almost any way you want it."

"That's good, I believe in always looking out for the future. And if you'll have somebody come up and regulate it so that it keeps the house as cold in July as it does in October, we'll burn fires in the grates all winter and never say a word."

To Talk on the X Ray.

The U. S. Cruiser "Raleigh" Captures a Couple of Filibusters.

THEY TRIED TO GET AWAY.

A Lively Cannonade Though Brought Them to Time.

THE PRIZES ARE SAFE NOW.

They Were Preparing for Another Trip to Cuba.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A special to the Record says:

The United States cruiser Raleigh at 5 o'clock yesterday morning discovered the steamer Dauntless taking on a cargo of coal from the steamer R. L. Mabey of Mosquito Inlet.

As the warship bore down on them the filibusterers started in opposite directions and the Raleigh opened fire, dropping solid shot across their bows as a signal to stop.

The Dauntless heaved to but the Mabey ran into Mosquito Inlet and anchored opposite New Smyrna.

The Raleigh took the Dauntless in tow and sent an officer after the Mabey.

The two prizes were towed up the coast to the St. John's bar and were anchored inside the river with the cutter Boutwell alongside.

The Dauntless had just arrived from the south and is supposed to have been preparing to carry another expedition to Cuba.

SUITS FOR A SONG.

The water sale at the Famous is attracting attention of all Oakland and the store is filled daily. It is only logical to say that so popular a sale cannot last always. It behooves the intelligent Oaklander to be brisk and buy quickly. Hats, suits for men and boys, and underwear, are selling for much less than they originally cost. It is a local providential blessing to temper the acidity of a moneyless year, and there are bargains galore for the appreciative.

AFRAID OF BURGLARS

Berkeley Reaching Out Now for a Police Force.

NERVOUS RESIDENTS ASTIR.

Unievrsity Gossip and News of the College Town.

SOME FRATERNITY INITIATIONS

The Freshmen Preparing for the Coming Glee.

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—The people of Berkeley are growing nervous over the many burglaries that have been committed lately throughout the county and are anxious to have more police officers. While the college town has been generally free of depredations of this kind in the past, the residents feel it is no sign of what the future may bring forth in the way of hold-ups, burglaries and other lawless adventures and ask for police protection before the need of it arises. The city officials, although they have considered the question of increasing the police force, have taken no active steps in the matter owing to the finances of the town.

FRATERNITY INITIATIONS.

The young women fraternities are beginning to initiate new members. Last evening the Gamma Phi Beta received three new members at the Chapter House the new comers being Miss Charlotte Hoffman, Miss Harriett Harazthy and Miss Mabel Williams. The Sorosis will probably take in one new girl this term, Miss Humphrey, although more may be initiated later. Alpha Thetas are "making" several girls but have initiated none as yet.

THE FRESHMEN GLEE.

The freshman class of the State University will hold its glee the evening of the 30th inst in Harmon Gymnasium. The committee on decorations consists of Miss Arents, Miss McCulloch, Miss McAllister, Miss Metrovich, Miss Thompson Smith, Gundlefinger and Parker.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

The University students will hold a special drill Tuesday. The freshmen have now received their guns and uniforms will be donned for the big drill.

The University co-eds of the class of '99 will tender a reception to the male students of the same class Friday evening at Stiles Hall.

The Associated Students of the State University have offered $5 for the best football song for the Thanksgiving game. The writer must be an undergraduate.

The Agriculture Committee of the University faculty are preparing a programme for another series of Farmers' Institutes. This time the institutes will be held in Central California.

COURT COMMENT.

Extensive Litigation in Progress Before the Superior Judges.

The London and San Francisco Bank has presented a claim against the estate of George J. Ainsworth for $13250, balance due on a $15,000 note.

Irving H. Coonradt has asked to be appointed guardian of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Virginia Coonradt, who was committed to the Stockton Insane Asylum yesterday afternoon.

J. F. W. Sohst, Joseph Wohlfrom and John L. Bromley have appraised the estate of Philip ~etz, deceased, at $17,022.25.

F. C. Boehmer has commenced suit against the Oakland, Alameda & Piedmont Electric Railway Company for $15,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by a collision which occured on the company's line on April 6, 1896, at Eleventh and Harrison streets.

Ida O'Leary has secured a divorce from Thomas O'Leary, custody of the minor children, Elsie and Lloyd, and $25 a month alimony. She is also allowed to resume her maiden name of Ida Dockery.

In the matter of the petition of George Bates, formerly principal of the Berkeley Gymnasium, to be declared an insolvent debtor, John J. Moran, manager of the Peralta University Academy has made an affidavit charging Bates with being in possession of $697.50 received from Bardwell Bros. and which affiant alleges rightfully belongs to him.

W. M. Brandon, H. Latham and George A. Norton have appraised the estate of Robert M. Marrack, deceased, at $2,000.

Charles Lafferty has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of Mary Lafferty, deceased. The estate consists of a house and lot at 918 Sixth street, this city, and is worth about $1000.

The estate of John W. Wuelzer, deceased, has been appraised by Melvin Wise, W. H. Friend and J. G. Foorman at $900.

The Hickmott Canning Company has sued Elizabeth Jayne, Emily E. Mills, Edson Adams, Teresa Cassorly et al, to quiet title to property on the corner of First and Myrtle streets.

THANKS TO ELLIOTT.

Woman Suffragists Acknowledge His Good Work for the Cause.

Albert H. Elliott, of the firm of Stearns & Elliott, Nevada block, San Francisco, has been one of the ablest and most effective speakers for woman suffrage during the present campaign. He has spoken several nights every week, and his services have been wholly a free-will offering. Mr. Elliott counts several noted lawyers among his ancestry, but he is entirely a "self-made man," is a graduate of Berkeley, and has already made a name in his profession. He is a son-in-law of Professor Bunnell. At a meeting of the Alameda County Suffrage Society yesterday the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That this society extends to Mr. Albert H. Elliott its sincere thanks and gratitude for his services in the cause of woman suffrage during the present campaign, and hopes to be able in the future to express a more substantial recognition."

A LIVING POSTER SHOW.

It Will Be Given for the Benefit of the Vested Choir.

Money Must Be Raised to Pay the Expenses of the Vestments.

Next Sunday evening, the Girls' Vested Choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will make its second appearance and will assist in the church services. This choir is composed of forty members in all, twelve of whom are young ladies. The young ladies sing at the evening services only and are clad in the Oxford vestments. This is the only girls' choir on the coast that is garbed in the Oxford gown. The other girl choirs have adopted the regular surplice and gown of the boy chorister, some of them wearing the Oxford mortar board.

The young ladies will only appear at evening services and it is believed that their innovation in choir music will serve to increase the attendance at this service. The plan of having young ladies sing was introduced by the Music Committee which is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. L. L. Bromwell, Chairman; Mrs. H. C. Taft, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. H. E. McElrath, Mrs. C. E. Palmer, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Sumner Bugbee and Mrs Babcock.

The twelve young ladies whose voices swell the choruses at the evening services are under the leadership of Miss Margie Gaskill, who is the soloist and are as follows: Miss Chrissie Taft, Miss Bessie Palmer, Miss Irene Baker, the Misses Fore, Miss Clara Converse, Miss Winifred Morgan, Miss Clara Croit, Miss Hattie Currier, Miss Florence Sharon, Miss Julia Lee.

The Music Committee met this morning and made arrangements for an entertainment to raise funds to pay for the vestments of the new choir of girls. The entertainment will be a novel living poster show and will be the opening entertainment at the new Ebell rooms. The date has not been set as yet. The participants will be well known society young men and women.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SACRAMENTO, July 20, 1896.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-first session, beginning on the seventh day of January, A. D. 1895, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following prescribed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

Amendment Number One.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or this Constitution, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property" as used in this article and section is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Section 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Section 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Amendment Number Two.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be observed.

Amendment Number Three.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association; and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

Amendment Number Four.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

Amendment Number Five.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches; and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation, and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

Amendment Number Six.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, and an Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for the submission of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D. 1883, the said amendments are submitted, to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the State on

Tuesday, November the Third, A. D. 1896

The said amendments are respectively designated—

Amendment Number One,
Amendment Number Two,
Amendment Number Three,
Amendment Number Four,
Amendment Number Five,
Amendment Number Six.

Each ballot used at such election must contain written or printed thereon, the words:

"For the Amendment Number One," and "Against the Amendment Number One."

"For the Amendment Number Two," and "Against the Amendment Number Two."

"For the Amendment Number Three," and "Against the Amendment Number Three."

"For the Amendment Number Four," and "Against the Amendment Number Four."

"For the Amendment Number Five," and "Against the Amendment Number Five."

"For the Amendment Number Six," and "Against the Amendment Number Six."

Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the State, the day and year first written.

Silver and Gold.

"We believe that the free coinage of silver will bring gold to this country, and that, too, without the aid of syndicates."—Bryan's Speech at Syracuse, N. Y.

If that is the effect of the free coinage of silver, why does it not do so in the countries which now have free coinage? The South American States have had free coinage of silver for many years, yet the gold does not appear to be drifting to them. They have actually mined $25,000,000 in gold since the beginning of 1892, yet they have lost most of that, and, instead of the gold going to them under the free coinage of silver, as Mr. Bryan says will happen, they have lost their gold until they have today but $1.11 for each individual. Mexico has had free coinage of silver for many years; but, instead of attracting gold according to the Bryan theory, her gold has rapidly left her, so that, although she mines between four and five millions of gold a year, her gold money amounts to just 41 cents for each and every individual in her population, or one-twentieth of what the United States has per capita. Does this look as though the free coinage of silver would "bring gold to this country, and that without the aid of syndicates"?

"Gold and silver are different from other commodities in that they are limited in quantity. Corn, wheat, manufactured products, etc., can be produced almost without limit, provided they can be sold at a price sufficient to stimulate production, but gold and silver are called precious metals because they are found, not produced."—Bryan's Madison Square Garden Speech.

Does not Mr. Bryan know that the mining of gold and silver has increased with enormous rapidity in the past thirty-five years? The amount of gold produced from the mines of the world since 1860 equals all that produced in the world in over 350 years prior to that time. In a single year now the world produces more gold than was produced in a quarter of a century prior to the gold discoveries of California. The suspension of the purchases of silver bullion in 1893 so stimulated the miners of Colorado to search for gold that they more than doubled the production of that metal in a single year. The silver mines of the world since 1860 have produced more than half as much silver as they mined in the preceding 350 years.

THE HOMEOPATHS.

Interesting Proceedings at a Meeting of the Doctors.

At the recent meeting of the local homeopathic medical fraternity, held in the Unitarian Church, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. E. W. Bradley; vice president, Dr. George Argue, secretary and treasurer, Dr. N. R. Chamberlain; censors, Dr. R. E. Hill Jr., Dr. Schofield and Dr. Small.

An interesting programme, consisting of papers on medical topics and music, followed, during which Miss Little sang a prayer solo, the words of which, composed by Col. Little, were as follows:

When any one is sick, it's run for doctor quick,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do;
When Johnny's got a pain, and Sally's nose is raw,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do,
When we've got a broken leg by falling over a keg,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you sick or well, and I don't care if I tell,
That we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

We have no use for jalaps, castor oil or senna tea,
But we want you, doctors dear, us to see,
Whoever we are taken with fever or with chills,
Then we want you, doctors dear, with your pills,
Your sweet sugar coated, your cunning little doses,
Which offend neither palates nor our delicate little noses,
But cure us up so quickly and keep from being sickly,
Yes we want you, doctors dear, yes we do.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you sick or well, and I don't care if I tell,
That we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do

With your aconite and belladonna, your arnica and nux,
We want you, doctors dear, yes we do.
With ipecacuanha, colocynth and rhustox,
We want you, doctors dear, yes we do.
The allopaths ain't in it, no, not even for a minute,
So we want you, doctors dear, so we do.
They cannot beat your china, your kali and your phos,
Just give us high dilution and you are bound to be the boss.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you every minute and nobody else is in it,
For we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

NOTICE.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Take notice that upon a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County, State of California, which will be held on Monday, the 26th day of October, 1896, the petition herein published will be presented to said Board for its action.

All persons interested in said matter are hereby notified to be present at said time that they may present objections, if any they have, to said petition.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California—Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, and each of us, do hereby petition and request your honorable body to incorporate as a municipal corporation, under and in accordance with an act entitled "An Act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13th, 1883, and the amendments thereto, the territory included and embraced in the limits and boundaries hereinafter particularly described and set forth as the proposed boundaries of said corporation, and which said territory is located in the County of Alameda, State of California.

We hereby petition and request your honorable body to incorporate said territory in accordance with said Act last hereinbefore mentioned, under the name and designation of the Town of Emeryville.

We further certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that the proposed boundaries of said proposed municipal corporation are particularly described and set forth as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the northern boundary of the City of Oakland, 150 feet easterly from the easterly line of San Pablo avenue, measured at a right angle to said line of San Pablo avenue, and running thence northerly parallel with and 150 feet distant from said line of San Pablo avenue to a point 150 feet easterly from the easterly line of Adeline street measured at a right angle to said line of Adeline street, thence northerly parallel to and distant 150 feet from said line of Adeline street to a point 150 feet distant easterly from and measured at a right angle to the easterly line of Lowell street, thence northerly parallel with and distant 150 feet from said line of Lowell street to the southern boundary of the Town of Berkeley, thence westerly following the southern boundary of the Town of Berkeley to its intersection with the northern boundary of the City of Oakland, and thence easterly along said boundary of the City of Oakland to the beginning.

We hereby further certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that the number of inhabitants within said proposed boundaries and limits of said proposed municipal corporation and in said proposed municipal corporation is 1,500

We, the undersigned, further hereby certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that we and each of us are qualified electors of the County of Alameda, State of California, and are residents within the limits and boundaries of said proposed municipal corporation as said limits and boundaries are hereinbefore described and set forth.

We the undersigned, therefore pray that the said territory hereinbefore referred to and designated, the boundaries of which are hereinbefore particularly described and set forth, be incorporated under the provision of an Act entitled "An Act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13th, 1883, and the amendments thereto.

AN OPEN TOURNAMENT.

The Brunswick-Balke People Want a Big Billiard Contest.

Playing to Be Conducted Six Days at New York and Chicago.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. has made the following proposition for an international billiard tournament and in the event of this not materializing, an offer for a tournament confined to American players.

"We will give a purse of $7500 for prizes to be contested for in two six-night tournaments, one at New York City and one at Chicago, at 14 or 18-inch balkline, one shot in balk, anchor barred, six hundred points each game. It is stipulated that at least two of the three leading American players, Ives, Schaeffer and Slosson, shall take part in the tournament and that two of the leading French players shall also enter, but the tournament is not restricted to those four entries. The entries will close on November 21st.

"In case this proposition does not meet with the responses we hope for, we will make another offer to American professional players only. We will give $5000 as prizes for two tournaments, one at New York City and one at Chicago, provided that no less than two of the three leading players, Ives, Schaeffer and Slosson, take part, and also that not less than five players in all compete in each tournament, but the entries are not to be limited to that number."

FRATERNAL NEWS

Grand Army Men Preparing a Memorial to Dr. Root.

ODD FELLOWS IN SESSION.

They Assemble in Their Grand Encampment at Santa Cruz.

MASONS HOLD THEIR ELECTION

Notes of Many Meetings and Gossip of the Lodges.

With the exception possibly of the generals of the army and the President of the United States, there was no person more widely known and more heartily esteemed in loyal territory during the war of the rebellion than was Dr. George F. Root, of the then musical firm of Root & Cady of Chicago.

The doctor died a few years ago and the announcement of his death brought again before the people the name of the composer who, during the great struggle to put down secession, had, by his inspiration sung Federal armies into victory as he had also soothed at home those bereaved by the price that had been paid for those brilliant but bloody achievements.

It was Dr. Root who gave to the world those stirring songs which, it may be remarked, will endure as long as a hero of the late struggle survives, namely: "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," "Yes, We'll Rally 'Round the Flag," "Just Before the Battle, Mother," "The Vacant Chair," "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag," and a number of other compositions, which were sung from the center to the circumference of the continent. The last mentioned piece was intended to emblazon in memory the last words of a gallant young soldier, Colonel Mulligan, commander of the 9th Illinois regiment of volunteers, words spoken on the field at Winchester when he was stricken down by the enemy's bullet. As his men raised him for the purpose of bearing him off the field, he made use of those words, "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag." The music to which these words and the sentiment which they inspired were adapted did not have the martial ring that many of Root's other works had, for the reason that the subject called for a less demonstrative treatment. It was, however, effective and brought tears to the eyes of both auditors and singers when it was sung in thousands of homes in the great State which had sent the young soldier to the war. The song was all the more effective in that it showed how carefully Mulligan had treasured in his heart the pledge he had made when, before an assemblage of Chicago's leading citizens of the day, he accepted that same stand of colors which was committed to his care by a beautiful young lady who subsequently became noted in relief work among the soldiers. Mulligan pledged himself to defend the banner with the last thought of his mind and the last drop of blood in his heart. That promise he fulfilled to the letter because it was borne out by the words he uttered when stricken unto death and when the advance of the enemy seemed imminent, namely, "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag."

It is fitting that such men as Dr. Root should be remembered, and it is especially appropriate that his memory should be perpetuated by the men whose sufferings, daring, valor and success he sang as has no other contemporaneous composer sung of the late war or of any other war in history.

The members of the Grand Army are not wealthy. Few of them can give more than that which is necessary to bear the minimized expenses of membership in their order and to offer assistance to needy brethren. And yet, in the East, they have undertaken the erection, at Sheffield, Massachusetts, the birthplace of Root, a white marble building in memory of the composer. The G. A. R. posts in that section have assessed their members 10 cents per head for the purpose of raising a fund to be contributed toward the purpose in view. It is expected that $25,000 will be raised for the work. Geo. H. Thomas Post of San Francisco has voted $40 toward the fund. It has not yet been decided what Oakland's Posts will do in the premises, but there is no fear that they will allow the occasion to pass without doing something in the premises.

In this connection the Tribune has been requested to make the suggestion to the several posts of the G. A. R. in this vicinity that the occasion offers an excellent opportunity of teaching the present generation the songs which thrilled the nation a generation ago. These war melodies are now sung at intervals, but many of them have never been heard by thousands of boys and girls whose patriotism will in no measure be lessened by the effort. An entertainment could be given in the Tabernacle with cheaply prepared or borrowed scenery to represent the fireside, scenes in the field, in prison, the plantation and other places and with these as the background for the effective tableaux suggested by the stories told by the several ballads, the vocal numbers and choruses could be rendered with an effect never felt here befor. There is not one of those pieces that does not suggest either a stirring or pathetic scene with a side light at plantation life, thus affording scope for a great display of variety of talent. The primary object would be a revival of those great war ballads, the next the raising of funds for the needy soldier during the coming winter, and finally, the appropriation of a small contribution to the Root monument fund. If all the Posts and Corps were to take hold of this matter there is no doubt that all the talent and military assistance required to carry out the idea could be secured gratis.

You wouldn't think much of a man who remained tied when he had a knife in his hands, would you? He would be foolish to remain helpless when the slightest effort would free him. A man is made helpless and useless by other things besides ropes. Constipation will make a man helpless. His muscles and brain are so weighed down with impure, poisonous matter, useлessly retained in the system, that effort of all kind is distasteful; and what little work he is able to perform is not of good quality. Constipation makes a man sluggish and heavy. It gives him a headache, most likely. His "brain doesn't work." He has a bad taste in his mouth, a foul breath, and he "feels bad" all over. Constipation causes nine-tenths of all human sickness. It is the cause of sick and bilious headaches, of biliousness, sour stomach, heart-burn, palpitation of the heart, pimples, blotches, indigestion and dyspepsia. It can be cured just as easily as a rope may be cut. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will do it. They will do it without producing any harmful effect on the rest of the system. They are not violent in their action. They merely assist Nature. They will restore the healthy, natural action of the digestive organs. You don't become a slave to their use. You stay cured when you are cured. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative; two a mild cathartic. Get them at druggists. Nothing else is "just as good."

If you will send 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, we will send you post-paid, a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This 1,008-page, illustrated, medical work contains more information about the human body in health and disease than any other medical book printed in the English language. If you would like to have a copy bound in fine, French cloth, send ten cents additional (thirty-one cents in all). World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Portuguese Emblem.

In view of the prominence given to the Portuguese Union of this State, as a consequence of the recent grand lodge meeting in Pleasanton in this county, the following interpretation of the badge of the order which has heretofore not been understood, may be of interest:

The badge is historic, patriotic and benevolent. On it is found a square rigged ship of the fifteenth century, indicative of Vasco Di Gama's exploration from eastern to western lands. Above the ship's masts are arranged two unfurled flags, one of the land of Portugal, the other of the adopted country of the members. The rays of the setting sun are spread over the Golden West. The upper part of the emblem bears the initials U. P. E. C., which in Portuguese signify Uniao Portugueza do Estado California, and translated means Portuguese Union, State of California. This is a beneficiary society, whose motto is Union, Protection and Charity.

Masonic.

The intimation conveyed in these columns a week ago with reference to the outcome of the election of some of the grand officers of the Masonic Grand Lodge of this State, which was held on last Friday has been verified.

Geo. Johnson has been re-elected grand secretary, a position which he has filled with ability for several years and which there is little doubt he will continue to fill in the same manner for many years to come. The office of grand secretary in the Masonic order is one which is changed only after long intervals, and then only for cause, in the majority of cases it is death which removes the incumbent from his place. It is a fact that after a long series of years of arduous and successful labor the original grand secretary of the Masonic order in this State, Alex Abell, was elected for the last time while he was on his death bed and, after he had served the order for more than a generation. He died shortly after he had been notified of his last election. In the history of the order in California there have been only three grand secretaries, and Mr. Johnson is the man who is third in line. He is still a young man and there is every reason to hope that he will long retain the position which thus far he has adorned.

The new junior grand warden, Charles L. Patton of San Francisco, a portrait of whom appeared in the Tribune of a week ago on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home at Decoto, Mr. Patton holds the position of president of the Board of Directors of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home. He has discharged the duties of that office in a very capable manner and as a consequence has been given a position which is in line with that of the highest office in the gift of the Masonic order in this State. Mr. Patton has many friends outside the Masonic order in this State and they as well as his brother Masons, are pleased with the preferment which has been conferred upon him.

LIVE OAK LODGE.

The second degree will be conferred in Live Oak Lodge No. 61, F. & A. M., tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The third degree will be conferred October 30th.

Order of Eastern Star.

At the twenty-fourth annual session of the grand chapter, order of Eastern Star, which assembled in San Francisco last Tuesday, ninety-four chapters regularly organized and fourteen chapters under dispensation were represented.

The report of Mary T. Dean, the grand treasurer, showed that the order is now in a better financial condition than it has been since the organization.

Knights of Pythias.

Tomorrow night the Page Rank will be conferred in a manner unprecedented in the history of the organization in this city. Many new features will be introduced. Prof. J. N. Bonham promises a surprise of a musical character. All members of the order, especially sojourning Knights who have never had the privilege of witnessing the elaborate manner in which Oakland lodge confers that rank should avail themselves of this opportunity to be present.

Oakland lodge No. 103, at its session last Friday night, received the report of the committee on investigation on the application of Stranger Carlson. The report was of a favorable nature and the stranger was balloted for and elected.

As is usual with the conventions of this lodge, a large number of the brethren were present, and, under the head of "Good of the Order" a flow of reason, wit and humor prevailed.

AT ST. HELENA.

Pluto lodge, K. of P., acquitted itself nobly as a host Saturday evening week, when it entertained nearly fifty Knights from Suisun, Napa and elsewhere, says the St. Helena Star. The third degree was conferred on Esquire Hazen, by a team of twenty Knights from Suisun, and as a compliment to him the band boys turned out and escorted Pluto lodge to the depot to meet the visiting brethren. There were twenty members from Suisun lodge, fourteen from Napa, Past Grand Chancellor Morrison of San Francisco and a number from Oakland. At the banquet which followed the exercises a speech was made by Julius Fransden of this city.

Grand Orient.

Alameda Council, No. 1, Order of the Grand Orient, held a very enthusiastic meeting last Friday night, after the Council had been opened in due Oriental form, the grand herald announced that there were several weary pilgrims clamoring at the outward gates for permission to enter and receive the Oriental degree.

The grand padishah requested the grand medico examiner, Dr. J. F. Fearn, to receive and satisfy himself as to the physical qualifications of the applicants for Oriental honors. The examinations having proved satisfactory, the grand herald then introduced Pilgrim C. A. Wakefield of Pride of Butte Lodge of Chico; Larimer of Piedmont, No. 172; Squires, Hansen, McDonald and Dickson of No. 103, who were instructed in the impressive ritualistic lessons of the order.

Alameda Council contemplates tendering its members another one of its pleasant social entertainments and banquets. The banquet will be got up under the supervision of Prince J. H. Moon of Alameda Council, No. 1.

Bathsheba Sisters.

Calanthe Temple, No. 6, Order of R. S., at its convention last Thursday, initiated one candidate and received two applications for membership.

Calanthe Temple is one of the most progressive temples in the grand jurisdiction.

Applications for membership are being received at nearly every one of its sessions. Its reputation as an entertainer is an excellent one. Its experimental period is a thing of the past, and the light of prosperity illuminates its horoscope of futurity.

Native Sons.

Grand Vice President Clark will officially visit the parlors, N. S. G. W., of the county during the early part of next month, as follows: Alameda, No. 47; Oakland, No. 50; Las Positas, No. 96; Eden, No. 113; Piedmont, No. 120; Wisteria, No. 127; Halcyon, No. 145; Brooklyn, No. 151; Athens, No. 195.

A volume which will be of a great deal of interest to present and future officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West is that which is now in course of preparation, and which will be distributed by Grand Secretary Lunstedt early next month. It will contain a digest of the decisions rendered by the different grand presidents from the time of the meeting of the Grand Parlor, in 1878, up to those rendered at the meeting of the Grand Parlor which was held recently in San Luis Obispo.

Athens Parlor, No. 195, N. S. G. W., held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening, a large attendance being present.

An application was received from F. A. Eish Jr., which was allowed to take its regular course.

A new Ninth of September Committee was appointed by President Maloney to serve until May, 1897, consisting of Ben F. Woolner, H. B. Belden and C. D. Maloney.

Santa Rosa is already in the field for the next Admission Day celebration. Many of the San Francisco parlors have interested themselves in the matter, and will assist the Santa Rosa people in their endeavors to secure the prize.

Order Star of Bthlehem.

The officers of Star of the West Lodge, S. of B., No. 15, of San Francisco, were recently installed by Deputy A. Karlson, Sir R. H. Larson, Sir L. A. Iverson and Ladies M. E. Mullin and E. Adams of Star of Truth Lodge, No. 19, O. S. B. of this city.

Red Men.

Tecumseh Tribe, No. 62, has changed its night of meeting from Friday to Monday. This change took place last Monday night, and was made for the accommodation of members whose occupations and whose membership in other organizations rendered Friday evening inconvenient.

Several applications for membership were handed to the chief of records at the last council meeting. A social time is expected at the next meeting, the 26th inst. All Red Men are invited.

Pawnee Tribe, No. 67, of Alameda, conferred the hunter's, warrior's and chief's degrees Thursday evening last.

GRAY EAGLE TRIBE.

District Deputy Great Sachem William G. Robinson visited Gray Eagle Tribe, No. 65, at its council meeting on the 14th inst. He reports an active and improved condition of all the tribes in his district. The warrior's and chief's degree will be conferred on three applicants by Gray Eagle Tribe next Wednesday evening.

POCAHONTAS DEGREE.

Wyoming Council, No. 16, Degree of Pocahontas, I. O. R. M., is holding weekly meetings and steadily increasing its membership.

Last Monday evening, two pale faces were adopted into the council. About twenty members of Minnewawa Council of Elmhurst were present and helped to make the evening one of interest.

Catholic Ladies' Aid Society.

The C. L. A. S. will hold its election of officers Monday evening, October 26th, at Y. M. I. Hall, 1058 Broadway.

Odd Fellows.

The forty-second session of the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows is in session in Santa Cruz. The report of Grand Patriarch George W. Reid of Santa Cruz showed a net gain of 100 members during the past year. There are eighty-eight subordinate encampments in the order in this State, and of these seventy-three had been visited by the grand patriarch.

These encampments have a membership of 5,286, which represents a gain of 160 members over the number of last year. During the past year, there was expended for the relief of patriarchs $19,209.65, for the relief of widows $365, for burial purposes $2,924, for charitable purposes $968.40, making a total of $23,226.45. The assets of the subordinate encampments amount to $151,597, which represents an average of $29 per member.

The report of the grand treasurer showed a balance on hand of $1,405.

The report of Grand Representatives Downs and Roesch, who attended the Sovereign Grand Lodge at Dallas, Texas, showed that the growth of the Rebekah order throughout the country had been phenomenal during the past year, the increase in membership in the auxiliary order being 37,854. The report also showed that there are included with the Supreme Grand Lodge jurisdiction 800,000 lodges, 750,000 encampments and 251,000 Rebekah lodges. The total revenue from these lodges amounted to $8,500,000, while the amount disposed of in charity reached $3,500,000. The order owns 2,050 buildings valued at $13,000,000. Throughout the world's jurisdiction of the order, there are, as was shown, twenty-six homes for orphans, widows and aged Odd Fellows.

At yesterday's session, a per capita tax of 10 cents was levied for the maintenance of the Odd Fellows' Home of this State at Thermalito.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: J. N. Doran, grand patriarch; O. S. Erlewine, grand high priest; J. W. Harris, grand senior warden; William H. Barnes (re-elected), grand scribe; George W. Lamont (re-elected), grand treasurer; Joseph Foster, grand junior warden; George W. Reid, grand representative; H. S. Winn, P. A. Week and W. S. Potter (re-elected), trustees.

The next Grand Encampment will be held at Los Angeles.

In the competitive drill of cantons, Patriarchs Militant, three cantons took part, namely, Sacramento, No. 1; San Francisco, No. 5, and Oakland, No. 11. Oakland Canton required 20½ minutes, San Francisco 23 minutes and Sacramento 21 minutes to go through the evolutions.

A decision has not as yet been rendered as to which canton will bear off the trophy, which is valued at $500, independently of a purse of $100 raised by the Odd Fellows of Santa Cruz.

Among the members of the staff of Brigadier General Crossett who were present were Major George Kirk and Major F. B. Ogden of this city.

ELDERLY ODD FELLOWS.

Speaking about elderly members of the Order of Odd Fellows, reference to whom was made in these columns several weeks ago, Secretary Barnes of the Veteran Odd Fellows' Association has something to say. In the Tribune was published a paragraph to the effect that a member of the order in Decoto in this county, named James W. Hawley, claimed to be the oldest member of the order in this State, on the ground that he had been for fifty-three years continuously a member of the organization. Mr. Barnes, however, says that he has on his list of members the names of a dozen men who have been in the order for "fifty-six years or more."

If Secretary Barnes will make known those names, as also as to the lodges the owners belong to, and where they were initiated, he will contribute an interesting feature to fraternal work and one that will be greatly appreciated by the members of the Odd Fellows' Society in this county.

Young Men's Institute.

A special session of the Board of Grand Directors, Y. M. I., has been called for November 7th. Every council of San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda has been requested to appoint delegates who are to represent their respective councils at that special session and determine upon the best plan to celebrate the next Y. M. I. day. The next regular meeting of the board will be held November 14th.

OAKLAND COUNCIL.

Next Wednesday evening the eleventh annual ball of Oakland Council, No. 6, will take place at Masonic Hall, Twelfth and Washington streets. The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will have charge of the decorations, which guarantees that they will be both attractive and tasty.

United Workmen.

There will be quite a pleasant time at the meeting of Pacific Lodge, No. 7, this evening. The event will be the initiating of a number of young men as members of the order.

This is the first installment of new members for Pacific Lodge under the new assessment plan, but from the number of applications in sight, it will not be the last.

The candidates for this evening are all young men, one of them being only a little over 18 years of age. The work will be performed by the uniformed drill team, and after the close of the lodge refreshments will be served. Members of the order are generally invited to be present.

The arrangements for the anniversary celebration, which is to be held at the Exposition Building next Tuesday evening, are about completed, and there is no doubt it will be attended by the Workmen and their friends generally.

KEYSTONE LODGE.

No A. O. U. W. lodge in Oakland is in a more prosperous condition than Keystone Lodge, No. 61. Applications for membership are coming in rapidly. The officers of the lodge are kept busy initiating candidates, and the drill team frequently renders its services.

Financier J. G. Poorman forgot his muse last week, but made amends for his forgetfulness with an eloquent address, full of wit, humor and common sense.

Master Workman Henry Schwarz, Recorder Geo. S. Johnson and others made interesting remarks.

Past Master J. D. Taylor's speech on "Insurance" was loudly applauded. He spoke at length upon the importance of members becoming more interested in the social and fraternal part of the organization, concluding with three friendly suggestions to new members as follows: "Look before you leap, choose for your investments an order that is vigorously and honestly conducted in all its departments and in which the relation of surplus to liability justifies the expectation of stability and security. The A. O. U. W., with 365,000 members, speaks for itself.

"And do not overleap. Take no more insurance than your depending anticipation of income makes it more than probable you can maintain.

"Stick. When you have joined your order, stand firm. For your family's sake, for your character's sake, for truth's sake, do not break the contract. Let your motto be, 'The beneficiary, it must and shall be preserved'."

The Entertainment Committee reported that the Tabernacle had been secured for next Tuesday evening, October 27th, at which time a fine programme will be carried out.

OAK LEAF LODGE.

Oak Leaf Lodge, No. 53, A. O. U. W., had an excellent attendance at its meeting last Monday evening.

Two new members were initiated into the mysteries of the junior workman degree, the past master workman officiating with his customary ability and impressiveness.

Past Master Cogan, chairman of the Special Committee on Celebration, reported that the programme for the celebration had been completed, and that the entertainment to be given at the Exposition Hall (Mills Tabernacle) next Tuesday evening, in honor of the twenty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the order, would be the grandest in the history of the A. O. U. W. of Alameda County.

The master workman appointed Brothers McAlister, Jacobsen, Harris, Terrabee and Preston to act as ushers at the celebration entertainment.

Past Master Workman Preston read an interesting paper on an economic question, which was greatly appreciated.

After lodge closed, Brother Cogan, chairman of the initiating team, and the members of the team go through some practice work, which they did in a very creditable manner.

Next Monday evening three new members will take the workman degree.

Oak Leaf initiatory team will also have the screen work included on this occasion in the initiatory rites and ceremonies.

Companions of the Forest.

The regular meeting of Loyal Circle, No. 823, C. O. F., held last Thursday evening, was largely attended. Three new companions were initiated into this new circle, which is only four months old and consists of very sociable and agreeable members. It already has thirty-five names on the roll and two new applications are on the table. If this circle prospers as well in the future as it has in the past, there is a chance that it will become the banner circle of Alameda County in charitable and secret work.

After the meeting, refreshments were served, consisting of coffee and cake. Games were played until a late hour, a new game being introduced by the treasurer, Mrs. N. C. Noblett, entitled "The Horse Game," which created a great amount of laughter.

Degree of Honor.

Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. W. J. Masters will visit Dawn of Hope Lodge D. of H. on the 31st inst.

IVY LODGE.

Ivy Lodge No. 4 Degree of Honor A. O. U. W. initiated a new member Wednesday evening.

Three applications for membership were received.

Grand Recorder Mrs. Poland announced that the Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Masters would leave this week from Los Angeles on a visit to all the different Degree of Honor Lodges in her jurisdiction and that on Wednesday evening, November 18th she will visit this city.

The Grand Chief of Honor will visit Silver Star Lodge, Temescal, next Thursday evening; Minerva Lodge, Alameda, Friday, October 30th and Dawn of Hope Lodge, West Oakland, Saturday, October 31st.

Brother Ingler stated that he and Sister Ingler will leave this week on a trip to Los Angeles where they will sojourn for several weeks. The affable brother said he would make it his duty to visit the different Degree of Honor Lodges in the southern part of the State and give them Ivy Lodge's greeting.

Brother Cogan spoke upon the true meaning of fraternity and in an eloquent speech, requested the members of Ivy Lodge to visit sister lodges whenever they have the opportunity and try to encourage them to continue in the good work.

The brother's remarks had such effect that a delegation immediately agreed to meet Friday night at five minutes past 8 o'clock and take the Alameda car at Broadway and Eleventh street on a visit to Minerva Lodge, Alameda.

The new by-laws were read and adopted and the Committee which framed them, Sister Macdonald and Brothers Poland and Mitchell was discharged with thanks.

Brother Lissner gave into the charge of the Chief of Honor a beautiful gold emblematic pin to be presented to the sister bringing in the largest number of members before the end of the year.

Brother Lissner, Sister Reichman, Sister Oakes, and Sister Butler were appointed the New Attraction Committee for next Wednesday evening.

The regular Monthly Social Committee, Sisters Murray, Mitchell, Marks, McAlister, Preston, Brothers Marks and Isaacs promise a good programme for Social Night Wednesday evening, November 4th.

After the lodge adjourned, the Drill Team went through a number of exercises under the supervision of Sister and Brother Poland, Brother Hall officiating as organist.

A Lively Horse With a Lot of Sound Intelligence.

"Peggy" is the plain blunt name of a mare housed at the Dashaway Stables on Eleventh street, near Franklin street, and for common sense and good judgment she leads every horse in town. She is a favorite with the patrons of the stable. The other day Peggy was driven to San Leandro. The man who drove went into a restaurant and forgot all about the unhitched team. When he came out it was gone. He searched high and low but without success. Late at night he returned to the stables only to find that Peggy had come home on her own account foot sore and buggy sound. This is only one of Peggy's samples of intelligence.

UP-TO-DATE PHOTOGRAPHY.

Nearly every one knows that Oakland is a leading city for fine photographs, but possibly there are a few people that still go to San Francisco for their pictures. PANIC REIGNS IN THE WHEAT MARKET.

Six More Points Lost Today in San Francisco, Making a Total of Twenty-Three Since Monday.

CHICAGO TRADERS CRAZED WITH EXCITEMENT.

Wild Efforts to Sell and the Bottom Falls Completely Out of the Market.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Following the drop in price in Chicago wheat, the local market took a sudden drop again today, declining six points during the morning sessions of the Produce Exchange.

This is a fall of thirteen points since yesterday morning and a fall of twenty-three points since Monday.

The excitement continued at the Call Board room this morning, and prices were hammered down a point at a time.

Eleven thousand tons of wheat changed hands up to noon.

December wheat closed yesterday at $1.39¾ per cental, opened today at $1.39, sold as low as $1.32, closing at noon at $1.33½.

May closed yesterday at $1.43½, opened today at $1.43, high at $1.43½, closed at noon at $1.37.

Since the close of the noon session at San Francisco, a curb quotation at Chicago was received, giving a rise of ⅝ per cent.

The bulls are confident that the market will be firmer.

CHICAGO'S PANIC.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Wheat took another downward plunge this morning.

Opening trades for December options were made from 73⅞@74¼c, the highest figure paid being exactly a cent under yesterday's closing.

It sold immediately down to 73½c, rallied slowly to 73½, then started on a rapid and nervous decline to 72½.

Various influences contributed to the weakness, the chief being the tightness of the money market.

Almost five cents a bushel was clipped off the price of wheat today.

December wheat closed yesterday at 75¼c, finished today at 70½.

It is not often a price has such a sensationally sudden collapse.

Stop loss orders were in the hands of every commission man who had customers long on wheat and when the decline came early today it caught most of these.

It was practically impossible to execute the stop loss orders, at any given figure and the result was an almost unanimous rush to sell.

Close, wheat, October, 67½; December, 70⅛. Corn, October, 22@22¼; December, 23⅝. Oats, October, 17⅛; December, 18⅛.

The closing 15 minutes on change were marked by scenes of almost unparalleled excitement.

In that brief period the price of December option which had been tumbling around 73¼Z73¾c in an uncertain fashion for som time, fell to 70¼c, the lowest point of the day.

The latest decline occurred within five minutes.

Liquidations had been going on a large scale all day.

The fact that Armour was offering large lots of cash wheat was costrued as meaning there was no immediate prospect of improvement in the money market.

About 1 o'clock Cudahy's wheat began to go over. It was the last straw.

In a minute the wheat pit, which had been lively enough before, was in a perfect pandemonium.

Wheat was thrown on the market in a perfect deluge.

From 78c to 72c, which drop occurred in almost less time than it takes to chronicle it, it was impossible to sell a bushel.

Down the price went until 71¼c had been reached.

Then the market quieted for an instant.

But it was the calm before the storm.

Away it went again and in the closing minutes the market was in a perfect panic.

Noone wanted to by, everyone wanted to sell and a minute before closing December was offered at 70¼c.

As the closing bell rang out, 71½c was being quoted.

EXCITEMENT IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—On the Produce Exchange this afternoon, a sensational drop of prices startled the whole trade and completely demoralized the wheat pit.

Prices slid down the scale a quarter to a half at a time, wheat selling off nearly 4 cents in half an hour.

The close was very nervous at 77½ for December.

DULL IN LONDON.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—At the Baltic today cargo wheat market was dull at opening, with sellers generally offering at a shilling less than yesterday and no bids.

It was reported the Berlin wheat market opened with free offerings at three marks down and the market was steady at a decline.

LIVERPOOL REPORT.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 22.—Wheat today opened with fair business at 1½d decline.

After recovering ½@¾d it returned to opening prices, finally closed excitedly with a decline of 3@3½d in sympathy with the American market.

IN PARIS.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Flour and wheat opened here today with free offering at 50 centimes per hundred kilos under yesterday's prices, but recovered 25 centimes toward the close of the market.

MURDERED BY SAVAGES.

Details of the Massacres at the Soloman Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Details of the Salmon Island massacre were brought here today by the steamer Oceanic from Australia.

The victims of the savages were members of a party of Austrians taken to the islands by the Austrian man-of-war Albatross.

The party was under the leadership of Henry Baron Foulion Von Norbeck, the Austrian scientist.

Baron Von Norbeck and three others were killed.

Another of the party was fatally wounded and six were dangerously wounded.

The Fight Ended by Their Fainting Through Loss of Blood.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Kato Nishamto and Harry Nismato, Japanese, and cousins, fought a bloody duel today at their boarding house.

Harry got off better, but his body is covered with wounds and gashes.

The row began over payment of a debt and Harry used a big butcher knife, while Koto wielded a Japanese naval sword.

Both fainted from loss of blood but they may recover.

The Umatilla to Be Docked and Put in Commission Again.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 22.—The steamer Umatilla, which recently went ashore at Point Wilson, finished discharging its cargo this morning and left for Quartermaster Harbor in tow of two tugs, where she will be docked and repaired.

Eight pumps are continually discharging water to prevent the vessel from sinking.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

A Brilliant Scene at the Pageant at Santa Cruz.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 22.—The parade of Odd Fellows this morning was the largest ever witnessed here.

Hundreds of spectators lined the sidewalks as the procession moved along Pacific avenue.

Grand Marshal Frank Mattison had for aids Lieut. A. A. Morey and M. C. Hopkins.

In the procession were General J. F. Crosett and Col. W. H. Sherburne with their staffs mounted.

The Patriarchs Militant with flashing swords and waving plumes were represented by Cantons from San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland and Stockton.

Besides the Grand Encampment their subordinate encampments from Santa Cruz and Watsonville, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from all parts of the county were in line, also the young ladies drill corps.

THE LAWS OF CURRENCY.

A Stirring Address to the Students of Princeton University.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22.—Fair weather today made the exercises of the Zusqui Centennial Anniversary Day doubly enjoyable.

The presence of the President of the United States had the effect of increasing the already large crowd in town.

Alexander Hall in which the ceremonies were held, was packed almost to suffocation, when Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler of Brooklyn began the exercises with a simple, heartfelt prayer for the continuation to Princeton University of the prosperity it enjoyed under the title of the College of New Jersey.

Before the beginning of the celebration, the Philadelphia City troop assembled at the home of President Patton, where President Cleveland had been the guest over night and escorted the head of the nation on foot through the University grounds to Alexander Hall.

Mrs. Cleveland was driven in an open carriage, under the escort of Mrs. Patton, to the hall.

Delegates representing institutions of learning all over the world and the faculty assembled at Marquand Chapel and clad in their academic gowns, made their impressive march to Alexander Hall, preceding President Cleveland.

After Dr. Cuyler's prayer Dr. Patton made the formal announcement that what was formerly the College of New Jersey will henceforth and forever be known as Princeton University.

A scene of wonderful enthusiasm followed.

Dr. Patton then announced the endowment fund received, amounting to nearly a million and a half dollars, not including amounts contributed for Blair Hall by John I. Blair and the new library.

The ceremony of conferring degrees on sixty-five men elected for that honor was next on the programme.

President Patton desired to confer the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Mr. Cleveland, but the President modestly declined the honor.

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon a large number of European college professors and scholars, including Karl Brugmann of the University of Leipsic; Edward Dowden, Trinity College, Dublin; Andrew Seth University of Edinburgh; Goldwin Smith of Toronto and Joseph J. Thompson, University of Cambridge.

Among Americans similarly honored are: Joseph B. Angell, University, Michigan; William Gardner Hale, University of Chicago; William T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education; Joseph L. Cole, University of California; Seth Lowe, Columbia University, New York City.

The Degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred, among others, upon Rev. Morgan Dix, New York; Bishop John F. Hurst, Washington, D. C., Rev. S. J. Niccolls, St. Louis; Rev. Professor M. B. Riddle, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Upon the following, among others, the Degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred: Richard Watson Gilder, Augustus St. Gaudens, Horace E. Schurder, Charles Dudley Warner.

The honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws was also conferred in Absentia upon Lord Kelvin, the Scottish naturalist and Otto Struve, formerly Director of the Observatory of Pulkowa, Russia.

Next came the principal event of the day,—the address by the President of the United States.

CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen—As those in different occupations and with different training each see most plainly in the same landscape a view of those features which are mostly nearly related to their several habitual environments, so in our contemplation of an event or occasion, each individual especially observes and appreciates in the light his mode of thought supplies such of its features and incidents as are most in harmony with his mental situation.

Kidnapping Arranged for the Viceroy of Canton.

THE SUSPECTS IMPRISONED.

One of Them Believed to Be at the London Legation.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Globe publishes a startling story of the alleged kidnapping and imprisonment of a Chinaman at the Chinese Legation here.

The newspapers says he Chinese Government learned in November last there existed a conspiracy to seize the Viceroy of Canton as the first step towrads the overthrow of the present Manchu Dynasty.

The plot was disclosed by the premature importation of 400 coolies to Canton from Hong Kong to assist in the capture of the Viceroy, which aroused suspicion.

Some leaders were arrested and confessed.

One, a doctor named Sun Yatsen, escaped to America and thence made his way to London.

This doctor, it is alleged, has been missing since Saturday a week ago.

Some of his English friends claim they learned he was imprisoned at the Chinese Legation having been seized by a couple of Chinese at the Foreign Office.

The Scotland Yards authorities have been notified and detectives are watching the Chinese Legation to prevent the removal of the Doctor.

Friends have applied for a writ of habeas corpus but it is doubted whether the writ is applicable at the Legation.

The Chinese officials deny the Doctor is detained at the Legation, but friends of the alleged conspirator profess to have conclusive evidence he is there.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—News received here from Eastern Anatolia says that widespread fear exists of a renewal of massacres.

In the middle of September Kurds from the Kharput district overran the Vilayet Sivas, destroyed and looted six Armenian villages, killing a number of the inhabitants.

The village of Pinguian had 200 houses burned and sixty inhabitants massacred.

It is further stated that a woman committed suicide by jumping into the Euphrates to escape the brutality of the Kurds.

CASTLE SENDS WORD TO HIS FRIENDS

He Repeats His Protests of Innocence and Sa... He Will Come Out of the Fire Unscathed.

HIS WIFE STILL IN A DISTRESSFUL CONDITI...

Baroness Hirsch Has Given Him $5000 for a San Francisco Hospital.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The officials of the United States Embassy have received a letter from Mr. Walter Castle of San Francisco who with his wife is under $250,000 bail pendening approaching trial, at Clerkenwell Sessions on a charge of stealing furs and other articles from various stores in this city.

In the comunmication Mr. Castle expresses deep gratitude for all they and the other officials sa well as friends of the family in America, have done in his behalf.

Castle says: "Never during my long business career, has there been the slightest suspicion or hint against my honor. In my present misfortune I am equally blameless, and by God's help I will remain so in the future."

Continuing, Castle writes: "The most difficult task of my life is to frame words which can in the smallest degree express my feeling of heartfelt gratitude for the kindness showed upon me by the honorable gentlemen of the Embassy and by my seemingly unlimited number of friends in London and America.

"I owe them a debt of gratitude which cannot be liquidated in a life time and the more I think of the loving care with which I have been watched and protected during my days of misfortune, the less can I comprehend hom it is possible that a man, comparatively unkown and thousands of miles away from home, can awaken such sympathy and secure the disinterested support of such a large number of prominent people of both great nations."

Later in the day Castle called at the London office of the Associated Press and said he hoped the Associated Press would again convey expressions of his gratitude to his friends in the United States.

Mr. Castle, who was looking as though he had regained health and confidence since his appearance in court Tuesday, told in a straightforward manner the circumstances of the case as already cabled.

He added: "I was leaving England in the best of spirits, had enjoyed my vacation and had at the same time opened important business connections here and on the Continent, which in my opinion would please my brother and help my firm.

I was also taking home to my mother good news in regard to a project which is dear to her heart, namely the Jewish Hospital in San Francisco. I had approached Baroness Hirsch on the subject, and had just received a letter dated Eichhorn, Austria, in which the Baroness subscribed $5,000 to Mount Zion Hospital, San Francisco."

Referring to the health of Mrs. Castle, Mr. Castle said: "My wife is in the same condition. There is some one constantly with her, and there can be no doubt as to her unfortunate condition. I think it unnecessary for any doctors or witnesses to come from America."

Sir Edward Clarke, Q. C., formerly Solicitor General, has been retained for the defense of the Castles.

BETRAYED A TRUST.

H. N. Whipple Levants With $355 Odd Fellows Money.

HE WAS THE TREASURER

A Bad Business Investment on San Leandro Road.

HIS DEPARTURE A SURPRISE.

A Warrant for Embezzlement Issued In the Case.

H. W. Whipple, the treasurer of the Elmhurst Lodge of Odd Fellows, has lavanted and with his has gone $355 in coin which belonged to the order. A complaint charging him with felony embezzlement has been sworn to and if he is caught every effort will be made to send him to the penitentiary.

The warrant is in the hands of Constable Weldon of East Oakland, who thinks he has a clue to the whereabouts of the missing man. From information received it is believed that he is in Fresno and a messenger has been sent to the officers there to arrest him.

Whipple formerly owned a saloon in Elmhurst, which from its former proprietor is known as "Billy Perul's." It was bought by the lavanting treasurer about six weeks ago and the gorgeousness of the "opening" is still the talk of the San Leandro road. His proprietorship was of short duration, for on the first of this month he sold his interest to his partner and on the 8th harnessed up his horse and drove away.

He took with him a young lad who went about 200 miles, but when Whipple said he intended driving across the desert the boy's courage failed and he returned home.

It was some time before the Elmhurst Odd Fellows could fully realize that they had been robbed for Whipple was well liked in the town and very popular. He spent money with a lavish hand and was good to rich and poor alike. When, however, his order did conceive that it had been his dupe it lost no time in getting the machinery of the law to work. Walter K. Damon swore to the complaint before Justice Lawrence of Brooklyn Township.

Whipple is a single man and about 40 years of age.

WAS NOT A PLOT.

Andrus Was Killed While Experimenting With an Invention.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Chief Manbien of the Yonkers police, said today the mystery surrounding the tragic death of Hamlin J. Andrus of Elington Chemical Co., who was killed by an explosion in his office yesterday, has been explained.

The chief said Andrus had not been killed by anarchists, nor was his death the result of any plot as at first supposed.

After a careful investigation the chief has reached the conclusion Andrus was experimenting with a machine he intended to use on a safe to kill burglars should they attempt to rob the safe.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Editor Marshall of the Alameda "Telegram" in Trouble.

CARPENTER IS AFTER HIM.

The Veterinarian Wants the Articles About Him Investigated.

EXTRACTS COMPLAINED OF

The Doctor's Professional Work Is Given Caustic Criticism.

Dr. Thomas L. Carpenter, the veterinarian of Alameda, has filed a complaint charging E. L. Marshall of Alameda with criminal libel. The document was prepared by District Attorney Snook and a warrant will be served early this afternoon.

The cause of the complaint is an article in the Telegram of Alameda of October 18th, which is edited by Marshall and which reads as follows:

"I was informed yesterday that two gentlemen residing in this city had written to Ontario Veterinarian College which institution the "Hoss Dr." Carpenter claims as his place of graduation, making inquiries as to how long the "Dr." attended that school which is supposed to impart knowledge of the "hoss" and bovines. This is a course that I would not have adopted. If they do not think his record straight, take his actions here. The charge has been made openly that this fellow who draws a salary of $75 per month from the city, and is also an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was paid to do some investigating in a divorce suit in which a crumped up charge was made against a lady in the case in order to humiliate her by association her name with one not of her social standing or learning. Charles Foster refused to do such work as this! The situation of the Veterinary Inspector is evidently not very arduous or the 'hoss Dr.' would not have time to attend to so many irons at the same time. I predict some of them will get burned before he is much older."

This article bears the following heading:

"Persons Interested in the Doctor."

On the 18th of this month, the following article also appeared in the Telegram, and it, too, is complained of as being libelous:

"A friend of mine met H. P. Moreal the other day making a display of an abnormally swelled eye. 'Kicked by a cow?' queried my friend, nodding in the direction of his injured optic, remembering at the same time an item that appeared in these columns saying that a cow who had any respect for herself would not kick the "hoss" doctor Carpenter. 'No,' replied Mr. Moreal laughingly, 'that cow did not kick me. I was hunting for a few days, and a twig of manzanita bush struck me in the eye.' But coming back to the 'Dr.' My friend Louis Schaffer ex-Chief of Police of Oakland, who it is said knows more criminals than any other man in the county, informs me that the 'hoss' doctor was virtually run out of Oakland, and he will queer himself in Alameda if he is given time. By the way, one thing struck me very forcibly, and that was Mr. Schaffer did not mince his words a bit. He says if the 'hoss' doctor gives him half a show, he will tell him more to his 'teeth.' I know Mr. Schaffer pretty well and will bank on him doing just as he says he will do. Detective John Ferran also tells some good stories on the 'hoss' doctor that are almost too good to keep. They may find their way in print before the 'Dr.' is much older."

MULLER AND TYE.

All in Readiness for the Great Contest This Evening.

Everything is in readiness for the Acme's entertainment at the Tabernacle tonight and much interest is being manifested in the affair. The bout between Muller of the Manhattan Club and Tye of the Acme will be the principal event. The men are evenly matched, both are plucky and skilful and in the pink of condition, and the victor will have to work for his laurels.

The San Francisco clubs are displaying as much enthusiasm as the local ones and blocks of seats have been sold across the bay.

The entertainment begins at 8:30.

A ROYAL BRIDE.

Princess Helene Makes a State Entry at Rome.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ROME, Oct. 22.—Princess Helene of Montenegro made her state entry into Rome today.

The Princess and relatives arrived at 11 o'clock and were welcomed by King Humbert, Queen Margaret, the Crown Prince, her betrothed husband, ministers, members of the Diplomatic Corps; etc.

The streets to the palace were thronged and gaily decorated.

The procession, composed of twenty royal carriages, was preceded and followed by strong detachments of cuirassiers. Their majesties and the Princess were continually cheered.

Military bands stationed along the route played the national anthems of Italy and Montenegro.

HEAVY TAXES.

The Sultan Is Raising Money and Making Military Preparations.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—An Irade has been issued levying a poll tax of five piastres per head on all Musulmans and increasing the taxes on sheep, public works and education by one to one and a half per cent.

These taxes, with the revenue from five projected monopolies, will it is estimated, produce 1,200,000 Turkish pounds which will be used for military purposes.

These military preparations in connection with the tone of the Turkish press against the Armenians have excited comment.

CLEVELAND'S CRITICISM.

its enhanced opportunities for doing good.

"The graduate of Princeton sees the first evidence of greater glory and prestige that have come to his alma mater and the added honor thence reflected upon him, while those still within her student halls see most prominently the promise of increased dignity which awaits their graduation from Princeton University.

"But there are others here, not of the family of Princeton, who see with an interest not to be outdone the signs of her triumphs in fields of higher education and the part she has taken during her long and glorious career in the elevation and betterment of a great people.

"Among those I take an humble place, and as I yield to the influences of this occasion I cannot resist the train of thought which especially reminds me of the promise of national safety and guaranty of prominence of our free institutions which may and ought to radiate from the universities and colleges scattered throughout our land.

"Obviously a Government resting upon the will and universal suffrage of the people has no anchorage except in the people's intelligence.

"While the advantages of collegiate education are by no means necessary to good citizenship, yet a college graduate, found everywhere, cannot smother his opportunities to teach his fellow countrymen and influence them for good, nor hide his talents in a napkin without recreancy to his trust.

"In a nation like ours, charged with the care of numerous and widely varied interests, a spirit of conservatism and toleration is absolutely essential to collegiate training.

"The study of principles, unvexed by distracting and misleading influences, and the correct apprehension of the theories upon which our Republic is established ought to constitute the college graduate a constant monitor, warning against popular rashness and excess.

"The character of our institutions and our National self-interest require a feeling of sincere brotherhood and a disposition to unite in mutual endeavor should pervade our people.

"Our scheme of government in its beginning, was based upon this sentiment and its interruption has never failed and can never fail to grievously menace our National health.

"Who can better caution against passion and bitterness than those who know by thought and study their baneful consequences, and who are themselves within the noble brotherhood of a higher education.

"There are natural laws and economic truths which command implicit obedience and which should unalterably fix the bounds of wholesome popular discussion, and the limits of political strife.

"The knowledge gained in our universities and colleges would be sadly deficient if its beneficiaries were unable to recognize and point out to their fellow citizens these truths and natural laws and to teach the mischievous futility of their non-observance or attempted violation.

"The activity of our people and their restless desire to gather to themselves especial benefits and advantages lead to a growth of unconfessed tendency to regard their Government as a giver of private gifts and to look upon the agencies for its administration as distributors of official places and preferment.

"Those who in the university or college, have had an opportunity to study the mission of our institutions and who in the light of history have learned the danger to the people of their neglect, the patriotic care they owe the national life entrusted to their keeping should be well fitted to constantly admonish their fellow citizens that the usefulness and beneficence of their plan of government can only be preserved through their unselfish and loving support, and their contented willingness to accept in full return the peace, protection and opportunity which it impartially bestows.

"Not more surely do the rules of honesty and good faith fix the standard of individual character in a community than do these same rules determine the character and standing of the nation in the world of civilization.

"Neither the glitter of its power, nor the tinsel of its commercial prosperity nor the gaudy show of its people's wealth can conceal the cankering rust of national dishonesty and the lover of meanness in national bad faith.

"A constant stream of thoughtful, educated men should come from our universities and colleges preaching national honor and integrity and teaching belief in the necessity of political parties, nor do I deny their desirability.

"I recognize wholesome differences of opinion, touching legitimate governmental policies and would by no means control or limit the utmost freedom in their discussion.

"I have only attempted to suggest important patriotic services which our institutions of higher education and their graduates are fitted to render our people, the enforcement of those immutable truths and fundamental principles which are related to our national condition, but should never be dragged into the field of political strife nor impressed into the service of partisan contention.

"When the excitement of party warfare presses dangerously near our national safeguards, I would have the intelligent conservatism of our universities and colleges warn the contestants in impressive tones against the perils of a breach impossible to repair."

"When popular discontent and passion are stimulated by designing partisans to pitch perilously near class hatred or sectional anger, I would have our universities and colleges sound the alarm in the name of American brotherhood and fraternal dependence.

"When an attempt is made to delude the people into the belief that their suffrages can change the operation of natural laws, I would have our universities and colleges proclaim that those laws are inexorable and far removed from political control.

"When a selfish interest seeks undue private benefit through Governmental aid and public places are claimed as a reward of party service, I would have our Universities and colleges persuade the people to a relinquishment of the demand for party spoils and exhort them to a disinterested and patriotic love of their Government for its own sake and because in its true adjustment and unperverted operation it secures to every citizen his just share of the safety and prosperity it holds in store for all.

"When the design is to allure people from honest thoughts and blind their eyes to the sad plight of National dishonor and bad plight, I would have Princeton University panoplied in her patriotic traditions and glorious memories, and joined by all the other Universities and colleges of our land cry out against the infliction of this treacherous and fatal wound.

"I would have the influence of these institutions on the side of religion and morality.

"I would have those they send out, among the people not ashamed to acknowledge God and proclaim his interposition in the affairs of men, enjoining such obedience to His law as makes manifest the path of National perpetuity and prosperity.

"I hasten to concede the good already accomplished by our educated men in purifying and steadying the political sentiment; but I hope I may be allowed to intimate my belief that their work in these directions would be easier and more useful if it was less spasmodic and occasional.

"The disposition of our people is such that, while they may be inclined to distrust those who only on rare occasions come among them from an exclusiveness savoring of assumed superiority, they readily listen to those who exhibit real fellowship and a friendly and habitual interest in all that concerns the common welfare.

"Such a condition of intimacy would, I believe, not only improve the general political atmosphere, but would vastly increase the influence of our Universities and colleges in their efforts to prevent popular delusions or correct them before they reach an acute and dangerous point.

"I am certain, therefore, that a more constant and active participation in political affairs on the part of our men of education would be of the greatest possible value to our own country.

"It is exceedingly unfortunate that politics should be regarded in any quarter as an unclean thing, to be avoided by those claiming to be educated or respectable.

"It would be strange, indeed, if anything relating to the administration of our Government, or the welfare of our Nation, should be essentially degrading.

"I believe it is not a superstitious sentiment that leads to the conviction that God has watched over our National life from its beginning.

"Who will say the things worthy of God's regard and fostering care are unworthy of the touch of the wisest and best of men?

"I would have those sent out by our Universities and colleges not only counsellors of their fellow countrymen, but tribunes of the people—fully appreciating every condition that presses upon their daily life, sympathetic in every untoward situation, quick and earnest in every effort to advance their happiness and welfare and prompt and sturdy in the defense of all their rights.

"I have but imperfectly expressed the thoughts to which I have not been able to deny utterance on an occasion so full of glad significance and so pervaded by the atmosphere of patriotic aspiration.

"Born of these surroundings, the hope cannot be vain that the time is at hand when all our countrymen will more deeply appreciate the blessings of American citizenship, when their disinterested love of their Government will be quickened, when fanaticism and passion shall be banished from the field of politics and when all our people, discarding every difference of condition or opportunity, will be seen under the banner of American brotherhood, marching steadily and unfalteringly on towards the bright heights of our natural destiny."

At the conclusion of the President's address, the entire assemblage arose and sang "America."

Benediction by the Right Rev. Henry Yates Saterlee, Bishop of Washington, D. C., concluded the centennial exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were entertained at lunch at 1 o'clock by President and Mrs. Patton, invitations being issued to the visiting delegates.

Later in the afternoon a reception was given by President and Mrs. Patton to the President and his wife.

Over a thousand invited guests paid their respects to the Chief Executive and Mrs. Cleveland.

This function lasted until 5 P. M., and immediately afterward the President and Mrs. Cleveland were escorted to their special train and the homeward journey to Washington was begun at 5:15 P. M.

MRS. HARTMANN DEAD.

The Wife of the Proprietor of the Crellin Passes to Rest.

Mrs. M. N. Hartmann, the wife of the proprietor of Hotel Crellin, died this morning at 5:15 o'clock. Her death was due to heart disease. She was taken suddenly ill Sunday evening and her symptoms were alarming from the first. Wednesday all hope for her recovery was deemed useless and her children, who lived in distant towns, were hastily summoned.

Death came quietly in the early morning hours.

Mrs. Hartmann was 66 years of age and was born in Hungary. Her husband came to the coast in the early fifties and she soon joined him. He has always been in the hotel business and with his wife's assistance has managed some of the largest hostelries on the coast. He has been connected with the old and new Oriental of Walla Walla, Washington, the big hotel at Salt Lake, Utah, the Lick House of San Francisco, the old Grand Central and Weber House of this city. Both of the latter were burned down while he was proprietor. He opened the Hartmann House on Ninth street, now known as the Henry House, and after a retirement from active business for a number of years, he took charge of the Crellin Hotel two years ago.

In all of his enterprises Mr. Hartmann has been ably assisted by his wife, whose careful oversight of the hotel and business ability made her a capable manager. She was a woman of generous instincts and had many warm personal friends. She leaves six children, all daughters, four of whom are married, Mrs. Jonas, wife of the clothier on Broadway, Mrs. Josie Neuman of this city, Mrs. Rosie Rosenberg of Nevada City, Mrs. Lulu Goodman of Fresno and Misses Annie and Stella Hartmann, who resided with their parents at the Crellin. All of the children were with their mother when she died.

The funeral will take place from Mrs. Jonas' house, Tenth and Harrison, at 3 P. M. tomorrow.

A BLOODY SET-TO.

Turkish Troops and Albanians Fight in the Sultan's Palace.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The Temps this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Constantinople saying a conflict occurred at the Yildiz Kiosk (Sultan's Palace) between the Turkish and Albanian Guards.

Several men on both sides were killed.

SUED THE COMMITTEE.

The Old Republican County Organization in Court.

N. B. VAIL THE PLAINTIFF.

He Wants Judgment for the Services He Rendered.

ALL ARE CO-DEFENDANTS.

The Matter Will Be Pushed to a Final Outcome.

The threats of law suits which have been hanging over the heads of the old Republican County Central Committee for some time past culminated today in definite action, when Attorneys Hugh S. Aldrich and F. W. Sawyer filed a complaint in Judge Allen's court for N. B. Vail, the leader of the Infantry Band. The claim is based on services performed by the band at the dictation of the old committee and an assignment to Vail of a $75 claim by William August, making the total amount $192.

The individual members of the old committee are made defendants. They are Phil M. Walsh, A. L. McPherson, F. B. Armstrong, Charles Mautalen, J. H. W. Riley, W. H. Ford, John Stoiker, John Mitchell, J. G. McCall, F. J. Fletter, J. W. Evans, B. C. Hawes and V. C. Bernal.

The document in part reads as follows:

"That at all the time herein mentioned the defendants above named were members of and constituted a certain association or body known as the Republican County Central Committee of Alameda County.

"That within two years last past at the city of Oakland, in said county of Alameda, at the special instance and request of said defendants, the plaintiff performed services to and for said defendants, for which services defendants did then and there agree to pay said plaintiff the sum of $117.

"That said defendants have not paid the same, nor any part thereof."

William August's assigned claim is for services performed at Elmhurst under the dictation of the committee.

Vail asks for a judgment for the full sum and costs.

All the members of the committee have been served with summons though the regulation five days is allowed in which to file an answer.

Vail is very determined and declares that he will press the matter to the end, though the County Committeemen are inclined to treat the action jestingly.

Their claim is that the campaign committee is the one to sue.

One member speaking of the matter said: "He had already drawn a warrant for Vail, but now it is doubtful if we will pay him at all. He has tackled the wrong people when he tries to sue us, for we are not responsible."

CAN STAY IN AMERICA.

New Jersey Will Care for the Armenian Exiles.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The 134 Armenian refugees who have been held at Ellis Island for several days will after all be allowed to find homes in this country.

The New Jersey men who protested against the colonizing of the Aremnians by the Salvation Army in Ramsay, N. J., have appeared before Immigration Commissioner Senner to ask for the release of the Armenians.

The New Jersey delegation offered to support the Salvationist in securing bonds for the refugees so they should not become public charges.

E. T. SWENARTON DEAD.

A Former Well Known Oakland Man Passes Away in New York.

News was received in this today of the death on Thursday, October 15th, in New York City of Edward T. Swenarton, formerly a resident of Oakland.

Mr. Swenarton was well known in social and business circles here, being connected with Geo. B. M. Gray in the real estate business.

He left Oakland several years ago and was with his parents in New York when he died. Deceased was 28 years of age. The cause of death was consumption.

Goetlinger and Greenhood.

In the suit of George Goetlinger against Jacob and Aline Greenhood, the defendants, have filed an answer denying that Greenhood conveyed property to his wife for the purpose of defrauding his creditors, and alleging that the property in question is worth $40,300 and has incumbrances on it to the extent of $15,500 only. This property is situated on William street, Frederick street and at the corner of San Pablo avenue and Alden street. Affidavits regarding the value of the property in question have been sworn to by J. S. Meyers, William J. Dingee, P. A. Cameron, O. I. Denison, Jacob Greenhood, J. Tyrrell and C. K. Marshall.

A BAREFOOTED BURGLAR.

He Makes a Call at the Residence of C. B. Morgan.

A Noise Scared Him Away Before He Had Time to Steal.

A burglar took off his shoes and stockings, walked from the back parlor to the kitchen door in the residence of Capitalist and ex-School Director C. B. Morgan, and left, sometime during the night, without taking or disturbing any of the family's valuables.

The case was reported to the police this morning, and Detective Shorey, who investigated, could not find so much as a silver spoon missing. He therefor theorizes that the intruder was frightened away before fully commencing operations. None of the family were cognizant of the visitor's presence, so the noise which caused the fright was, if made by them, made unconsciously.

The Morgan residence is at Fourteenth and Brush streets, and the rear parlor window, which was left unlocked, was the one through which the burglar made his entrance. His footprints on the soft ground underneath it shows that he wore neither shoes nor stockings. The cook found the kitchen door unlocked this morning, and it is surmised that through this he made his exit.

TRIPPED UP FOR BIGAMY

A Gold Mine Confidence Man Runs Across a Snag.

His Many Wives Have Been Located by the Dakota Police.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—Allen J. Wines, the gold mine schemer, will be taken to Fargo, N. D., today where he is wanted for getting $1,2000 from a Swede under alleged false pretenses. He has a matrimonial record, according to the statements of H. J. Hansen, the deputy sheriff who came to take him back. Wines is said to have a wife in Fargo and another in Wilkesbarre, Pa., besides the woman he married in Cairo, Ill., last summer.

In Fargo Wines was known as Joseph Miller and it was under this name that he is alleged to have married Ella Nansen, a Fargo girl, and the daughter of a druggist of that place.

Mary James was the name of his Wilkesbarre wife and Miss Elizabeth Peters of Cairo, Ill., was wife number three.

CONATY IS FIRST CHOICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Prelates, members of the Board of Directors of the Catholic University, were called together this morning for a supplemental session and changed the time of the annual meeting to the second Wednesday in October instead of after Easter.

Archbishop Corrigan of New York has been delegated to write a letter to the Pope presenting the list of three names recommended for the rectorship.

Cardinal Gibbons asked the Archbishops to take such steps through the press and otherwise as lay in their power to overcome the public impression that the present meeting of the board and the events leading up to it had been of a sensational, scandalous character.

The impression prevails in church circles and is shared by some members of the board, that while Father Conaty heads the list, Vicar General Mooney will receive very favorable consideration by the Pope and possibly may be successful, though Father Conaty's chances are somewhat better.

The designation of Archbishop Corrigan to write the letter to the Pope was responsible in part, for the sentiment this morning favorable to Vicar General Mooney.

After the meeting of the Directors, the Archbishops assembled for their annual meeting.

The sessions are private.

The principal subject of consideration, it is thought will be the Indian School question as effected by the recent decision of Congress to do away with national aid to sectarian educational institutions.

TEMPORARILY INSANE.

The Coroner Investigates the Death of Bertha Wahmuth.

The Coroner summoned a jury and held the inquest this morning on the body of unhappy Bertha Wahmuth, the four-months' bride of William Wahmuth, who locked herself in a closet and turned on the gas.

The testimony showed that the girl suffered from melancholia and from the evidence introduced, the jury could only find that she took her life while temporarily insane.

The girl was but 23 years of age and very popular in the German society in the Encinal city.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow from her husband's residence, 1218 Broadway. The interment will be in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery in San Francisco.

Will Make Storage-Room.

Material is now arriving with which to place a cement floor in the basement of the annex to the hall of records. This work was not done when the building was erected because of scarcity of money. This floor will enable the basement to be used for storage of various articles which are now scattered around in the upper stories of the building.

FINZER'S FORTUNE.

The late Nicholas Finzer, a wealthy tobacco manufacturer of Middletown, Ky., on June 30, 1894, obtained a policy in The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York for $100,000, on the five per cent debenture, 10-premium plan, the annual premium being $8,133.

The death of Mr. Finzer makes this policy a death claim with the following results:

At the end of each year the Company will pay $5,000 to the wife of the insured, continuing such payments for twenty years, then if she is still alive the Company will pay the face of the policy—$100,000. In case of her death before the end of the twenty years the Company will continue to pay to her representative the $5,000 until the end of the twentieth year, when the full amount of the policy will be paid, thus making a total payment by the Company to the heirs of the insured of $200,000.

The total amount of premiums paid by the insured was $24,399, thus giving a net profit at the end of twenty years of $175,601 over cost.

In other words, by the payment of $24,399 in three years, Mr. Finzer has secured for his family and heirs a stated income of $5,000 a year for the next twenty years, or a five per cent investment on the principal of $100,000, which remains intact until 1916, not subject to loss by bad reinvestment or depreciation by the possible mismanagement of the executors, administrators or attorneys of his estate.

The widow and children are provided with an ample and certain income for twenty years, when the original $100,000 insurance is paid over to whoever is legally entitled to the same.

Also, TWO JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES: Alameda, Humboldt, San Diego, San Joaquin, Santa Clara and Sonoma.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING COUNTIES: Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, Contra Costa, Colusa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Inyo, Kern, Lake, Lassen, Mariposa, Marin, Merced, Mendocino, Monterey, Modoc, Mono, Napa, Nevada, Orange, Placer, Plumas, San Bernardino, San Benito, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Solano, Stanislaus, Yuba and Sutter, Tehama, Trinity, Tuolumne, Ventura and Yolo.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF FRESNO, for the unexpired term of S. A. Holmes, deceased, ending January, 1897; vice Stanton L. Carter, appointed.

Also, at said election, AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE, submitted by the Legislature at its last regular session, numbered and designated as hereinafter specified, will be voted upon by the electors of said State; namely,

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or this Constitution, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property," as used in this article and section, is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Sec. 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be preserved.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint-stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association, and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint-stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint-stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint-stock association, during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches; and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of any public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with any of its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

Each amendment shall be voted on separately from the others, by ballot, at the next general election to be held on Tuesday, the third day of November, 1896.

The said amendments are respectively designated:

Amendment Number One.
Amendment Number Two.
Amendment Number Three.
Amendment Number Four.
Amendment Number Five.
Amendment Number Six.

Each ballot used at such election must contain printed thereon the words:

Amendment Number One, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33 (exempting mortgages and trust deeds from taxation).	Yes.

A SUPERSTITIOUS FANCY.

The Vassar Graduate Failed to Appreciate the Fine Feather Duster.

A young business man went home the other evening with a very fine feather duster for his wife, who is a practical housekeeper, albeit she is also a graduate of Vassar and well up in all the isms and ologies of the day. It must be remembered that the conversation which ensued was not held in the dark ages, but in the present enlightenment of the nineteenth century, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Here's something you'll appreciate, Maud," he said, as he began to undo the numerous wrappings. "There was only one and it came over in two ships."

"What in the world is it, you dear old thing?" cried Maud, dancing around him.

"Guess, sweetheart."

"Oh, I know. It's a new umbrella for my birthday."

"Nothing of the sort. Shut your eyes. Now open them. There."

An immense duster of magnificent peacock feathers released from its sheath of wrappings was flourished before the young woman's eyes. She gave one look at it, then burst out crying.

"Maud, what is the matter?"

"Oh, Claude; how could you? Oh, oh, oh."

"Well, I like that. Upon my word I do."

"Oh, you cruel boy. When you know how u-u-unlucky it is to have peacock feathers in the house, and what dreadful trouble it makes to g-g-ive any one feathers," sobbed Maud.

"Then you don't want this feather duster?"

"Not for the world."

"Maud."

"Claude."

"I have a great mind to throw it out of the window."

"I wish you would, dear. We'll never have any luck with it in the house."

And the man who, going home late that night, picked it up, has been congratulating himself ever since on his lucky find.

Little Farms in Japan.

Japan, and not France or Belgium, would appear to be the land of petite culture. According to a recent American bulletin a couple of acres is considered a large tract for farming purposes. Most of the farms are smaller, and on a little plot a surprising variety of crops is cultivated—a few square feet of wheat, barley, maize and millet; a plot of beans perhaps 10 feet wide by 20 feet long, a similar area of potatoes and peas and a patch of onions "about as big as a grave;" beetroot, lettuce, turnips, sweet potatoes and other crops occupy the rest of the area. The farmer examines his growing crops every morning, just as an engineer inspects his machinery, and, if anything is wrong, he puts it right. If a weed appears in the bean patch he pulls it up; if a hill of potatoes or anything else fails it is at once replanted. When he cuts down a tree he always plants another. As soon as one crop is harvested the soil is worked over, manured, and forthwith sown to another crop. It is estimated that nine-tenths of the agricultural land of Japan is devoted to rice, and as this a crop requiring much water the paddy fields are banked up into terraces, one above the other, and divided off into small plots 25 feet or 30 feet square, with ridges of earth between them to prevent the water from flowing away when they are flooded. All farming lands are irrigated by a system that is a thousand-years old. Some of the ditches are walled up with bamboo wicker work and some with tiles and stone. Nearly half the total population of Japan is engaged in agriculture. Silk and tea, the two chief exports of the country, are raised almost by the work of women.—From the London Times.

A Tribute.

The worried-looking business man turned in his chair and gloomily looked after the clerk as he went through the door.

"That," he said in tones of suppressed emotion, "is the most reliable man in this establishment."

"Why, he's the one that's always making trouble."

"That's it. Whenever I give him a piece of work I can rely implicitly on his doing it wrong."

Bryan's rabbit's foot is thought to have had an important influence on his fortunes so far but it distributed no restraining spell over the Yale students the other day as a trustworthy and sound amulet ought to have done. They kicked and bellowed like a herd of Winnipeg buffaloes and wouldn't hear him, quenching his thunders in the index by louder ones of their own. There is probably something wrong about it. To be possessed of complete potency, the rabbit it belonged to should have been killed in a country graveyard at midnight, during the dark of the moon, on Friday, the 13th of the month, by a cross-eyed, left-handed, red-headed, bow-legged, full-blooded African of specified political principles, riding a white horse backwards. These are the conditions which authorities upon the mascot pronounce to be essential, and if they were all fulfilled neither Mithridates nor Wallenstein could have possessed [illegible] which united so many grewsome credentials. It would have been a piece of assistance in Hecate's cauldron, giving additional potency to the mess. The [illegible] which the candidate has carried is probably not genuine. Somebody has likely palmed off on him the foot of an ordinary domestic hare slain anywhere by anybody, with no ceremonies. In that case it will not help his Presidential aspirations or outlook in the least, and has no value except for its silver mounting, which he is entitled to hold at any [illegible] he likes without waiting for National international co-operation.—New York Tribune.

In the opinion of some who have come in contact with the Czar, it is neither knife nor bomb nor bullet that will send him to his account. He will be killed by fright. "A weakling from the day of his birth," says a British writer, "he never had any nerves worth speaking of, and those he did have are now gone. The autocrat of all the Russias is as timid as a hare and more tearful than a woman."

THURSDAY.........OCTOBER 22, 1896.

There was a transaction a few days ago in the Superior Court of New York that had a touch of novelty about it. Judge MacLean appointed three women who were members of the bar, to act as receivers in certain supplementary proceedings against debt and to satisfy judgments obtained against them. Mr.s Werner, then Miss Titus, was the first woman admitted to the bar in New York. She and Miss Haggerty are two of the four lawyers who are to deliver lectures on law this winter to classes of women in the New York University. These appointments made by Judge MacLean are not in important cases, still they show a beginning of confidence in the work of women engaged in the practice of law. One of the appointees was interviewed and said: "I hope that hereafter some better work of this kind will be allotted to the few women who are engaged in the practice of law."

The most intelligent opinion about the political prospects of Oregon that we have seen of late, was that recently given by a member of the editorial staff of the Oregonian. The fact is, and I am only stating what all well informed people of that section agree on, Bryan has absolutely no chance of getting Oregon's vote. In Portland the betting is 2 and even 3 to 1 in favor of McKinley carrying the State, and there is nobody willing to take the Bryan end of the wager. Portland is as strong a gold center as any town in the country, and the Gold Democrats out there are going to vote for McKinley. In Southern Oregon there is considerable free silver sentiment, but east of the mountains, where the sheep industry has been ruined by the Wilson tariff, the voters think far more of protection as a restorative of prosperity than of free silver. This section is strongly for McKinley.

Theodore Roosevelt addressed an enthusiastic audience at the Coliseum in Chicago under the auspices of the Republican College League Club. Robert T. Lincoln presided. These were among the telling points made by Roosevelt: "The dominant note in Mr. Bryan's utterances and in the campaign waged on his behalf is the note of hysteria. Messrs. Bryan, Altgeld, Tillman, Debs, Coxey, and the rest have not the power to rival the deeds of Marat and Robespierre, but they are strikingly like the leaders of the Reign of Terror in France in mental and moral attitude. Mr. Altgeld is a more dangerous man than Bryan. He is much slyer and more intelligent. The one plans wholesale repudiation, the other would connive at wholesale murder. For America to put men like these in control of her destinies would be such a dishonor as it is scarcely bearable to think of. In this Presidential election we confront a danger graver than any that has menaced the country since its birth, save at the election of 1860 alone. On the result of next month depends whether we shall hang our heads with shame because our country has become the dupe and willing prey of dishonest demagogues."

The Chicago Times-Herald relates this incident of Sir Walter Beasant when he was in that city. It has the real English flavor: "One day in midsummer while the World's Fair Auxiliary Congress of authors was in session the Art Institute became as hot as an oven, and Walter Beasant—the English novelist, now Sir Walter—nudged one of the managers of the Congress, while some one was reading a tiresome paper, and whispered: "I say, my man, can't we slip out of here and get a breath of air and a little something cool to drink?" The great and good man thus addressed readily assented and piloted the Englishman across Michigan avenue into a drug store and against a soda fountain. "What will you have, Mr. Besant?" he inquired, waving his hand toward the fountain. "Gimme a pint of 'alf and 'alf," promptly replied the novelist. The embarrassed pilot gasped and explained that no "strong" drinks could be bought there. Mr. Besant calmly adjusted his eyeglasses, looked the marble outfit over quizzingly and ejaculated: "It's one of those blarsted American fizzing machines! All right, go ahead; do you choose for me out whatever you consider [illegible]

Prosperity for California.

The man who works and votes for the election of Bryan is not working for the prosperity of California. It is time that this clear distinction was made. California attained its greatest prosperity by national legislation which Bryan repudiates. Four years ago the promise was made of still better times if a change of administration were made. But the four years that followed were the most trying ones this State has ever experienced.

Now comes Bryan and his supporters to tell another plausible story of prosperity if only he can be placed at the head of the Administration. But it is admitted that his election would be followed by a business crisis, and probably the worst ever known in the history of the country. Now the country has had a crisis for about four years. It has had enough of that. It wants now an exemption from business disasters, a restoration of confidence and a return to the old prosperity. What promise does Bryan give that he can do any thing to restore this prosperity? What promise does he make of a restoration of the ruined wool interest of California? What encouragement does he offer to the crippled raisin interest, to the citrus and to the fruit men generally, when he has openly declared that he was the enemy of that protection that had once secured them some measure of prosperity.

These questions are now brought home in a practical way. One of the best friends that California ever had in Congress outside of California, was Blaine. The vote of the State was cast for him because he was in favor of protecting every interest that made for the prosperity of California. McKinley is Blaine's successor as the staunch friend of every productive industry. These men had nothing in common with Bryan or the doctrines that he has announced. No voter who has had at heart the interests of California can consistently cast a ballot for Bryan. If he is a friend of this State from the ground up, he is also a friend of the man who is at the head of the Republican ticket.

Outlining Public Parks.

Engineer Bridge's report about public parks is good reading. A great deal of discussion and planning will necessarily precede the practical work of securing any such public improvement. If a few citizens take the initiative something in time will be done. The proposed conversion of the marsh in West Oakland into a small park, has never met with any strong opposition. There seems to be a general concurrence of opinion that such a result ought to be reached at no distant day.

But this one small park reclaimed from the marsh, would never entirely satisfy the needs of the city. It would of course be a great acquisition, the first step as it were, towards a still greater improvement. Ever since any public interest has been attached to Lake Merritt, it has been considered as an adjunct of a public park. Somewhere between the Lake and Piedmont, there would be a public reservation of not less than five hundred acres that would constitute the future park of Oakland. There would be a connection between the Lake and the Park by means of a broad avenue or boulevard, or perhaps by a still wider strip of land.

This idea is still cherished. It has been dormant for some years. But now and then, it is turned over and given an airing. This of course is not the only plan that has been outlined. But it is sufficiently definite to invite further consideration. The park will take shape whenever the public is in earnest to have it. There is so much land available for such a purpose, that there is little danger of going amiss in making the best selection.

Dr. Coyle in Oakland.

The resignation of Dr. Coyle, formally announced last evening, was met by a protest from his people. So far as we can learn, every member of his great church and congregation are opposed to the change. They believe the right man is in the right place, and the work that he has done and is now doing, is the best evidence of that proposition.

But beyond this particular congregation, there is the still larger interest of the community. Dr. Coyle has met his full share of responsibility as a citizen. He has been found in the right place when public interests of vital importance were at stake. He has in this way become identified with all the better interests of the city, and of many interests which reach beyond it. For this reason the protest of his church against his leaving is seconded by the protest of the community. The fact that there is this unanimity of sentiment ought to go a long way to bring about a reconsideration of the proposed change.

Quite a spirited controversy is going on in some of the Eastern papers as to who was the first discoverer of anesthetics. Fifty years ago for the first time in the history of surgery, ether was successfully applied as an anaesthetic at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. Dr. J. Collins Warren, the surgeon, at the request of Dr. Morton, a dentist, permitted the latter to administer ether to a patient upon whom he was about to perform an operation. This was done on October 16, 1846. To the astonishment of all present the person under treatment remained in perfect unconsciousness, and the usefulness of ether as a means of preventing pains was established. The anniversary of the event will be celebrated not only in the United States, but also in Europe, especially in France."

The Hartford Courant, one of the most conservative papers which seldom ever gives place to an extravagant utterance, breaks out in this way: "That was a converted, regenerated, sanctified "rebel yell" that rang through the streets of Canton, Ohio, last week. No wonder it was musical in the ears of Major McKinley and the other old soldiers of the Union who listened to it. It brought home to mind and heart the glorious changes of the years. The old battle cry had been transformed into a shout of generous devotion to the welfare and honor of the one dear, undivided, never-to-be-divided country. It was as patriotic as the words, full of brotherly feeling and simple broad Americanism, with which McKinley greeted the Southern men that uttered it."

Bryan Is Not a Friend of California

The very best reason in the world for voting against Bryan is that he is not a friend of the industrial interests of this State, and never has been since he has had any public record. He is not a friend of laboring men, and they know it. That is the reason that no large delegations of working men have ever gone out to meet him, as they have gone to meet McKinley. The dinner pail army is not for Bryan. He contributed as much as any other man to destroy their prosperity while in Congress. He was one of the conspicuous men who put the blight on American industry. No, there are not so many dinner pails in evidence by many thousands as there were four years ago. While a member of the Ways and Means Committee of Congress he was no friend to labor. This incident is described by the New York Mail and Express:

"It is important to keep in mind at this time, when Mr. Bryan is appealing with tearful earnestness for the votes of the workingman, that it was he who heaped upon labor the grossest insult to which it was ever subjected in the halls of Congress. He was a member of the Ways and Means Committee of the House that framed the Wilson bill. During the discussion several representative manufacturers from Pittsburg, accompanied by delegations of their employes, appeared before the Committee to urge the maintenance of schedules that would afford reasonable protection to the industries in which they were interested. H Sellers McKee ventured to explain that the abolition of the duties on glass would paralyze one of the greatest interests of Pennsylvania; whereupon, Mr. Bryan, who had assumed charge of the discussion for the Committee, interrupted him by angrily declaring:

"Oh, you manufacturers are robbers."

This brutal outburst so shocked the workingmen in attendance that one of their leaders turned to Mr. Bryan and asked: "If the manufacturers are robbers, what are we?" To this Mr. Bryan immediately retorted with great vehemence:

"You are public beggars, and so is everybody else that asks for a protective tariff that will benefit him."

Of course every man in California who wanted to save the wool industry from ruin by maintaining a protective tariff, was a beggar and a robber. Every man who would develop the fruit industry was in the same category. In short as a majority of the citizens of this State are not only in favor of protection, but have asked directly or indirectly that that system should be maintained in behalf of the infant industries of the State, they are according to the Bryan classification, robbers and beggars. And now the man who has insulted labor in this way wants the votes of laboring men. There will soon be an opportunity for the wage earners of California to settle with Bryan at the polls.

Venerable old Princeton University is about to celebrate the 150th anniversary of that institution. Here is a reminiscence of early days. It was one of the college laws: "No member of college shall wear his hat in the college at any time, or appear in the dining room at meal time, or in the hall at public meeting, or knowingly in the presence of the superiors of the college, without an upper garment and having shoes and stockings tight. Every scholar shall rise up and make obeisance when the president goes in or out of the hall or enters the pulpit. Every Freshman sent on an errand shall go and do it faithfully and make quick return. Every scholar in college shall keep his hat off about ten rods to the president and five to the tutors."

It is reported that Oliver Ellsworth, of the class of 1766, was summoned before the college faculty, charged with violating the last-named rule. He made the following defense: "A hat is composed of two parts, the crown and the brim, consequently it is not a hat, and I can be guilty of no offense." His argument could not be gainsaid by the tribunal and he was discharged, although it afterward appeared that the brim had been torn off to make a test case. This precocious logician, was in later life appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

IN CHARITY'S CAUSE.

An Excellent Entertainment Is to Be Given This Evening.

LINCOLN WILL BE HEARD.

The Proceeds Are to Go to the Ladies' Relief Society.

A RECEPTION TO BE HELD.

All Who Can Should Attend and Enjoy the Programme.

The Ladies' Relief Society will give an entertainment and reception at the First Presbyterian Church this evening. The entertainment will consist of a monologue by Frank Lincoln, the humorist, and will be followed by a reception in the Boy's Brigade room of the church. The reception will be in the nature of a social event, as the Reception Committee consists of prominent society ladies assisted by several younger ladies who will serve refreshments.

The entertainment is not only to raise funds, of which the society is sorely in need, but to bring the organization before the general public. The Ladies' Relief Society is the oldest charitable organization in this city and has for a number of years been prominently identified with philanthropic enterprises. It established the home for the old ladies, children and babies at Temescal, and has accomplished far reaching results in this instance.

In the organization of many new charitable societies, the Ladies' Relief Society has to a certain extent been forgotten. For a long time its affairs were in such a prosperous condition that there was no necessity of calling upon the public for assistance. Lately, owing to the depression in properties owned by the society, and the withdrawal of State aid amounting to $250 per month, the society finds itself sadly crippled. The organization needs funds, and money must be raised by some means. At first it was thought advisable to raise the money by subscriptions, but much to the members' surprise there appeared to exist an ignorance concerning the society and its work. It was therefor decided to adopt some way of bringing the society and its wants clearly before the public, and this evening's entertainment is for this purpose. At the reception, the general public may meet the directors and members of the society and become personally acquainted with the aims of the organization.

The entertainment will be excellent, and will in every way conform to the high standard of entertainments that this society always gives. Their receptions have always been events of social importance.

Frank Lincoln, who has offered his services for an hour's entertainment, is a clever, versatile humorist, whose talk never grows tiresome or lags in interest. His manner of entertaining his audience is a novel one and thoroughly enjoyable. He is a most wonderful musical mimic, and can imitate perfectly the performance of an entire grand opera troupe. This feature is remarkable in many respects, and has attracted attention wherever given. Lincoln is a genius in monologue, and his amusing social travesties were considered in London far more amusing and interesting than Albert Chevalier's costermonger songs. Lincoln does not devote himself to any one class of types for his descriptive talks, but cleverly and originally depicts the humorous phases of life among all classes.

The ladies who have charge of the committee intend to make tonight's entertainment and reception as swell an affair as the former receptions, balls, luncheons, theatricals and other affairs that were formerly given by this society and were considered social events of the year.

The reception room and auditorium of the church has been elaborately decorated by Mrs. H. P. Livermore and a staff of ladies. Mrs. James Spier of Berkeley assisted by Miss De Fremery and a corps of young ladies, will attend to the serving of ice cream in the charmingly decorated tables. Other committees are composed of the following ladies:

Entertainment—Mrs. Taft, Mrs. R. G. Brown, Mrs. McElrath, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Blake, Miss De Fremery, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Gelette, Mrs. F. L. Brown, Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. Maury, Mrs. Lilienerantz, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Livermore, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Cotton and Mrs. Wellman.

Ways and Means—Mrs. F. S. Stratton, Mrs. Dam, Mrs. Wellman, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Livermore, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Spiers, Miss Miner, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. F. L. Brown, Miss De Fremery.

A VICIOUS ASSAULT.

Attorney Fred Krause Charges Leonard Keller With a Serious Offense.

Fred Krause, the attorney, made application to District Attorney Snook today for a warrant charging Leonard R. Keller with assault upon his stepdaughter a young woman about 16 years of age.

Keller has been arrested and placed in jail.

The offense was committed, it is alleged, under most aggravating circumstances.

Krause resides in Fruitvale, and one Sunday evening about three weeks ago, Keller called at the Krause home and went thence as escort to Krause's stepdaughter to evening service at the Fruitvale Presbyterian Church.

After the services had closed at the church, Keller, it is alleged, led the girl along the foot hills on the way home and there assaulted her.

The young girl concealed the affair from her mother and stepfather until last night, when her injuries proved such that she could no longer conceal the facts of the assault.

Krause is greatly incensed over the outrage, all the more because he alleges, the mother of the young man seems to stand up in defense of her offspring.

AND STILL THE CORSELET.

It Continues to Be Popular and Will Reign Through the Winter.

There is no diminution in the popularity of the corselet. One may safely put it on a gown intended for late winter wear. In fact, there never was a more economical idea than that of having a corselet and a bolero jacket that can be worn over any fancy waist.

A corselet which particularly attracted me was worn with a dark-brown gown. It was made of silk, plaided in golden browns, and the bolero, which accompanied it, was of brown satin with a covering of gold bead passementerie.

Another very striking, was of white honiton lace, stretched over white satin. It fitted perfectly, without the sign of a wrinkle. A shirred black silk bodice was its companion, and to say that they were worn by a very slim person is, of course, unnecessary.

Black and white, the combination which is forever new, is used most effectively in a gown of black cloth, figured with white silk. A dainty white and black silk was used in designating the bodice, and is laid around with soft folds of black velvet. The sleeves are also of black velvet—short, squatty puffs, with slim, lengthy sleeves beneath.

And the hat, trimmed with white lace and black feathers, was a most striking accompaniment.

Extenuating Circumstances.

They led the prisoner before the morning justice. He was a bum. He had been arrested for stealing a door-mat.

"Name?" queried the morning justice, sternly.

"Robert Willoughby, sir," replied the tramp.

"Charge?"

"Stealin' a door-mat, your honor," said the policeman who had made the arrest.

"Guilty or not guilty?" This was addressed to the bum.

The prisoner drew a long breath, made a profound bow and said: "Your honor, in view of the fact that this officer caught me in the act, I am willing to plead guilty, but, your honor, in so doing I want to say that there were extenuating circumstances."

"What were they?" thundered the justice.

"The door-mat had 'Welcome' on it and I thought it meant me."—From the Buffalo Express.

He Had One Defect.

The just-engaged girl was telling the other girls all about "it," or, more properly, "him." "Yes," she said "I'm very much in love, I know, but not in the blind, silly, illogical way that most girls are. I'm not so far gone but what I can see that he has defects—oh, lots of them—both in looks and in character, I'm able to regard him, thank goodness! from a perfectly impartial and dispassionate standpoint." After which the just-engaged, girl proceeded to go into detail. According to her "impartial, dispassionate standpoint" "he" was, it seemed, handsome and amiable and clever and courageous and charming, and—— "See here," interrupted one of the other girls, "isn't this rather one-sided? How about these many defects you said you saw so plainly? Please mention some of them." "Well," said the just-engaged girl, heroically, after a minute's silence, "one of his front teeth is just a trifle crooked.—From the Boston Advertiser.

FEARN TO FIGHT AGAIN.

The Henderson & Graham Drug Store Trouble Is Revived.

Suit Brought to Compel Payment of a Promissory Note.

The troubles growing out of the dissolution of the drug firm of Henderson & Graham, who formerly did business in the Hotel Crellin before selling out to John Fearn, are to be again aired in court, if a suit filed today is ever brought to trial.

The suit in the main has already been tried in one of the departments of the Superior Court, Louisa B. Henderson and John Fearn as plaintiff and defendant respectively. The decision of the case was in favor of the defendant. In today's filing, three causes of action are alleged, one for the purpose of recovering on a note for $1500 alleged to be due the plaintiff because of money loaned to Henderson & Graham in 1892, one for the recovery of $350 loaned, and one for the recovery of $150 alleged to have been expended in the attempt to collect on the $1500 note.

The plaintiff is the wife of the senior member of the former drug firm of Henderson & Graham. She alleges she lent the firm $1500 and took a note for the amount, dated May 2, 1892. This note, it seems, got lost, and on June 14, 1895 the firm gave in lieu a promissory note to cover the indebtedness with interest at 6 per cent. This second note was also lost inadvertently and by mistake was torn up and destroyed by David L. Henderson, the husband of the petitioner. In June, 1895, Henderson retired from the business and conveyed his interest to his former partner, Fred Graham. In July, 1895, Graham transferred everything in the business to John Fearn. It is alleged that among the matters transferred was the indebtedness of $1500 representing the firm's note to Mrs. Henderson for the $1500 alleged to have been borrowed. In this manner it is sought to have Fearn make the amount good.

Fearn fought the case in a determined way before and it is expected that he will make another big fight now.

Prince Hilkoff Is Well Pleased With His American Trip.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Prince Hilkoff, the Russian Minister of Ways and Commerce, accompanied by his son, Prince Michael Hilkoff, occupied suites on the American line steamer St. Paul which sailed Wednesday for Southampton.

The Prince is pleased with many American railroad devices and may adopt some of them in his country. It is said one result of his visit to the United States is the placing by him of an order for 18,000 American watches to be used by employes on Russian railroads.

TALENTED TALKERS.

Republican Stump Speakers Are Winning Many Votes.

Irving Scott and General Hart to Speak Here Tomorrow.

BRYAN MEN ON PARADE.

Much Expectation Regarding the Swinnerton-Smith Debate.

Tomorrow night Irving M. Scott and A. L. Hart are the attractions at the Tabernacle. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the reception of the two noted Republican orators and nothing will be lacking to make the evening a grand success.

The parade which will escort the speakers will be a long one. In it the following marching clubs will be fully represented: The Alliance, Army and Navy League, Young Men's Republican Forty-eighth Assembly District, the Alameda Republican Drill Corps and the National Republican League.

There has been plenty of music arranged for, while other features will assist in making the evening decidedly entertaining.

MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

The Prohibitionist Appeal Threatens to Delay the Ballots.

County Clerk Jordan is anxiously awaiting to hear from the Supreme Court, relative to the action taken by the Prohibitionists with the idea of having their candidates placed on the county ticket, despite the opinion of the Superior Court.

The time is now rapidly approaching when the ballots must be printed and if by any chance an order should be made to put the names on, it may be almost impossible to have the official ballots ready the requisite ten days before election.

"Unless I hear from the Supreme Court within three days," said County Clerk Jordan when questioned, "I shall have the ballots printed.

"I have been watching this matter with no little concern, and should I be ordered to place the names of the Prohibitionist candidates on the official ballot it is going to make it impossible to send out the sample ballots as the law directs. I have the ballots prepared and am about to order 60,000 official and 30,000 sample copies. It has required a lot of hard work to get this copy ready and if it has to be done over again it will be very close to election day before I get through."

AN IMPORTANT DEBATE.

Judge Swinnerton and Governor Smith Meet Monday Night.

Next Monday night the Tabernacle will be the scene of one of the star features of the campaign and one which will bring out members of the opposition parties. It will be a debate on the financial question between ex-Judge Swinnerton of Stockton and Robert B. Smith, fusion nominee for Governor of Montana.

Judge Swinnerton is one of the best posted men on the coast regarding the sound money question, while Governor Smith is said to be an able exponent of silver. That the fur will fly when the two gladiators meet there is no doubt.

SILVER'S CHAMPIONS.

G. W. Baker Will Talk Before the Democratic Financial School.

There will be an interesting meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Financial school tomorrow evening in the headquarters, 418 Eighth street.

The financial question will be expounded fully from a silver standpoint by George W. Baker and Major G. W. Arbuckle. As is well known, Mr. Baker is one of the best posted silver men on this coast and he has many interesting points to make in defense of the standard he champions.

The addresses will not however be devoted exclusively to finance, for many of the other important questions of the day will be elaborated upon.

BRYAN'S BOOMERS.

A Good Showing Made Last Night by the Silver Forces.

The largest Popocratic demonstration held in the county so far this campaign took place last night.

All the marching clubs that could be marshalled together, put in an appearance early in the evening and under the flickering light of the many torches made quite a showy display.

A wagon led the van, scattering a pyrotechnic display all along the line. Then came the Marshal, J. S. Meyers, on horseback, followed by the aids, also mounted.

A brass band was next in line with the Alameda Bryan Silver Club, close behind. The Zouaves stretched out for some distance, preceding the Young Men's Democratic Club, which in turn was followed by the Army and Navy Bryan Silver League. T. H. B. Rosenberg's Bryan Central Club brought up the rear.

banded and the club men took the seats numerous, while nearly all the men in ranks were provided with torches.

At the Tabernacle the procession disbanded and the club mentook the seats set aside for them.

N. J. Manson, chairman of the People's Party County Central Committee, called the meeting to order and introduced Attorney R. M. Fitzgerald, as Chairman of the evening.

H. D. Hougham read an original

America. I don't care whether it is good in England or in Africa. If I go to England or Africa I can get money that will be current there.

"If we are not strong enough to establish a financial system of our own I want to be attached to Mexico or some other country that has patriotism and independence enough to do so.

"I do not solicit any votes myself. I am not a candidate. But I do ask you to vote for my home, for my children and for the prosperity of my country and your country."

Burdette Cornell was the next speaker. He believed the substantial difference between the People's and Democratic party on one side and the Republican party on the other is whether this nation is able to maintain the parity of the two metals at the ration of 15 to 1 without international agreement. By this declaration for international agreement the Republicans concede that the coinage of silver is desirable and that we need more money. The demand for money is equal to the sum total of all demands. What we ask is that 412½ grains of silver shall be coined by the government and made legal tender for all dues.

A ROUSING MEETING.

Colored Republicans Hold Forth at the League Rooms.

The headquarters of the National Republican League was the scene of a rousing rally held by the Colored Republican Club last night. It was the first meeting conducted by the Club and the hall was packed.

Felix Lafon, President of the Club, presided and Congressman Hilborn, Judge Carpenter, Colonel Thomas Pearson, H. E. Caltes, F. B. Morton, S. P. Hall and others made short addresses.

The Colored Glee Club composed of Messrs. Johnson, Jackson, Butler, Flood, and Crump, entertained the assemblage with campaign and plantation songs.

COLD VERSUS SILVER.

Veterans to Meet in Debate on the Financial Issue.

The debate which is being arranged between the Army and Navy Republican and Army and Navy Bryan Silver Leagues, on the financial question promises to be very interesting upon their champions today.

For the Republicans, the following Committee has been appointed to take charge: J. P. McElroy, F. W. Phelps, and W. R. Thomas. They will decide upon their champions today.

The Silver debaters will probably be chosen from Messrs Arbuckle, Gregg, and Bretz.

THE FIRST WARD.

A Big Campaign Meeting to Be Held This Evening.

The Republicans of the First Ward will hold a big rally tonight in Hansen's Hall. The meeting has been called by County Committeeman W. W. Morrison and a rousing meeting is anticipated.

H. A. Powell and Lin S. Chaney will deliver the speeches of the evening.

Will Talk on Money.

Colonel H. G. Shaw, the veteran newspaper man will give an illustrated talk on the money question tonight in Thomas's Hall, at Twenty-third avenue. Mr. Shaw has given the subject much study and is an able talker.

W. R. Davis Is Busy.

Saturday night W. R. Davis will deliver a campaign speech in Stockton and on the following week will make a trip through Yolo County.

Popocrats in Berkeley.

Tonight the Democrats and Populists will gather in East Berkeley in force. Shattuck Hall is the objective point and Taylor Rodgers of San Francisco, the chief attraction. Incidentally the Zouaves and other marching clubs will be on hand as will also several local speakers.

Perkins Up the Coast.

George C. Perkins spoke to a large audience in Fortuna, Humboldt County last night. He arrived in the morning and will remain in that section until Saturday, speaking each evening.

Judge Greene Speaks.

There was one of the largest political gatherings in the history of Mission San Jose last night, when Judge W. E. Greene and A. P. Van Duzen enlightened an audience numbering upward of 1000 on Republican doctrine.

Alameda Plans.

The Executive Committee of the Alameda Republican Clubs met last night in its headquarters and decided upon holding two rousing meetings before the campaign closes.

A Livermore Rally.

Hanna's Views.

Robert R. Porter, the Eastern orator, who has been stumping Oregon for McKinley, will deliver two speeches in California during the last few days of the campaign. In a recent interview Mark Hanna is quoted as saying:

"Mr. Porter will be quite an acquisition to those already sent, especially as there is no man better informed on the question that interests the Pacific Coast—that of protection. Of course, California has always been a gold State. From letters and telegrams received in this department I have no fears as to how the coast States will go. They are thoroughly organized and thorough organization in any of these States means complete Republican victory.

Silver Talkers in Fruit Vale.

The Bryan Silver men will hold a meeting tonight commencing at 8 o'clock in Upper Fruitvale Hall. The meeting will be addresses by Hon. Geo. W. Baker, Green Majors, and J. A. Jones.

Mining Troubles.

RESCUED JUST IN TIME.

With a Winchester He Kept a Big Mob at Bay.

THE SHOOTING WAS LIVELY.

Locking Himself in a Room He Gave His Foes Battle.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHIPLEY, Fla., Oct. 22.—Besieged by infuriated negroes J. M. Criglar, manager of Hagerman's lumber mills, at Hager station, four miles west of here, defended himself with such effect that he killed two of his assailants and wounded four others.

Criglar became enraged in a quarrel with one of his employes and the other negroes drew pistols and began firing at the manager.

Criglar ran to his office, locked himself in and opened fire with a Winchester on the maddened negroes who surrounded the building.

For an hour the battle continued and when the Louisville & Nashville train arrived at the station the negroes were preparing to set fire to the building and

The train crew and passengers, however, rushed to Criglar's aid and dispersed the negroes.

The train crew and passengers, however, dispersed the negroes.

The negroes had fired over 200 shots into the building but Criglar escaped by lying on the floor.

As soon as the negroes fired a volley, however, he would rise and shoot at them through the windows.

The negroes killed are Amos Judson and Alexander.

"Town Topics" Will Be Here Two Nights Next Week.

Mr. Barnes of New York continues to attract good houses to the Oakland. The play is an excellent one and is artistically presented by Manager Bacon's clever company.

The Broadway Comedians in this season's biggest farce-comedy sensation, "Town Topics," is the attraction at the Macdonough Theater Monday and Tuesday next.

It comes with banners flying heralded as the most pretentious migratory farce-comedy company ever seen on tour, with a costume and scenic investiture complete in every detail. The comedy is in three acts, the first being comedy situations and crisp with witty dialogue. In this act there are no specialities; the second act is almost entirely specialties and burlesque; the third act, with the exception of several specialties, is again given over to farcical play and the unraveling of the plot. Any one discovering the plot without the aid of a dark lantern will be rewarded liberally.

The company will include William Keler, Willam H. Mack, John Queen, James Tenbrook, Phil Ott, Jos. Harrington, William Nelson, Frank Caverly, A. M. Miller, Beatrice Norman, Nellie Sennett, Lyllan Heckler, Luella Miller, Elsie Nugent, Laura aWinsford, Freda Peel and Mamie Welty.

FRANKE IS FOUND.

A Defaulting Chicago Merchant Landed by the Detectives.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—It is reported the Pinkertons have located Frederick H. Franke, the merchant of North avenue who left a large number of creditors in the lurch by selling his stock of goods to Gore & Co., in Kansas City.

There is a movement started among the creditors, it is claimed, to raise money with which to prosecute him.

Detectives Ross and Corbush have gone to Houghton, Mich., to serve a warrant on Emil Franke, who is under arrest in that city on a charge of larceny.

Franke is wanted in Chicago on a charge of larceny also. He is the son of F. H. Franke, the North Side merchant.

CAN DIE IN PEACE.

Governor Upham of Wisconsin Pardons Wife-Murderer Duvall.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 22.—Governor Upham has pardoned Dr. W. P. Duvall, who two years ago was sentenced to State's prison for life from Walworth County for the murder of his wife, Elizabeth Duvall.

The pardon was urgently recommended by the judge who sentenced him and this, together with the fact that the doctor has grown old and is very feeble and at the most has but a short time to live, and the further fact that a member of his family in another State desires to care for him during his remaining days, made it appear to the Governor as proper cause for the exercise of executive clemency.

WORKING HIM HARD.

Bryan Is Speaking at Many Small Towns in Illinois.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ROCHESTER, Ind., Oct. 22.—The Indiana Committee evidently does not intend to allow Bryan to fall far behind his record as a speech maker on this trip through Hoosierdom.

Nineteen speeches were made in the twenty-four hours ending at midnight last night and today seventeen are on the card and there will probably be more.

But Parks Martin, the Chairman of the State Committee who is in charge of the train is taking care that Bryan receives more rest and is doing his best to save him from the too affectionate crowds of his admirers.

The first speech today was at Decatur shortly after 8 o'clock.

Several thousand listened to Bryan more than a quarter of an hour and gave a boisterous approval of his utterance.

The crowd was made up largely of farmers.

Bryan told them the farmers of no country ever endorsed the gold standard and called attention to a meeting of agriculturalists some time ago, in Budapest, where bimetallism was endorsed and greetings sent to the bimetallists of America.

He quoted the address of Prince Bismarck to farmers a year ago, in which he said the farmers must stand together and protect themselves from the drones of society who produce nothing but laws.

Markel was not down on the bills for a speech, but a stop was made there and Bryan spoke five minutes.

At Huntington he addressed a crowd which numbered thousands, who were evidently in accord with him.

Laketon telegraphed a crowd had gathered there and a stop was made long enough for Bryan to greet the people and shake hands with those nearest him.

MORE GOLD MEN.

PERU, Ind., Oct. 22.—The public square in front of the Court House at Rochester was crowded when Bryan arrived.

It was a free silver crowd, and the few people who wore yellow badges looked lonesome.

Bryan quoted from the Indiana State Republican platform six years ago, and referred to the message of President Harrison December, 1890, sayin:

"I want to show the Republicans who are here today that the Republican party has deserted the position which it occupied and having changed its policy is attempting to change the convictions of Republicans who supported it when it was supporting bimetallism."

FARMERS CALL.

A Large Delegation Pays a Visit to Major McKinley.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 22.—It was glorious Indian summer weather at Canton this morning.

A large delegation of farmers first called at the McKinley home. They came from Creston, Ohio.

Major McKinley responded to A. I. Richards, who spoke on behalf of the delegation. The nominee said:

"I remember when the Republicans of Creston and Wayne County were among the most earnest and enthusiastic of my old Congressional District and I see you have not lost your earnestness and enthusiasm for the great doctrines of the Republican party. We cannot, by legislation, in this country, make values.

"We cannot by any legerdemain of finance make something out of nothing. The only way to get wealth is by labor.

"Anybody who teaches any other doctrine is a false teacher and not a friend to American citizenship or our American homes. (Applause.)

"Congress can do a good many things, but it cannot make you rich or the country rich by debasing the money of the country, and it cannot make the country rich by giving us dollars that are only worth 53 cents each and stamping them on dollars. (Great laughter and applause.)

"Now, Congress can help you, but it must be by wise legislation, caring for the products, labor, farms and manufactures of our own people by protecting them above all others, but the Republican party does not stand alone for them.

"The greater part of the Democratic party, the greater leaders of the old Democratic party are one with us in the struggle for national honor and prosperity." (Continuous cheering.)

Rousing cheers were given for the next President.

A FLYING SQUADRON.

The Governors Touring Illinois in a Special Train.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The "Governors' Flying Squadron" left Chicago this morning over the Alton Road to make a campaign tour of three days in Illinois.

Ex-Governors Richard J. Oglesby, John L. Beveridge, Shelby M. Cullom, John M. Hamilton and Joseph W. Fifer are accompanied by Captain John R. Tanner, National Committeeman Jamieson and Col. W. H. Hahn of the Republican National Speakers' Bureau.

Stops were made today at Joliet, Braidwood, Gardenar, Dwight, Pontiac, Lexington, Bloomington, Lincoln, Springfield and Jacksonville, speeches being made from a flat car attached to the special train.

Michael Doran of St. Paul Has $100,000 He Will Wager.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 22.—In an interview with the Pioneer Press, Michael Doran, a banker and broker in this city and known all over the United States as a Democratic National Committeeman and leader in Minnesota for twenty years, announced that he is willing and ready to bet any part or all of $100,000 that McKinley for President and Clough (Republican) for Governor, would carry Minnesota at the coming election.

HAD THE WRONG MAN.

Pinkerton and David Henderson Sued for $100,000 Damages.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Matthew W. Pinkerton and David Henderson are co-defendants in a suit for $100,000 damages which is on trial before a jury in Judge Smith's Court.

The plaintiff is Albert Beaumont, once advertising agent of the Chicago Opera House. Beaumont was arrested in August, 1890, on complaint of Henderson, then manager of the Opera House, and indicted on the charge of embezzlement. The charge was that he had sold theater passes. The arrest was made by Pinkerton.

Beaumont was tried and acquitted.

He Grew Satirical.

"That's a splendid heating apparatus you put into my house last year," said the small sarcastic man.

"I—er—was afraid you didn't like it, judging from some of the things you said last winter."

"Its good qualities don't show off at all times. But when a cool spell like the present comes on we realize that it has great possibilities. If you could regulate it a little it would be all right."

"I guess we can regulate it almost any way you want it."

"That's good. I believe in always looking out for the future. And if you'll have somebody come up and regulate it so that it keeps the house as cold in July as it does in October, we'll burn fires in the grates all winter and never say a word."

To Talk on the X Ray.

The X-Ray and other interesting features of electricity will be illustrated and explained by Prof. W. W. Stone, principal of the Burnett school, San Francisco, in a lecture tomorrow night at the Y. The U. S. Cruiser "Raleigh" Captures a Couple of Filibusters.

THEY TRIED TO GET AWAY.

A Lively Cannonade Though Brought Them to Time.

THE PRIZES ARE SAFE NOW.

They Were Preparing for Another Trip to Cuba.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A special to the Record says:

The United States cruiser Raleigh at 5 o'clock yesterday morning discovered the steamer Dauntless taking on a cargo of coal from the steamer R. L. Mabey of Mosquito Inlet.

As the warship bore down on them the filibusterers started in opposite directions and the Raleigh opened fire, dropping solid shot across their bows as a signal to stop.

The Dauntless heaved to but the Mabey ran into Mosquito Inlet and anchored opposite New Smyrna.

The Raleigh took the Dauntless in tow and sent an officer after the Mabey.

The two prizes were towed up the coast to the St. John's bar and were anchored inside the river with the cutter Boutwell alongside.

The Dauntless had just arrived from the south and is supposed to have been preparing to carry another expedition to Cuba.

SUITS FOR A SONG.

The water sale at the Famous is attracting attention of all Oakland and the store is filled daily. It is only logical to say that so popular a sale cannot last always. It behooves the intelligent Oaklander to be brisk and buy quickly. Hats, suits for men and boys and underwear, are selling for much less than they originally cost. It is a local providential blessing to temper the acidity of a moneyless year, and there are bargains galore for the appreciative.

AFRAID OF BURGLARS

Berkeley Reaching Out Now for a Police Force.

NERVOUS RESIDENTS ASTIR.

Unievrsity Gossip and News of the College Town.

SOME FRATERNITY INITIATIONS

The Freshmen Preparing for the Coming Glee.

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—The people of Berkeley are growing nervous over the many burglaries that have been committed lately throughout the county and are anxious to have more police officers. While the college town has been generally free of depredations of this kind in the past, the residents feel it is no sign of what the future may bring forth in the way of hold-ups, burglaries and other lawless adventures and ask for police protection before the need of it arises. The city officials, although they have considered the question of increasing the police force, have taken no active steps in the matter owing to the finances of the town.

FRATERNITY INITIATIONS.

The young women fraternities are beginning to initiate new members. Last evening the Gamma Phi Beta received three new members at the Chapter House the new comers being Miss Charlotte Hoffman, Miss Harriett Harazthy and Miss Mabel Williams. The Sorosis will probably take in one new girl this term, Miss Humphrey, although more may be initiated later. Alpha Thetas are "making" several girls but have initiated none as yet.

THE FRESHMEN GLEE.

The freshman class of the State University will hold its glee the evening of the 30th inst in Harmon Gymnasium. The committee on decorations consists of Miss Arents, Miss McCulloch, Miss McAllister, Miss Metrovich, Miss Thompson Smith, Gundlefinger and Parker.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

The University students will hold a special drill Tuesday. The freshmen have now received their guns and uniforms will be donned for the big drill.

The University co-eds of the class of '99 will tender a reception to the male students of the same class Friday evening at Stiles Hall.

The Associated Students of the State University have offered $5 for the best football song for the Thanksgiving game. The writer must be an undergraduate.

The Agriculture Committee of the University faculty are preparing a programme for another series of Farmers' Institutes. This time the institutes will be held in Central California.

COURT COMMENT.

Extensive Litigation in Progress Before the Superior Judges.

The London and San Francisco Bank has presented a claim against the estate of George J. Ainsworth for $13250, balance due on a $15 000 note.

Irving H. Coonradt has asked to be appointed guardian of the estate of his mother, Mrs Virginia Coonradt, who was committed to the Stockton Insane Asylum yesterday afternoon.

J. F. W. Sohst, Joseph Wohlfrom and John L. Bromley have appraised the estate of Philip Getz, deceased, at $17,-023.25.

F. C. Boehmer has commenced suit against the Oakland Alameda & Piedmont Electric Railway Company for $15,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by a collision which occured on the company's line on April 6, 1895 at Eleventh and Harrison streets.

Ida O'Leary has secured a divorce from Thomas O'Leary, custody of the minor children, Elsie and Lloyd, and $25 a month alimony. She is also allowed to resume her maiden name of Ida Dockery.

In the matter of the petition of George Bates, formerly principal of the Berkeley Gymnasium, to be declared an insolvent debtor, John J Moran, manager of the Peralta University Academy has made an affidavit charging Bates with being in possession of $697 50 received from Bardwell Bros and which affiant alleges rightfully belongs to him.

W M. Brandon, H. Latham and George A. Norton have appraised the estate of Robert M. Marrack, deceased at $2,000.

Charles Lafferty has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of Mary Lafferty, deceased. The estate consists of a house and lot at 518 Sixth street, this city, and is worth about $1000.

The estate of John W Wuelzer deceased, has been appraised by Melvin Wise, W. H. Friend and J G Poorman at $900.

The Hickmott Canning Company has sued Elizabeth Jayne, Emily E. Mills Edson Adams, Teresa Casserly et al to quiet title to property on the corner of First and Myrtle streets.

THANKS TO ELLIOTT.

Woman Suffragists Acknowledge His Good Work for the Cause.

Albert H. Elliott, of the firm of Stearns & Elliott, Nevada block, San Francisco, has been one of the ablest and most effective speakers for woman suffrage during the present campaign. He has spoken several nights every week, and his services have been wholly a free-will offering. Mr Elliott counts several noted lawyers among his ancestry, but he is entirely a "self-made man," is a graduate of Berkeley, and has already made a name in his profession. He is a son-in-law of Professor Bunnell. At a meeting of the Alameda County Suffrage Society yesterday the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That this society extends to Mr Albert H Elliott its sincere thanks and gratitude for his services in the cause of woman suffrage during the present campaign, and hopes to be able in the future to express a more substantial recognition."

A LIVING POSTER SHOW.

It Will Be Given for the Benefit of the Vested Choir.

Money Must Be Raised to Pay the Expenses of the Vestments.

Next Sunday evening, the Girls Vested Choir of St Paul's Episcopal Church will make its second appearance and will assist in the church services. This choir is composed of forty members in all, twelve of whom are young ladies. The young ladies sing at the evening services only and are clad in the Oxford vestments. This is the only girls choir on the coast that is garbed in the Oxford gown. The other girl choirs have adopted the regular surplice and gown of the boy choister some of them wearing the Oxford mortar board.

The young ladies will only appear at evening services and it is believed that their innovation in choir music will serve to increase the attendance at this service. The plan of having young ladies sing was introduced by the Music Committee which is composed of the following ladies: Mrs L L Bromwell Chairman, Mrs H C Taft, Mrs Frank Brown, Mrs Charles Allen, Mrs James Allen, Mrs Frank Adams, Mrs H D McElrath, Mrs C E Palmer, Mrs Hall, Mrs Sumner Bugbee and Mrs Babcock.

The twelve young ladies whose voices swell the choruses at the evening services are under the leadership of Miss Margie Gaskill who is the soloist and are as follows: Miss Chrissie Taft, Miss Bessie Palmer, Miss Irene Baker, the Misses Fore, Miss Clara Converse, Miss Winifred Morgan, Miss Clara Chott, Miss Hattie Currier, Miss Florence Sharon, Miss Julia Lee.

The Music Committee met this morning and made arrangements for an entertainment to raise funds to pay for the vestments of the new choir of girls. The entertainment will be a novel living poster show and will be the opening entertainment at the new Ebell rooms. The date has not been set as yet. The participants will be well known society young men and women.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SACRAMENTO, July 20, 1896.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-first session, beginning on the seventh day of January, A D 1895, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following prescribed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

Amendment Number One

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 23.)

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or this Constitution, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property" as used in this article and section is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Section 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Section 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Amendment Number Two.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No 8.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law, provided, that secrecy in voting be observed.

Amendment Number Three.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association, and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

Amendment Number Four.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws, but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith, and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution except in municipal affairs shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

Amendment Number Five.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No 13.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed and for the constitution regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution regulation compensation, and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed for their compensation and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

Amendment Number Six

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 11.)

ARTICLE II

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law provided, no native of China, no idiot insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State provided that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

NOW THEREFORE Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and an Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for the submission of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7 A. D 1883 the said amendments are submitted, to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the State on

Silver and Gold.

"We believe that the free coinage of silver will bring gold to this country, and that, too, without the aid of syndicates."—Bryan's Speech at Syracuse, N. Y.

If that is the effect of the free coinage of silver, why does it not do so in the countries which now have free coinage? The South American States have had free coinage of silver for many years, yet the gold does not appear to be drifting to them. They have actually mined $25,000,000 in gold since the beginning of 1892, yet they have lost most of that; and, instead of the gold going to them under the free coinage of silver, as Mr. Bryan says will happen, they have lost their gold until they have today but $1.11 for each individual. Mexico has had free coinage of silver for many years; but, instead of attracting gold according to the Bryan theory, her gold has rapidly left her, so that, although she mines between four and five millions of gold a year, her gold money amounts to just 41 cents for each individual in her population, or one-twentieth of what the United States has per capita. Does this look as though the free coinage of silver would "bring gold to this country, and that without the aid of syndicates"?

"Gold and silver are different from other commodities in that they are limited in quantity. Corn, wheat, manufactured products, etc., can be produced almost without limit, provided they can be sold at a price sufficient to stimulate production, but gold and silver are called precious metals because they are found, not produced."—Bryan's Madison Square Garden Speech.

Does not Mr. Bryan know that the mining of gold and silver has increased with enormous rapidity in the past thirty-five years? The amount of gold produced from the mines of the world since 1860 equals all that produced in the world in over 350 years prior to that time. In a single year now the world produces more gold than was produced in a quarter of a century prior to the gold discoveries of California. The suspension of the purchases of silver bullion in 1893 so stimulated the miners of Colorado to search for gold that they more than doubled the production of that metal in a single year. The silver mines of the world since 1860 have produced more than half as much silver as they mined in the preceding 350 years.

THE HOMEOPATHS.

Interesting Proceedings at a Meeting of the Doctors.

At the recent meeting of the local homoepathic medical fraternity, held in the Unitarian Church, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. E. W. Bradley; vice president, Dr. George Augur; secretary and treasurer, Dr. N. H. Chamberlain; censors, Dr. R. E. Hill Jr., Dr. Schofield and Dr. Small.

An interesting programme, consisting of papers on medical topics and music, followed, during which Miss Little sang a pleasing solo, the words of which, composed by Col. Little, were as follows:

When any one is sick, it's run for doctor quick,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do;
When Johnny's got a pain, and Sally's gone lame,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do.
When we've got a broken leg by falling over a keg,
Then we want you, dear doctors, yes we do.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you sick or well, and I don't care if I tell,
That we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

We have no use for jalaps, castor oil or senna tea,
But we want you, doctors dear, us to see.
Whenever we are taken with fever or with chills,
Then we want you, doctors dear, with your pills,
Your sweet sugar coated, your cunning little doses,
Which offend neither palates nor our delicate little noses,
But cure us up so quickly and keep from being sickly,
Yes we want you, doctors dear, yes we do.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you sick or well, and I don't care if I tell,
That we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

With your aconite and belladonna, your arnica and nux,
We want you, doctors dear, yes we do.
With ipecacuanha, colocynth and rhustox,
We want you, doctors dear, yes we do.
The allopaths ain't in it, no, not even for a minute,
So we want you, doctors dear, so we do.
They cannot beat your china, your kali and your phos,
Just give us high dilution and you are bound to be the boss.

CHORUS.

We want you all, dear doctors, yes we want you mighty bad,
We want your sugar pills, and when you come we're glad;
We want you every minute and nobody else is in it,
For we want yer, want yer, want yer, doctors dear, yes we do.

LEGAL

NOTICE.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Take notice that upon a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County, State of California, which will be held on Monday, the 26th day of October, 1896, the petition herein published will be presented to said Board for its action.

All persons interested in said matter are hereby notified to be present at said time that they may present objections, if any they have, to said petition.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California.—Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, and each of us, do hereby petition and request your honorable body to incorporate as a municipal corporation, under and in accordance with an act entitled "An Act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13th, 1883, and the amendments thereto, the territory included and embraced in the limits and boundaries hereinafter particularly described and set forth as the proposed boundaries of said corporation, and which said territory is located in the County of Alameda, State of California.

We hereby petition and request your honorable body to incorporate said territory in accordance with said Act last hereinbefore mentioned, under the name and designation of the Town of Emeryville.

We further certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that the proposed boundaries of said proposed municipal corporation are particularly described and set forth as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the northern boundary of the City of Oakland, 150 feet easterly from the easterly line of San Pablo avenue, measured at a right angle to the said line of San Pablo avenue, and running thence northerly parallel with and 150 feet distant from said line of San Pablo avenue to a point 150 feet easterly from the easterly line of Adeline street measured at a right angle to said line of Adeline street, thence northerly parallel to and distant 150 feet from said line of Adeline street to a point 150 feet distant easterly from and measured at a right angle to the easterly line of Lowell street, thence northerly parallel with and distant 150 feet from said line of Lowell street to the southern boundary of the Town of Berkeley, thence westerly following the southern boundary of the Town of Berkeley to its intersection with the northern boundary of the City of Oakland, and thence easterly along said boundary of the City of Oakland to the beginning.

We hereby further certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that the number of inhabitants within said proposed boundaries and limits of said proposed municipal corporation and in said proposed municipal corporation is 1,500.

We, the undersigned, further hereby certify, declare and represent to your honorable body that we and each of us are qualified electors of the County of Alameda, State of California, and are residents within the limits and boundaries of said proposed municipal corporation as said limits and boundaries are hereinbefore described and set forth.

We, the undersigned, therefore pray that the said territory hereinbefore referred to and designated, the boundaries of which are hereinbefore particularly described and set forth, be incorporated under the provision of an Act entitled "An Act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13th, 1883, and the amendments thereto.

AN OPEN TOURNAMENT.

The Brunswick-Balke People Want a Big Billiard Contest.

Playing to Be Conducted Six Days at New York and Chicago.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. has made the following proposition for an international billiard tournament and in the event of this not materializing, an offer for a tournament confined to American players.

"We will give a purse of $7500 for prizes to be contested for in two six-night tournaments, one at New York City and one at Chicago, at 14 or 18-inch balkline, one shot in balk, anchor barred, six hundred points each game. It is stipulated that at least two of the three leading American players, Ives, Schaeffer and Slosson, shall take part in the tournament and that two of the leading French players shall also enter, but the tournament is not restricted to those four entries. The entries will close on November 21st.

"In case this proposition does not meet with the responses we hope for, we will make another offer to American professional players only. We will give $5000 as prizes for two tournaments, one at New York City and one at Chicago, provided that no less than two of the three leading players, Ives, Schaeffer and Slosson, take part, and also that not less than five players in all compete in each tournament, but the entries are not to be limited to that number."

FRATERNAL NEWS

Grand Army Men Preparing a Memorial to Dr. Root.

ODD FELLOWS IN SESSION.

They Assemble in Their Grand Encampment at Santa Cruz.

MASONS HOLD THEIR ELECTION

Notes of Many Meetings and Gossip of the Lodges.

With the exception possibly of the generals of the army and the President of the United States, there was no person more widely known and more heartily esteemed in loyal territory during the war of the rebellion than was Dr. George F. Root, of the then musical firm of Root & Cady of Chicago.

The doctor died a few years ago and the announcement of his death brought again before the people the name of the composer who, during the great struggle to put down secession, had, by his inspiration sung Federal armies into victory as he had also solaced at home those bereaved by the price that had been paid for those brilliant but bloody achievements.

It was Dr. Root who gave to the world those stirring songs which, it may be remarked, will endure as long as a hero of the late struggle survives, namely: "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," "Yes, We'll Rally 'Round the Flag," "Just Before the Battle, Mother," "The Vacant Chair," "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag," and a number of other compositions, which were sung from the center to the circumference of the continent. The last mentioned piece was intended to embalm in memory the last words of a gallant young soldier, Colonel Mulligan, commander of the 9th Illinois regiment of volunteers, words spoken on the field at Winchester when he was stricken down by the enemy's bullet. As his men raised him for the purpose of bearing him off the field, he made use of these words, "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag." The music to which these words and the sentiment which they inspired were adapted did not have the martialaring that many of Root's other works had, for the reason that the subject called for a less demonstrative treatment. It was, however, effective and brought tears to the eyes of both auditors and singers when it was sung in thousands of homes in the great State which had sent the young soldier to the war. The song was all the more effective in that it showed how carefully Mulligan had treasured in his heart the pledge he had made when, before an assemblage of Chicago's leading citizens of the day, he accepted that same stand of colors which was committed to his care by a beautiful young lady who subsequently became noted in relief work among the soldiers. Mulligan pledged himself to defend the banner with the last thought of his mind and the last drop of blood in his heart. That promise he fulfilled to the letter because it was borne out by the words he uttered when stricken unto death and when the advance of the enemy seemed imminent, namely, "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag."

It is fitting that such men as Dr. Root should be remembered, and it is especially appropriate that his memory should be perpetuated by the men whose sufferings, daring, valor and success he sang as has no other contemporaneous composer sung of the late war or of any other war in history.

The members of the Grand Army are not wealthy. Few of them can give more than that which is necessary to bear the minimized expenses of membership in their order and to offer assistance to needy brethren. And yet, in the East, they have undertaken the erection, at Sheffield, Massachusetts, the birthplace of Root, a white marble building in memory of the composer. The G. A. R. posts in that section have assessed their members 10 cents per head for the purpose of raising a fund to be contributed toward the purpose in view. It is expected that $25,000 will be raised for the work. Geo. H. Thomas Post of San Francisco has voted $40 toward the fund. It has not yet been decided what Oakland's Posts will do in the premises, but there is no fear that they will allow the occasion to pass without doing something in the premises.

In this connection the Tribune has been requested to make the suggestion to the several posts of the G. A. R. in this vicinity that the occasion offers an excellent opportunity of teaching the present generation the songs which thrilled the nation a generation ago. These war melodies are now sung at intervals, but many of them have never been heard by thousands of boys and girls whose patriotism will in no measure be lessened by the effort. An entertainment could be given in the Tabernacle with cheaply prepared or borrowed scenery to represent the fireside, scenes in the field, in prison, the plantation and other places and with these as the background for the effective tableaux suggested by the stories told by the several ballads, the vocal numbers and choruses could be rendered with an effect never felt here bofer. There is not one of those pieces that does not suggest either a stirring or pathetic scene with a side light at plantation life, thus affording scope for a great display of variety of talent. The primary object would be a revival of these great war ballads, the next the raising of funds for the needy soldier during the coming winter, and finally, the appropriation of a small contribution to the Root monument fund. If all the Posts and Corps were to take hold of this matter there is no doubt that all the talent and military assistance required to carry out the idea could be secured gratis.

You wouldn't think much of a man who remained tied when he had a knife in his hands, would you? He would be foolish to remain helpless when the slightest effort would free him. A man is made helpless and useless by other things besides ropes. Constipation will make a man helpless. His muscles and brain are so weighed down with impure, poisonous matter, useless retained in the system, that effort of all kind is distasteful; and what little work he is able to perform is not of good quality. Constipation makes a man sluggish and heavy. It gives him a headache, most likely. His "brain doesn't work." He has a bad taste in his mouth, a foul breath, and he "feels bad" all over. Constipation causes nine-tenths of all human sickness. It is the cause of sick and bilious headaches, of biliousness, sour stomach, heart-burn, palpitation of the heart, pimples, blotches, indigestion and dyspepsia. It can be cured just as easily as a rope may be cut. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will do it. They will do it without producing any harmful effect on the rest of the system. They are not violent in their action. They merely assist Nature. They will restore the healthy, natural action of the digestive organs. You don't become a slave to their use. You stay cured when you are cured. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative; two a mild cathartic. Get them at druggists. Nothing else is "just as good."

HEALTH FOR NOTHING.—If you knew more about your body and its needs you would be sick less often and less seriously

The Portuguese Emblem.

In view of the prominence given to the Portuguese Union of this State, as a consequence of the recent grand lodge meeting in Pleasanton in this county, the following interpretation of the badge of the order which has heretofore not been understood, may be of interest:

The badge is historic, patriotic and benevolent. On it is found a square rigged ship of the fifteenth century, indicative of Vasco Di Gama's exploration from eastern to western lands. Above the ship's masts are arranged two unfurled flags, one of the land of Portugal, the other of the adopted country of the members. The rays of the setting sun are spread over the Golden West. The upper part of the emblem bears the initials U. P. B. C., which in Portuguese signify Uniao Portugueza do Estado California, and translated means Portuguese Union, State of California. This is a beneficiary society, whose motto is Union, Protection and Charity.

Masonic.

The intimation conveyed in these columns a week ago with reference to the outcome of the election of some of the grand officers of the Masonic Grand Lodge of this State, which was held on last Friday has been verified.

Geo. Johnson has been re-elected grand secretary, a position which he has filled with ability for several years and which there is little doubt he will continue to fill in the same manner for many years to come. The office of grand secretary in the Masonic order is one which is changed only after long intervals, and then only for cause, in the majority of cases it is death which removes the incumbent from his place. It is a fact that after a long series of years of arduous and successful labor the original grand secretary of the Masonic order in this State, Alex Abell, was elected for the last time while he was on his death bed and, after he had served the order for more than a generation. He died shortly after he had been notified of his last election. In the history of the order in California there have been only three grand secretaries, and Mr. Johnson is the man who is third in line. He is still a young man and there is every reason to hope that he will long retain the position which thus far he has adorned.

The new junior grand warden, Charles L. Patton of San Francisco, a portrait of whom appeared in the Tribune of a week ago on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home at Decoto, Mr. Patton holds the position of president of the Board of Directors of the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home. He has discharged the duties of that office in a very capable manner and as a consequence has been given a position which is in line with that of the highest office in the gift of the Masonic order in this State, Mr. Patton has many friends outside the Masonic order in this State and they as well as his brother Masons, are pleased with the preferment which has been conferred upon him.

LIVE OAK LODGE.

The second degree will be conferred in Live Oak Lodge No. 62, F. & A. M., tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The third degree will be conferred October 30th.

Order of Eastern Star.

At the twenty-fourth annual session of the grand chapter, order of Eastern Star, which assembled in San Francisco last Tuesday, ninety-four chapters regularly organized and fourteen chapters under dispensation were represented.

The report of Mary T. Dean, the grand treasurer, showed that the order is now in a better financial condition than it has been since the organization.

Knights of Pythias.

Tomorrow night the Page Rank will be conferred in a manner unprecedented in the history of the organization in this city. Many new features will be introduced. Prof. J. N. Bonham promises a surprise of a musical character. All members of the order, especially sojourning Knights who have never had the privilege of witnessing the elaborate manner in which Oakland lodge confers that rank should avail themselves of this opportunity to be present.

Oakland lodge No. 103, at its session last Friday night, received the report of the committee on investigation on the application of Stranger Carlson. The report was of a favorable nature and the stranger was balloted for and elected.

As is usual with the conventions of this lodge, a large number of the brethren were present, and, under the head of "Good of the Order" a flow of reason, wit and humor prevailed.

AT ST. HELENA.

Pluto lodge, K. of P., acquitted itself nobly as a host Saturday evening week, when it entertained nearly fifty Knights from Suisun, Napa and elsewhere, says the St. Helena Star. The third degree was conferred on Esquire Hazen by a team of twenty Knights from Suisun, and as a compliment to him the band boys turned out and escorted Pluto lodge to the depot to meet the visiting brethren. There were twenty members from Suisun lodge, fourteen from Napa, Past Grand Chancellor Morrison of San Francisco and a number from Oakland. At the banquet which followed the exercises a speech was made by Julius Fransden of this city.

Grand Orient.

Alameda Council, No. 1, Order of the Grand Orient, held a very enthusiastic Piedmont, No. 122; Squires, Hansen, McDonald and Dickson of No. 108, who were instructed in the impressive ritualistic lessons of the order.

Alameda Council contemplates tendering its members another one of its pleasant social entertainments and banquets. The banquet will be got up under the supervision of Prince J. H. Moon of Alameda Council, No. 1.

Rathbone Sisters.

Calanthe Temple, No. 5, Order of R. S., at its convention last Thursday, initiated one candidate and received two applications for membership.

Calanthe Temple is one of the most progressive temples in the grand jurisdiction.

Applications for membership are being received at nearly every one of its sessions. Its reputation as an entertainer is an excellent one. Its experimental period is a thing of the past, and the light of prosperity illuminates its horoscope of futurity.

Native Sons.

Grand Vice President Clark will officially visit the parlors, N. S. G. W., of the county during the early part of next month, as follows: Alameda, No. 47; Oakland, No. 50; Las Positas, No. 96; Eden, No. 113; Piedmont, No. 129; Wisteria, No. 127; Halcyon, No. 143; Brooklyn, No. 161; Athens, No. 195.

A volume which will be of a great deal of interest to present and future officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West is that which is now in course of preparation, and which will be distributed by Grand Secretary Lunstedt early next month. It will contain a digest of the decisions rendered by the different grand presidents from the time of the meeting of the Grand Parlor, in 1878, up to those rendered at the meeting of the Grand Parlor which was held recently in San Luis Obispo.

Athens Parlor, No. 195, N. S. G. W., held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening, a large attendance being present.

An application was received from F. A. Dosh Jr., which was allowed to take its regular course.

A new Ninth of September Committee was appointed by President Maloney to serve until May, 1897, consisting of Ben F. Woolner, H. B. Belden and C. D. Maloney.

Santa Rosa is already in the field for the next Admission Day celebration. Many of the San Francisco parlors have interested themselves in the matter, and will assist the Santa Rosa people in their endeavors to secure the prize.

Order Star of Bthlehem.

The officers of Star of the West Lodge, S. of B., No. 15, of San Francisco, were recently installed by Deputy A. Karlson, Sir R. H. Larson, Sir L. A. Everson and Ladies M. E. Mullin and E. Adams of Star of Truth Lodge, No. 19, O. S. B. of this city.

Red Men

Tecumseh Tribe, No. 62, has changed its night of meeting from Friday to Monday. This change took place last Monday night, and was made for the accommodation of members whose occupations and whose membership in other organizations rendered Friday evening inconvenient.

Several applications for membership were handed to the chief of records at the last council meeting. A social time is expected at the next meeting, the 26th inst. All Red Men are invited.

Pawnee Tribe, No. 67, of Alameda, conferred the hunter's, warrior's and chief's degrees Thursday evening last.

GRAY EAGLE TRIBE.

District Deputy Great Sachem William G. Robinson visited Gray Eagle Tribe, No. 65, at its council meeting on the 14th inst. He reports an active and improved condition of all the tribes in his district. The warrior's and chief's degree will be conferred on three applicants by Gray Eagle Tribe next Wednesday evening.

POCAHONTAS DEGREE.

Wyoming Council, No. 16, Degree of Pocahontas, I. O. R. M., is holding weekly meetings and steadily increasing its membership.

Last Monday evening, two pale faces were adopted into the council. About twenty members of Minnewawa Council of Elmhurst were present and helped to make the evening one of interest.

Catholic Ladies' Aid Society.

The C. L. A. S. will hold its election of officers Monday evening, October 26th, at Y. M. I. Hall, 1058 Broadway.

Odd Fellows.

The forty-second session of the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows is in session in Santa Cruz. The report of Grand Patriarch George W. Reid of Santa Cruz showed a net gain of 100 members during the past year. There are eighty-eight subordinate encampments in the order in this State, and of these seventy-three had been visited by the grand patriarch.

These encampments have a membership of 5,380, which represents a gain of 100 members over the number of last year. During the past year, there was expended for the relief of patriarchs $19,299.05, for the relief of widows $365, for burial purposes $2,924, for charitable purposes $968.40, making a total of $22,726.45. The assets of the subordinate encampments amount to $152,597, which represents an average of $29 per member.

The report of the grand treasurer showed a balance on hand of $1,402.

The report of Grand Representatives Downs and Roesch, who attended the Sovereign Grand Lodge at Dallas, Texas, showed that the growth of the Rebekah order throughout the country had been phenomenal during the past year, the increase in membership in the auxiliary order being 37,854. The report also showed that there are included with the Supreme Grand Lodge jurisdiction 800,000 lodges, 130,000 encampments and 254,000 Rebekah lodges. The total revenue from these lodges amounted to $8,500,000, while the amount disposed of in charity reached $3,500,000. The order owns 3,000 buildings valued at $13,000,000. Throughout the world's jurisdiction of the order, there are, as was shown, twenty-six homes for orphans, widows and aged Odd Fellows.

At yesterday's session a per capita tax of 10 cents was levied for the maintenance of the Odd Fellows' Home of this State at Thermalito.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: J. T. Doran, grand patriarch; O. S. Erlewine, grand high priest; J. W. Harris, grand senior warden; William H. Barnes (re-elected), grand scribe; George W. Lamont (re-elected), grand treasurer; Joseph Foster, grand junior warden; George W. Reid, grand representative; H. S. Winn, F. A. Week and W. S. Potter (re-elected), trustees.

The next Grand Encampment will be held at Los Angeles.

In the competitive drill of cantons, Patriarchs Militant, three cantons took part, namely, Sacramento, No. 1; San Francisco, No. 5, and Oakland, No. 11. Oakland Canton required 20½ minutes, San Francisco 23 minutes and Sacramento 21 minutes to go through the evolutions.

A decision has not as yet been rendered as to which canton will bear off the trophy, which is valued at $500, independently of a purse of $400 raised by the Odd Fellows of Santa Cruz.

Among the members of the staff of Brigadier General Cressett who were present were Major George Kirk and Major F. B. ganization. Mr. Barnes, however, says that he has on his list of members the names of a dozen men who have been in the order for "fifty-six years or more."

If Secretary Barnes will make known those names, as also as to the lodges the owners belong to, and where they were initiated, he will contribute an interesting feature to fraternal work and one that will be greatly appreciated by the members of the Odd Fellows' Society in this county.

Young Men's Institute.

A special session of the Board of Grand Directors, Y. M. I., has been called for November 7th. Every council of San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda has been requested to appoint delegates who are to represent their respective councils at that special session and determine upon the best plan to celebrate the next Y. M. I. day. The next regular meeting of the board will be held November 14th.

OAKLAND COUNCIL.

Next Wednesday evening the eleventh annual ball of Oakland Council, No. 6, will take place at Masonic Hall, Twelfth and Washington streets. The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will have charge of the decorations, which guarantees that they will be both attractive and tasty.

United Workmen.

There will be quite a pleasant time at the meeting of Pacific Lodge, No. 7, this evening. The event will be the initiating of a number of young men as members of the order.

This is the first installment of new members for Pacific Lodge under the new assessment plan, but from the number of applications in sight, it will not be the last.

The candidates for this evening are all young men, one of them being only a little over 18 years of age. The work will be performed by the uniformed drill team, and after the close of the lodge refreshments will be served. Members of the order are generally invited to be present.

The arrangements for the anniversary celebration, which is to be held at the Exposition Building next Tuesday evening, are about completed, and there is no doubt it will be attended by the Workmen and their friends generally.

KEYSTONE LODGE.

No A. O. U. W. lodge in Oakland is in a more prosperous condition than Keystone Lodge, No. 64. Applications for membership are coming in rapidly. The officers of the lodge are kept busy initiating candidates, and the drill team frequently renders its services.

Financier J. G. Poorman forgot his music last week, but made amends for his forgetfulness with an eloquent address, full of wit, humor and common sense.

Master Workman Henry Schwarz, Recorder Geo. S. Johnson and others made interesting remarks.

Past Master J. D. Taylor's speech on "Insurance" was loudly applauded. He spoke at length upon the importance of members becoming more interested in the social and fraternal part of the organization, concluding with three friendly suggestions to new members as follows: "Look before you leap, choose for your investment an order that is vigorously and honestly conducted in all its departments and in which the relation of surplus to liability justifies the expectation of stability and security. The A. O. U. W., with 268,000 members, speaks for itself.

"And do not overlean. Take no more insurance than your depending participation of income makes it more than probable you can maintain.

"Stick. When you have joined your order, stand firm. For your family's sake, for your character's sake, for truth's sake, do not break the contract. Let your motto be, 'The beneficiary, it must and shall be preserved'."

The Entertainment Committee reported that the Tabernacle had been secured for next Tuesday evening, October 27th, at which time a fine programme will be carried out.

OAK LEAF LODGE.

Oak Leaf Lodge, No. 53, A. O. U. W., had an excellent attendance at its meeting last Monday evening.

Two new members were initiated into the mysteries of the junior workman degree, the past master workman officiating with his customary ability and impressiveness.

Past Master Cogan, chairman of the Special Committee on Celebration, reported that the programme for the celebration had been completed, and that the entertainment to be given at the Exposition Hall (Mills Tabernacle) next Tuesday evening, in honor of the twenty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the order, would be the grandest in the history of the A. O. U. W. of Alameda County.

The master workman appointed Brothers McAllister, Jacobsen, Harris, Larrabee and Preston to act as ushers at the celebration entertainment.

Past Master Workman Preston read an interesting paper on an economic question, which was greatly appreciated.

After lodge closed, Brother Cogan, chairman of the initiating team, had the members of the team go through some practice work, which they did in a very creditable manner.

Next Monday evening three new members will take the workman degree.

Oak Leaf initiatory team will also have the screen work included on this occasion in the initiatory rites and ceremonies.

Companions of the Forest.

The regular meeting of Loyal Circle, No. 223, C. O. F., held last Thursday evening, was largely attended. Three new companions were initiated into this new circle, which is only four months old and consists of very sociable and agreeable members. It already has thirty-five names on the roll and two new applications are on the table. If this circle prospers as well in the future as it has in the past, there is a chance that it will become the banner circle of Alameda County in ritualistic and secret work.

After the meeting, refreshments were served, consisting of coffee and cake. Games were played until a late hour, a new game being introduced by the treasurer, Mrs. N. C. Noblett, entitled "The Horse Game," which created a great amount of laughter.

Degree of Honor.

Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. W. J. Masters will visit Dawn of Hope Lodge D. of H. on the 31st inst.

IVY LODGE.

Ivy Lodge No. 4 Degree of Honor A. O. U. W. initiated a new member Wednesday evening.

Three applications for membership were received.

Grand Recorder Mrs. Poland announced that the Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Masters would leave this week from Los Angeles on a visit to all the different Degree of Honor Lodges in her jurisdiction and that on Wednesday evening, November 18th she will visit this city.

The Grand Chief of Honor will visit Silver Star Lodge, Temescal, next Thursday evening; Minerva Lodge, Alameda, Friday, October 30th and Dawn of Hope Lodge, West Oakland, Saturday, October 31st.

Brother Ingler stated that he and Sister Ingler will leave this week on a trip to Los Angeles where they will sojourn for several weeks. The affable brother said he would make it his duty to visit the different Degree of Honor Lodges in the southern part of the State and give them Ivy Lodge's greeting.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Caution! Many unscrupulous dealers are selling ordinary Glauber Salt, or a mixture of Seidlitz Powder and Salt, under the name of "German Salt," "Sprudel Salt," "Artificial Sprudel Salt," or under other similar names, upon the reputation of the genuine products of the Carlsbad Springs. The public is warned against the purchase of any of these imitations. The genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is produced from the Sprudel Spring at Carlsbad, under the direct supervision of the City Council. Each bottle bears the seal of the City of Carlsbad and the signature of "EISNER & MENDELSON CO., Sole Agents for the United States," on every bottle. None other is genuine.

UP-TO-DATE PHOTOGRAPHY.

Nearly every one knows that Oakland is a leading city for fine photographs, but possibly there are a few people that still go to San Francisco for their pictures. Perhaps it would be interesting for them to know that many people of San Francisco find it to their advantage to have their photographs made by F. A. Webster of 1060 Broadway, Oakland.

THEY HARDLY KNEW HIM.

E. C. Lyon, the genial young furniture dealer of 1253-57 Broadway, appeared on the street today with his moustache shaved off. He says he is shaving prices in furniture at the same rate. Give him a call.

A Lively Horse With a Lot of Sound Intelligence.

"Peggy" is the plain blunt name of a mare housed at the Dashaway Stables on Eleventh street, near Franklin street, and for common sense and good judgment she leads every horse in town. She is a favorite with the patrons of the stable. The other day Peggy was driven to San Leandro. The man who drove went into a restaurant and forgot all about the unhitched team. When he came out it was gone. He searched high and low but without success. Late at night he returned to the stables only to find that Peggy had come home on her own account foot safe and buggy sound. This is only one of Peggy's samples of intelligence.
